$15,296,850 Budget

By ALBERT J. CAWEIN

A $15,296,850 preliminary county budget will be unveiled 7:30 p. m. tonight at a public hearing in the supervisors' rooms of the county office building.

Harry M. Thayer, WGHQ president, indicated this morning that legal action would be taken to void the new budget because copies were not available to the public five days before the hearing as required by law.

A show cause order served on the Board of Supervisors tonight could hold up adoption of the budget beyond the deadline today.

The total appropriation figure which finally rolled off the county computer late Tuesday afternoon shows an increase over last year of nearly $3 million.

However, this will be offset somewhat by an increase of $16,610,439 of full value property in Ulster County. The new total assessed valuation for Ulster County is $141,879,680. The $16 million figure means that there will be more property in the county to share the tax burden.

Total estimated revenues in the new budget is $7,543,864, more than $1 million over last year.

Key Figure

The key figure in the preliminary budget is the $7,707,986.34 portion to be raised by taxation. This is $2.5 million over last year's figure of $5,145,120.51.

Board Chairman Peter J. Savago (R-New Paltz) said the big jolt was created by the increased cost of public welfare to meet Medicaid costs. Savago also said salary increase recommendations for county employees for reclassification or other reasons added approximately $90,000 to the 1968 budget.

The cost of public welfare in the new budget is in excess of $7 million, nearly half of the total budget appropriations. However much of this is returned in state and federal aid leaving about $2,359,000 to be raised by taxation. Total appropriations for welfare show an increase of $2.9 million over last year. Two million dollars of this reflects the increase in the cost for Medicaid.

A total of $3.5 million has been set aside in 1968 to meet Medicaid costs. This compares with $1.5 million for last year.

Other items contributing to the welfare cost increase include aid to dependent children up $250,000; child welfare up $90,000; infirmity annex up $379,000, and increased salaries in accordance with recommendation under the Hanawalt salary study, $181,000.

Welfare Commissioner Joseph Fitzsimmons, who provided the figures for his department said there were now 11,000 applicants receiving Medicaid in the county.

A $9,064 increase under personnel services is noted in the proposed budget figure of $100,544 which reflects salary increases and funds for reclassification of employees at a higher pay scale.

Salary Hike Proposals

Salary increase proposals include: Board chairman from $2,100 to $3,000; majority leader from $1,700 to $2,700; minority leader from $1,500 to $2,500; 30 supervisors from $1,200 to $2,000, a total increase of $24,000. The salary fixed for the new county legislators is $2,000 per year.

Taxpayers will get a break in the Board of Elections appropriation next year which shows a $88,910 decrease under last year's figure of $125,710.

Ulster County Sheriff's Department will cost $43,030 more to operate in the 1968 proposed budget. Total spent last year was $129,988.87, appropriated this year, $173,018, leaving $136,758 to be raised by taxes. Total anticipated revenues is $36,260.

$233,990 for College

A total of $233,990 has been appropriated for Ulster County Community College, an increase of $125,106 over last year.

The operation of the Health Department also shows a substantial increase, $208,173 over last year. The total appropriation is $475,587 with anticipated revenues including state aid for public health of $260,000 for a total of $279,500, leaving $196,087 to be raised by taxation.

Uptown Site Sold to UR

By HUGH REYNOLDS

The Kingston Urban Renewal Agency has purchased its first piece of property in the Uptown Urban Renewal Area. It is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bonestell of 36 Murphy Street.

Although no figures were released by either side in the negotiations, Mrs. Bonestell termed transactions with KURA, "very, very satisfactory, a good deal, no questions, whatsoever."

Going to Lake Katrine

According to Mrs. Bonestell, she and her husband owned approximately two acres of land which included their home and a large garage where her husband does some welding.

They will relocate to Lake Katrine where they are building a new home. Said Mrs. Bonestell, "The nicest part was being able to relocate to a new home without having to carry a mortgage."

Mrs. Bonestell said she and her husband "had plenty of notice" from KURA and were prepared to move when the time came.

Ward B. Tongue, agency acting executive director, told The Freeman today that Murphy Street will be the first area to be acquired in order to have land available for the Army Corps of Engineers' proposed Esopus flood control project.

$800,000 Project

This project, estimated at a cost of $800,000 would entail building a ten-foot dike from Murphy Street to Chandler Street behind Kingston Plaza.

It is expected to begin next year as final plans are being drawn up by the Corps of Engineers in Washington this month.

The Bonestell property was the first of some 140 parcels to be acquired in the uptown project. A two-year target date has been set by the agency.

Negotiations are currently underway with several other Murphy Street residents. The results of which are expected to be released Friday. The agency is now conferring with Mrs. Beatrice Dunham, who owns two parcels on the corner of Murphy Street and Dunham Lane.

Asked if any changes were being made in the uptown plan as called for by Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan and Alderman John Machione (R-12th Ward), Tongue said, "The plan approved by the Common Council and State and federal officials in 1964."

Tongue further said that acquisition of other areas in the Uptown Project would progress over a period of months and that the Agency's negotiators will be visiting owners regarding acquisition of their property. Accompanying the negotiators will be a member of the relocation staff to outline the relocation procedures available.

Will Cut Spending, Tax Increase Seen

PAGO PAGO, American Samoa (AP) — President Johnson complied with a congressional order and took action today that will lead to a spending cut of $4.3 billion. It could also lead to congressional enactment of a tax increase next year.

Johnson signed the spending-cut resolution on his plane as he winged to this tiny island territory from Honolulu, en route to Australia to pay final tribute to Prime Minister Harold E. Holt. He arrived in Pago Pago at 5:52 a.m., EST, for a brief stopover. The President noted Congress had pared appropriations by $1.8 billion and vowed he would follow its directive to cut an additional $2.5 billion because of the need to preserve the strength of the dollar.

In the recently concluded session of Congress, the spending cut was made a condition of passage of Johnson's proposed 10 per cent surcharge on income taxes by Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee.

And while the tax bill died, Mills has made clear the same condition would apply when the surcharge proposal is brought up again in January.

President Johnson Runs the Gamut from the Viet War to the Poverty War... See Story on Page 44.

Johnson's destination was Canberra, the Australian capital, where he was expected to have an opportunity to chat individually with representatives of his allies in the Vietnam war and perhaps with British Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

The American chief executive will fly to Melbourne on Friday to attend memorial services for Holt, who was lost in a weekend swimming accident. Johnson addressed several thousand cheering spectators, mostly children, and a couple dozen antiwar demonstrators at Honolulu.

In a tribute to Holt, Johnson said: "Harold Holt's vision of Asia—and of Australia's role there—was not limited to the battlefield. The end he sought was not military conquest. It was the building of a new Asia."

Meanwhile, in Canberra, interim Prime Minister John McEwen said that the death of Prime Minister Harold E. Holt does not alter the Australian government's commitment to stand firmly beside its allies in Vietnam.

"We will share their efforts and agonies," McEwen told his first news conference after his swearing in. About 6,000 Australian troops are fighting in Vietnam.

Preparations continued at an accelerated pace for the arrival of President Johnson, British Prime Minister Wilson and other foreign leaders flying to Australia for a memorial service in Melbourne Friday for Holt, who disappeared last weekend while swimming in the surf off the southeast coast.

The chiefs of state or government heads of all seven of the anti-Communist allies in the Vietnam war were to be on hand for the Melbourne service, and it was obvious that the war would be discussed, at least informally.

Prime Minister Keith Holyoake of New Zealand said members of the Australian government had told him arrangements were being made for such talks. A spokesman for President Johnson said the Americans expected "informal bilateral conversations" but there were no plans for "multilaterals," meaning a session of all the allies at once.

McEwen told newsmen it would be impossible to arrange a formal summit meeting on such short notice.

In addition to Johnson, Holyoake and McEwen, the war allies present will include President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam, President Ferdinand E. Marcos of the Philippines, President Chung Hee Park of South Korea and Prime Minister Thanom Kittikachorn of Thailand.

There was speculation that President Johnson would return home via Vietnam for a brief pre-Christmas visit to the troops, but this was neither confirmed nor denied.

Prime Minister Wilson was being accompanied to Australia by 19-year-old Prince Charles, designated by his mother, Queen Elizabeth II, to represent her at the service. It was the first such assignment for the heir to the throne, who spent a term at an Australian school last year.

Police said the search for Holt's body would continue off Portsea, 37 miles south of Melbourne, for at least eight more days, although there has been speculation that it would never be found because of the strong currents. Holt's wife, her three stepsons and their wives remained at the family's vacation home at Portsea to be near the search.

Pilots Claim Four Possible MIGs

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. pilots returning from the sixth day of raids on the Hanoi area Tuesday reported shooting down two more of the MIG jets that have challenged them in fierce dog-fights for the past week. The American fliers also reported two probable MIG kills.

4,300 More Arrive

On the ground, 4,300 jungle fighters of the U.S. 11th Infantry Brigade arrived in South Vietnam by ship and began coming ashore at Qui Nhon, pushing the unofficial estimate of American troop strength in the country to about 474,000. This is some 1,200 more men than the Korean war peak.

Pilots who raided the Hanoi area said the city's principal bridge—the 19-span Paul Doumer Bridge across the Red River—was battered beyond use. They reported eight spans were down and three more were damaged.

The bridge is one of two over which all road and rail traffic from Red China to Hanoi must pass and is the principal artery for munition and war supplies moved by land.

There was no estimate of how long it would take to get the bridge functioning again. But intelligence reports say the North Vietnamese have been working during the past month of cloud cover to build pontoon bridges and bamboo structures which could be quickly floated into place as substitutes.

The raiders also pummeled the big railroad shops on the northeastern edge of Hanoi. Pilots said they caught some 50 rail cars and left them under a blanket of flame and smoke. The two MIG kills brought the total number of Communist jets claimed by American pilots to 101. The American Command credits Red pilots with shooting down 36 U.S. warplanes over the North, including two since the reletup in the northeast monsoons last Thursday permitted the resumption of intensive attacks on the Hanoi area.

Carrying new dull-black M16 rifles and dark green field equipment, the 11th Brigade troops marched onto Vietnamese soil to a welcome from Gen. Creighton Abrams Jr., deputy commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, and Marine Lt. Gen. Robert Cushman.

The brigade will undergo orientation training, then join the American Division in combat. They had trained since early this year in the thick vegetation of Koolau Mountain, on the Hawaiian island of Oahu.

Dutchess Man's National Guard Promotion Announced at Dinner

The promotion of Major John E. Martell, 137 Violet Avenue, Poughkeepsie, to the grade of Lieutenant Colonel was formally announced Saturday night at the annual dinner-dance of the Officers Civil Association, 2nd Battalion (Honest John) 156th Artillery, New York Army National Guard, held at the Hudson Overlook Inn, West Park, where some 40 officers and their ladies assembled.

Local Guard Commander
Lieutenant Colonel Martell is commander of the 2nd Battalion. His promotion was effective from Nov. 14. Federal recognition in his new grade is expected shortly.

Major Otto A. Schaedlich, executive officer, read the special orders issued by Major General A. C. O'Hara, chief of staff to the Governor and commander of the New York Army National Guard. Schaedlich, in offering the congratulations of the officers and their ladies at the assemblage, presented Col. Martell with a set of LTC insignia and dress blue shoulder straps. He was awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action in 1944 while serving in Italy. As an air observer, Martell flew 30 combat missions and served as an forward observer with several infantry units.

Upon his return to the U. S., Colonel Martell was assigned to the Artillery School where he attended the motor vehicle course of instruction and the track vehicle course. Dutchess Man's National Guard Promotion Announced at Dinner

The promotion of Major John E. Martell, 137 Violet Avenue, Poughkeepsie to the grade of Lieutenant Colonel was formally announced Saturday night at the annual dinner-dance of the Officers Civil Association, 2nd Battalion (Honest John) 156th Artillery, New York Army National Guard, held at the Hudson Overlook Inn, West Park, where some 40 officers and their ladies assembled.

Local Guard Commander

Lieutenant Colonel Martell is commander of the 2nd Battalion. His promotion was effective from Nov. 14. Federal recognition in his new grade is expected shortly.

Major Otto A. Schaedlich, executive officer, read the special orders issued by Major General A. C. O'Hara, chief of staff to the Governor and commander of the New York Army National Guard. Schaedlich, in offering the congratulations of the officers and their ladies at the assemblage, presented Col. Martell with a set of LTC insignia and dress blue shoulder straps.

Martell was honored with a long time wish when he rose to acknowledge the gifts. Lt. Col. Arthur H. Marx, retired, Hyde Park, and Lt. Col. James H. Ackerman Jr., retired, Poughkeepsie, each pinned an insignia on Martell's uniform. Both of the officers are former battalion commanders of the 156th Artillery and close friends of Martell. Assisting in the pinning ceremonies was Lt. Col. Lenord H. Healy, recently retired from the Regular Army, now residing in Poughkeepsie. Lt. Col. Healy, a former member of the pre-WW II Guard unit who entered Federal service with it in 1940 as a Corporal, was a special guest accompanied by his wife.

Martell has been associated with the military for nearly 29 years, having enlisted as a private in old Battery B, 156th Field Artillery in January 1939. He was inducted into Federal service with that unit in September 1940 and served until December 1942 as a sergeant. He was graduated from the Artillery School, Fort Sill, Okla., and commissioned a second lieutenant, Artillery, in December 1942. His World War II service with the artillery took him to Camp Carson, Col., Camp Patrick Henry, Va., the European, African and Middle East Theater of Operations with the 6th Field Artillery, serving with the Fifth Army. He was awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action in 1944 while serving in Italy. As an air observer, Martell flew 30 combat missions and served as a forward observer with several infantry units.

Upon his return to the U. S., Colonel Martell was assigned to the Artillery School where he attended the motor vehicle course of instruction and the truck vehicle course. He was separated from active service in December 1945 and became a member of the U. S. Army Reserve until November 1947, when he was commissioned in.

'Jett' Arrested As Va. Fugitive

James Edward Marshall, 24, alias Kendall I. Jett, formerly of Ellenville, whose arrest on April 20 and subsequent sentence to one year in jail received wide publicity after Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick (D) criticized the court, appeared Tuesday afternoon before County Judge Raymond J. Mino.

Resnick had called disposition of the case by Ellenville Police Justice Ronald Elias an "act of vigilante, frontier-style justice."

The year's sentence imposed by Judge Elias after the defendant was convicted of petit larceny, was affirmed by Judge Mino in July after a coram nobis hearing.

Jett, as he is better known in this area, is wanted by Virginia authorities as a probation violator. He refused to waive extradition and proceedings by Virginia authorities resulted in the issuance of an extradition warrant by Governor Rockefeller.

Adjourned to Dec. 28

Before Judge Mino yesterday, Jett, who was eligible for release after serving the sentence for petit larceny, was informed of his rights to have counsel. The formal arrest as a fugitive was made by Sheriff William B. Martin, and hearing was adjourned until Dec. 28 to permit the defendant to obtain counsel.

On that day, Virginia authorities will be in court to argue their case, seeking custody of Jett, who is known to them as James Edward Marshall, according to local authorities.

Jett, who came to this area from Rhode Island to start a new life in New York, worked a short time as a cook at the Brookside Hotel, Kerhonkson. He left that job and at the time of his arrest was employed at the Central House in that community.

The petit larceny charge against Jett accused him of taking 18 packages of razor blades and 19 packages of cigarettes from the Eckstein store in Ellenville.

Served Six Months

Prior to coming to Ulster County Jett was involved with the law in Boston and served a six months sentence. He is presently under probation from Virginia Beach, Va., where in June 1964 he was given a five year suspended sentence under a plea of guilty to a charge of burglary and grand larceny.

A detainer for his return to Virginia as a probation violator was issued and forwarded to Sheriff Martin. On completion of his jail sentence here he was expected to be returned to Virginia to answer to the charge of violating probation, but he decided to fight extradition.

Virginia authorities requested New York State to turn Jett over to them. Governor Rockefeller subsequently signed an extradition warrant.

SOUTH DAYTON, N.Y. (AP) — Fire, which destroyed a two-story frame house north of this Cattaraugus County community Tuesday, burned Casmier Zelnik, about 75, to death, firemen said.

Marcus on a Federal conspiracy charge involving an alleged $40,000 kickback, ponders a newsman's question at a press conference at City Hall Tuesday. The mayor said that if the charges against Marcus were true, "I consider this a betrayal of a personal and public trust." (UPI TELEPHOTO).

School Employees Select the CSEA

Custodial and cafeteria personnel in the Kingston School System on Tuesday in a run-off election selected the Civil Service Employees Association to represent them in collective negotiations.

The vote was 76 for the CSEA and 67 for Teamsters Local 445. The first election conducted by the American Association of Arbitrators, Inc., was held on Dec. 12 and resulted in no majority for either union. The vote then was 63 for the CSEA and 61 for the Teamsters' Local. In October, the Kingston Teachers' Federation was selected by teachers in the school district as sole bargaining agent for all teachers in the school system.

Wagner '68 Decision Soon

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Mayor Robert F. Wagner says he will decide in the next two weeks whether to seek the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate in 1968.

He said in an interview Tuesday that any further delay would be "unfair to others who might want to enter the Senate race and as well to those who have made me offers for writing, television work and a few other things I would enjoy."

"I've got to make up my mind whether I am willing to make the sacrifice in health and privacy that a candidacy would demand. I've been in politics long enough to know what a major campaign takes out of you," Wagner said.

Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick of Ellenville is the only announced Democratic candidate thus far

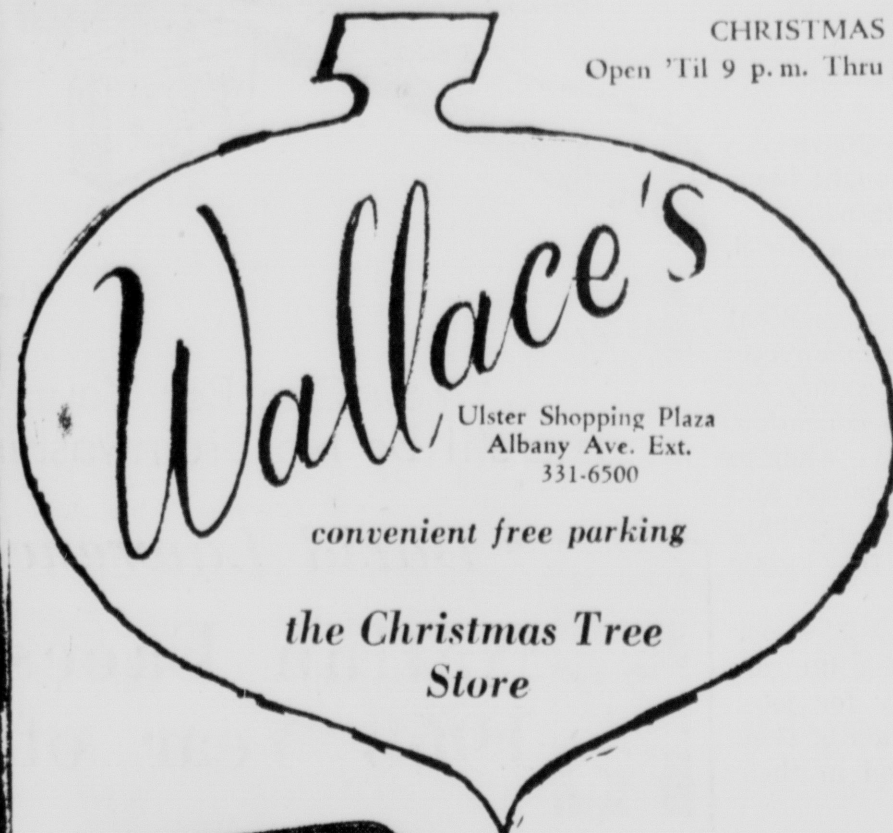

New York City lawyer Morris away from the meeting feeling Abram has been "scouting it was a warm and friendly occasion."

Stopping in Albany yesterday he was the guest of the old senatorial nomination including Wagner and Resnick. Abram claimed wide support across the state and indicated he felt "votes can be gained hampered by the fact that he is relatively unknown, a candidate has the right posture."

Voices of Rural Poor

Six Cabinet members are hearing the voices of the rural poor in Washington these days, pleading for action that will help them and their neighbors. These are the voices of the people, concerned with the poverty that engulfs them, of how plans to rebuild cities, cure urban sprawl and halt the migration from country to town will benefit them.

Mrs. Maggie May Horton, a Negro from Collierville, Fayette county, in Western Tennessee, brought home the plight of the poor in simple, concrete terms.

"You know if you make a dress without a model, you get it too small or too big" she said. "But there have been many plans and now the question is: What will it do for Fayette county? The people in Fayette county are hungry. The people in Fayette county are cold. The people in Fayette county need education. The people in Fayette county need jobs. We want to work, but jobs are scarce despite the promise and plans of government. And I have not heard anything about God in this conference, and we need that in our planning, too."

Isn't that in a nutshell what the responsible poor in this country want? Food to satisfy their hunger. Fuel to warm them. Education to qualify for jobs. Work to earn their way. And the recognition of God, to give them confidence in themselves and in their future.

The billions being spent on the anti-poverty programs are buying these and many other things, but these are the essentials. The people of Fayette county, Tenn., as of all the other impoverished counties in the land, can wait for the extras and trimmings. What they want now are the bread and butter, a chance to earn for themselves, and a faith that will uphold them while they work themselves out of their poverty.

Huge Crime Rise

The largest single year rise in crime in the decade is reported by the Federal Bureau of Investigation on the basis of local returns for the first nine months, a 16 per cent rise across the country.

President Johnson placed the blame on Congress for its failure to pass his Safe Streets and Crime Control Act, which would have spent $50 million by now in aiding local police and laid the foundation for a $300 million anti-crime program to begin next year.

The bill would provide money to state and local police agencies to improve their selection practices and training and give law enforcement federal support.

The House passed the bill August 8 last, but gave the authority for allocating funds to the Governors of the states instead of the Attorney General, as the Administration bill provided. The Senate Judiciary Committee has altered the bill even more drastically, but has not reported it for floor action.

However, it is too easy to blame Congress. The rise in crime has been steady and consistent in recent years, since the Supreme Court has led a far-reaching judicial tenderness toward criminals. Congress has talked about reversing this trend, but no legislation to overrule the courts has been produced.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover touched a sensitive phase when he warned that the crime increase should not be rationalized as a burden to be tolerated in today's changing society. Not when the average citizen's chance of becoming a victim of crime has increased by 14 per cent during the past nine months.

Police training and selection is important. So is strict law enforcement sustained by a judiciary protecting society ahead of the criminal. But all citizens and all levels of government should actively support law enforcement to increase the risk of detection for the lawbreaker. After all, law enforcement is the basic reason for government, isn't it?

School for Judges

Beginning in February, the 296 trial judges sitting in the New York Supreme Court, Civil Court, Criminal Court and Family Court will have to attend the Academy of the Judiciary established by the presiding justices. Whether newly elected or appointed and inexperienced, or long-sitting and seasoned, all must attend classes.

The new judges will learn something of the problems they will face on the bench before they assume the robes. The experienced judges will have a continuing opportunity to remain aware of legal developments and exchange views with other members of their courts.

The academy is to become a permanent arm of the state judiciary. It begins with a Ford grant of $120,000 through the Institute of Judicial Administration at New York University Law School. Within two years, the academy must draw its full support from public funds.

The idea of mandating continuing judicial schooling for members of the bench is a new and promising development. It should help to train new judges to be more effective on the bench and to help old ones to keep in close touch with judicial developments. Its effect should be an improvement of the judicial system, wherever it may be copied.

Nation Faces Crisis; 1968 Year of Decision

WASHINGTON — Unpleasant news sometimes serves a worthy purpose. It can awaken the people to demand that drifting and floundering by their government be replaced by policies based on a realistic and constructive approach.

Congress has adjourned but, together with the President, it has left the people frustrated and fearful as the nation faces the most serious crisis since the 1930's. In 1931, for instance, most European countries, including Great Britain and Germany, abandoned the gold standard in an effort to cure rising inflation. Europe's action caused the United States in March 1933 to impose an embargo on the export of gold. This culminated in the revaluation of gold in 1934—something being widely discussed again today. Such a step could have a direct impact on exports and imports generally and, of course, particularly on American companies engaged in world trade.

Congress alone cannot make fiscal or monetary policies. The Democratic party has a majority in both Houses, but the soundness of the President's leadership is being questioned even by members of his own party. It is certainly significant to note that the Republican coordinating committee in the last few days issued through the Republican National Committee a pessimistic survey of the present economic situation in America. The report says:

"The United States is at the brink of a fiscal crisis, the full dimensions of which are not yet clear. International confidence in the dollar is being severely tested. Our dwindling gold supply continues to flow out of the country. Inflation is a grim reality. Interest rates are higher than during last year's serious 'credit crunch.' They are the highest in some fifty years, for government, for business, for the home builder and the home buyer."

In spite of the administration's boast of unrivaled prosperity, unemployment among America's workers is increasing. Inflation is rampant and will get worse. The cost of living is escalating. The purchasing power of the nation's wage earners has declined and those who must live on a fixed income are having more and more trouble making ends meet. Eight years of deficits and irresponsible spending have brought the nation to the brink of financial crisis."

But what can be done about it? Many people will say the Republican statement is merely bipartisan. The New York Times, however, which has been supporting President Johnson on domestic policies for some time, says in an editorial:

"Unfortunately the Treasury, along with everybody else in the administration, has not given sufficient attention to the problem of the dollar."

"From late in 1965, when it resisted the Federal Reserve's early attempt to counter inflation, the Treasury has consistently fumbled away its opportunity to gain control over both the federal budget and the balance of payments. . . .

"This unhealthy situation does not represent a fundamental weakness in the dollar, which might be extraordinarily painful and difficult to cure. It stems from a mismanagement of the dollar. . . . It is the Treasury, not the dollar, that is at bay, and the antidote is a forceful and constructive policy that demonstrates a real determination to bring the budget and the payments deficit under control."

The administration, however, has gone on spending at record-breaking levels. Though a costly war is in progress, expenditures for "welfare" have not been materially reduced. Wage and price controls have not been imposed. In 1930 and 1931 and 1932, the valiant efforts of the incumbent administration to apply policies of governmental intervention proved too late, and the dilly-dallying of 1967 may turn out to be a painful analogy.

The lesson of history shows that a course of "guns and butter, too," may seem to get votes at the beginning, but it also points up that in the end the national economy cannot be inflated without running the risk of the deflation that ensues.

The year 1968 will be one of decision. The critical question is whether a big depression will get under way or whether the national economy will this time be saved from disaster.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

An enormous number of readers have written asking how to become a Hippie. After considerable research, including one love-in where my nose was broken by a frail high school girl, I am prepared to dispense The Word. I mean I know, Man. You are at the foot of the altar of expanded consciousness right now.

It may be difficult for those over 80 years of age to burn draft cards, but you can get one for the Spanish-American War from the Veterans Administration. If this doesn't work out, cultivate a young man and burn his. It is even more symbolic if you burn him.

Search the house, picking up all the soap, brooms, dust rags, nail clippers, combs and razors. Take them out in the alley and toss them into the garbage. Then carry the garbage inside and distribute it freely around the living room. Go out and buy a pound of pot, a box of LSD bon-bons, and act as though you are too weary to walk.

Pick your friends with care. The best way to detect the true Hippie from the spurious weekenders is by odor. If, after one inhale, your nostrils glue themselves together, you are in the presence of a true Flower Child. Start talking about beads, bells, beads and blossoms. Don't tell him—or her—that you have just finished reading the Kamasutra, because that's last year's flip.

Display your copy of Mao. Think on the floor. If it is any higher, no one will see it. Be mystical. This is the most important Hippie tip. The best way to be mystical is to talk slowly, and not know anything about anything or anybody. For instance, if you mumble: "He went," everybody will nod sagely, but no one will ask you who, Or even where. This is authentic Hip.

Do not refer to your parents as "squares." That's circa 1955. Deny that they exist. Tell your friends that you blasted your mother and father out of your head on your first hashish cookout. Parents are definitely out this year, like the government and shower heads.

I assume that you have already grown the beard. In the case of females, this is harder than it looks, but keep trying. Rub tar on your chin. Girls must wear beards and sweaters that cover the hips and nothing else. With practice, boys can learn to braid their own hair by pulling one strand at a time over the shoulder and onto the chest.

Arrange to be arrested. This is called being "busted." Never walk to a police patrol car. Get yourself dragged. Don't look at the television cameras, because it spoils the shot. Holler something profound, like "What is dog spelled backward?" When you get out of the can, arrange a beach love-in at once. If there is no beach nearby, buy two hundred pounds of sand and spread it on the bed.

Invite girls. That is, if you are a boy. Watch how mystically everyone sits on the bed watching the colors on the wall. Take a trip. If possible, buy a two-way ticket. Think about how you have run out of bread, school, studies and relatives. Tell everybody to feel "up-tight," which is the pre-ignition point. Don't blow your cool until everybody is watching.

For Christmas, donate an acid head to charity. Tune in, join up, drop out. The reason for the second phrase is to provide you with something to drop. Never, never go into a colored neighborhood and ask a boy how he can drop out, because he may drop you. Like from a roof.

Forget Zen. It's as dead as aspirin. Meditate. Sit in stony silence and think of all the materialistic pleasures. Take a voyage to the Canary Islands in a Ferrari. Nail Tuesday Weld to the hood. Sweep up, up and away under a red balloon. Never depress yourself; do it to the accelerator.

Ask your girl friend to bake marijuana cookies in the carburetor. If you want to be sexy, listen to her lymph stream. She will never guess. This is one step beyond The Pill. If you live at home (which is out) tell your mother that your father has to go. Tell your father that you don't like the Crash Pad and that mother has to go. Then leave both home and you go.

Girl hippies are a drag, unless they are Superzapped with love. All aggressive moves must be made by them. Seek the ones with matted hair and last week's eye shadow. They must be able to do figure eights in a dining room on a Honda. Pregnancy is the ultimate sign that your confidence has been abused.

Never concede that anyone over the age of 22 has ever said or done anything right. Keep murmuring: "I must do my own thing," because this is truly mystical. Even to you. Spend the rest of your life trying to find out who you are. Be selfish all the time. Think within yourself about yourself and pity yourself.

Personally, my beard is like WOW. The kids think I look like Santa. Whoever he is . . .

Drew Pearson Says Romney's Baring of Finances Puts Contenders on the Spot

WASHINGTON — Michigan's square-jawed Gov. George Romney has put all other Presidential contenders on the spot by lifting the blind on his personal finances. Not one of his rivals, approached by this column, would submit his finances to the same searching inspection.

However, we have investigated the income and assets of the leading Presidential prospects without their cooperation and have uncovered some of the facts they would prefer to keep hidden. All the serious contenders, except Sen. Eugene McCarthy and possibly Richard Nixon, are millionaires. If Nixon is still a few thousand dollars short of his first million, he at least lives like a millionaire.

The two wealthiest, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and Sen. Robert Kennedy, were born rich. The others, harassed from boyhood by abusive money worries, earned their millions.

However, they weren't exactly born in log cabins. Nixon was the son of a grocer; Sen. Charles Percy, the son of a bank cashier; Gov. Ronald Reagan, a shoe store manager's son; and Romney, a general contractor's son. President Johnson was born in a white frame cottage on the banks of the Pedernales, the son of a farmer-legislator.

McCarthy also came out of a small-town, middle-class background, but he took up a teaching career, which was hardly calculated to make him rich. He now supplements his $30,000-a-year Senate salary by lecturing and writing.

Romney Tells All

Only Romney has been willing to talk in complete candor about his financial affairs. He balked at first when Look magazine's senior editor, T. George Harris, in preparing his book "Romney's Way," asked to see the governor's tax returns. Romney contended that a man's conduct, not his personal finances, was all that mattered. But after a moment's hesitation, he laid out his tax returns for the last 12 years.

These show, astonishingly, that Romney docked his own salary as president of American Motors when he took time off to attend Michigan's constitutional convention; that he donated an average of 19 per cent of each year's adjusted gross income to his church and an additional four per cent to straight charity; and that he seldom took advantage of loopholes to escape his tax obligations.

Before he hit the big time as an automobile tycoon, his total capital consisted of his equity in a mortgaged, $35,000 home. His adjusted gross income, thanks to stock options, reached $661,428 in 1960. The same year he paid $237,000 in federal taxes, contributed $156,038 to the Mormon Church, and handed out another $16,697 to charities. He sold a block of stock in 1960, however, to pay off bank loans. Thus his charity contributions added up to only $400 less than his full year's regular income before taxes, counting both salary and bonus.

Over a five-year period, while he was engaged on the side in political activity, he cut his own salary, by $268,000. American Motors' board of directors, pleased over the prosperity he had brought to the company, tried to raise his salary he insisted upon cutting. He brushed the offer aside.

In contrast, Romney's chief rival in the upcoming Presidential primaries, Richard Nixon, has refused to bare his finances. Patrick Buchanan, speaking for the former Vice President, told our representative, in effect, that Nixon's personal finances were none of the public's business.

Nixon's Take

We can report, however, that Nixon takes in around $250,000 a year from his Wall Street law firm. When he left government, he reported his net worth at slightly over $500,000. Recently, he boasted to a friend that his income tax alone is now double the $35,000 salary he used to collect as Vice President.

He moved in as senior partner in the respected, old Wall Street firm of Mudge, Stern, Baldwin and Todd after backstage pressure from two of its biggest clients, the Warner-Lambert Pharmaceutical Company and the Pepsi-Cola Company. Discreet calls were made to the firm by Elmer B. Obit, Warner-Lambert's board chairman, and Donald Kendall, Pepsi-Cola's president.

A deal was hastily arranged, and the firm overnight became Nixon, Mudge, Guthrie, Alexander and Mitchell. Unlike Romney, Nixon has always accepted his full cut although he has spent half his time politicking. He has also used some of the firm's junior attorneys as political volunteers.

Romney, as president of American Motors, continued to live frugally, drove one of his own Ramblers and on overnight trips simply parked on the roadside and slept in the car.

In contrast, Nixon has moved next door to Gov. Nelson Rockefeller into a plush, 12-room cooperative apartment at 810 Fifth Avenue. Without furniture, the apartment cost Nixon $35,000, plus a yearly maintenance fee of $9,600.

Dick Gets Around

He gets around New York City in a chauffeured black Chrysler LeBaron, dines out at such fashionable spots as "21," El Morocco and Delmonico's, and belongs to several exclusive clubs, including the Links, Metropolitan and Revere, plus such stylish country clubs as Blind Brook in Westchester and Baltusrol in New Jersey.

Half a dozen times a year, he flies down to Florida for a few days in the sun, usually as the guest of a banker friend, Bebe Rebozo, on Key Biscayne.

Nixon is now preparing for his annual Christmas party which, in the past, has featured a revolving Christmas tree, a strolling accordion player and fancy trimmings befitting a big-time corporate lawyer.

In future columns, we will examine the finances of other Presidential prospects.

Henry J. Taylor Says

Where Is the Money Coming From?

By HENRY J. TAYLOR

The great and buried secret of the Great Society is: Where's the money coming from? Worried millions ask the answer and we're entitled to get it, even if the political spenders won't tell us and pour out, instead, their Vesuvius of misinformation.

It's coming right out of our hides. This is also the fundamental answer to why our U.S. dollar is threatened in the world's cold appraisal of what's happening here, reflected in the gold crisis.

There are now more $100 bills ($7.9 billion) than $10 bills in circulation—for the first time. If you exchange $100 worth of work—or $10,000 worth, for that matter—for a $100 or $10,000 bill, the bill only costs the government about a penny. The Great Society is nothing more or less than a paper-and-ink economy.

I put the buried question—Where's the money coming from?—to the U.S. Treasury Department and the Federal Reserve Board. I am giving you here their official replies.

Both confirm that in 1965 public and private debts rose to a record one trillion 276 million dollars. Since this breakthrough above a trillion the line for both debts, like the Eiffel Tower, goes straight up.

In addition, alas, the figures also show that the U.S. Government is the world's biggest banker with nearly $40 billion in outstanding loans. On top of these, 80 agencies have guaranteed $83.3 billion loans.

In 1941 the ratio of U.S. Treasury gold on hand to non-gold currency and deposits, omitting deposits in savings and loan associations, was 24.6 per cent. Today it's around three per cent. The printing-press process of the political spenders has boosted our living costs in dollars to all-time high at this moment that our gold reserves have hit another new 30-year low.

I find that the official figures explode the false impression that the commercial banks have increased their buying of government bonds.

The record shows that in February, 1946, the commercial banks held $93.8 billion in government securities. By December the commercial banks' holdings had dropped to $74.5 billion. Instead of buying the printing presses' immense, undulating waves of bonds (the government's I.O.U.s) the commercial banks have been reducing what they owned. By May, 1966, their holdings had dropped to $54.9 billion.

Nor are the Washington Robin Hoods of the Red Ink getting the money from the public in savings bonds. The people's ownership of E and H bonds has increased only from $30.8 billion in December, 1946, to $48 billion in January, 1965, and $49.1 billion in May, 1966.

Even though Washington increased the interest rate on Savings Bonds last year, the public's buying increase has not only flattened out but helps to fill the immense gap—a pebble that doesn't fill the chasm.

In this and other forms like savings bank deposits, millions think their thrift rewards them with 4½ per cent interest, or more. But today's official index of consumer prices shows that the buying power of their saved money has melted at an annual rate of about three per cent a year.

As of December 1, 1967, direct obligations of the U. S. Government in the hands of the public that will mature within 12 months amount to $104.3 billion. Behind the scenes, and tragically, the real reward of these thrifty holders is about 1½ per cent, which is less than in the 1932 depression. In fact, they're paying what you might call a negative interest: they're taxed on the interest they did not benefit from and lost.

The U. S. Treasury and the Federal Reserve Board are both agencies of the government and they've been tremendous suppliers and buyers of money alike—manufacturing it with one hand and required to buy with the other.

The Federal Reserve banks have increased their holdings of government securities from $22.9 billion in February, 1946, to $41.5 in May, 1966. Another category termed "U. S. Government Investment Accounts," which includes Social Security, Federal Deposit Insurance, Building and Loan Deposits, etc., likewise contributes. And this still leaves at least a billowy $25 billion now unaccounted for.

The answer to where the Great Society's money is coming from is that it's simply coming from the printing presses of the government itself. If we're not entitled to the truth in this great bamboozle, who is?

Mr. Sobieraj seems a rather biased observer of the Vietnam situation. Its beyond me how anyone can place total blame for lack of negotiation on a country that has repeatedly offered the same.

Mr. Sobieraj undoubtedly thinks Hanoi is right in demanding a cessation of the bombing as a prelude to negotiations. Clearly the decision to stop the bombing is theirs—they can stop sending troops south. In the past, suspension of the bombing has been accompanied by North Vietnamese troop movements and the distribution of military supplies. Allowing this sort of activity is to allow the enemy to strengthen his power to take American and South Vietnamese lives.

Like Mr. Sobieraj I won't say anything about war crimes. I think the events of the past several days speak for themselves.

Lastly, if we withdraw from Vietnam where do we make a stand against Communist expansion? Where do you draw the line Mr. Sobieraj or don't you think there should be a line?

Sincerely

The House passed the bill August 8 last, but gave the authority for allocating funds to the Governors of the states instead of the Attorney General, as the Administration bill provided. The Senate Judiciary Committee has altered the bill even more drastically, but has not reported it for floor action.

However, it is too easy to blame Congress. The rise in crime has been steady and consistent in recent years, since the Supreme Court has led a far-reaching judicial tenderness toward criminals. Congress has talked about reversing this trend, but no legislation to overrule the courts has been produced.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover touched a sensitive phase when he warned that the crime increase should not be rationalized as a burden to be tolerated in today's changing society. Not when the average citizen's chance of becoming a victim of crime has increased by 14 per cent during the past nine months.

Police training and selection is important. So is strict law enforcement sustained by a judiciary protecting society ahead of the criminal. But all citizens and all levels of government should actively support law enforcement to increase the risk of detection for the lawbreaker. After all, law enforcement is the basic reason for government, isn't it?

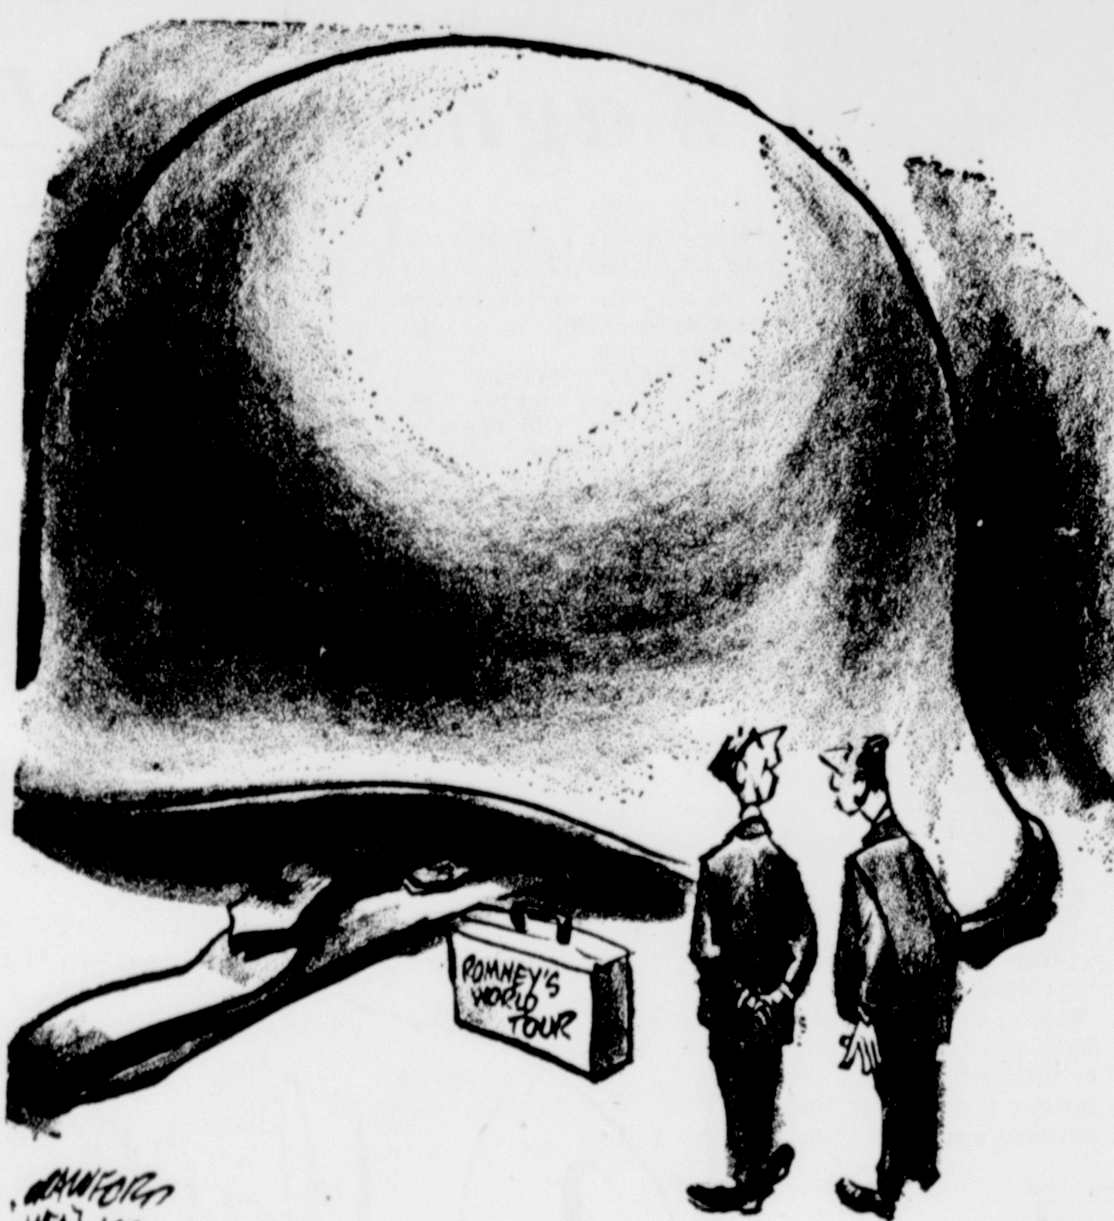

School for Judges

Beginning in February, the 296 trial judges sitting in the New York Supreme Court, Civil Court, Criminal Court and Family Court will have to attend the Academy of the Judiciary established by the presiding justices. Whether newly elected or appointed and inexperienced, or long-sitting and seasoned, all must attend classes.

The new judges will learn something of the problems they will face on the bench before they assume the robes. The experienced judges will have a continuing opportunity to remain aware of legal developments and exchange views with other members of their courts.

The academy is to become a permanent arm of the state judiciary. It begins with a Ford grant of $120,000 through the Institute of Judicial Administration at New York University Law School. Within two years, the academy must draw its full support from public funds.

The idea of mandating continuing judicial schooling for members of the bench is a new and promising development. It should help to train new judges to be more effective on the bench and to help old ones to keep in close touch with judicial developments. Its effect should be an improvement of the judicial system, wherever it may be copied.

Nation Faces Crisis; 1968 Year of Decision

WASHINGTON — Unpleasant news sometimes serves a worthy purpose. It can awaken the people to demand that drifting and floundering by their government be replaced by policies based on a realistic and constructive approach.

Congress has adjourned but, together with the President, it has left the people frustrated and fearful as the nation faces the most serious crisis in the national economy since the 1930's. In 1931, for instance, most European countries, including Great Britain and Germany, abandoned the gold standard in an effort to cure rising inflation. Europe's action caused the United States in March 1933 to impose an embargo on the export of gold. This culminated in the revaluation of gold in 1934—something being widely discussed again today. Such a step could have a direct impact on exports and imports generally and, of course, particularly on American companies engaged in world trade.

Congress alone cannot make fiscal or monetary policies. The Democratic party has a majority in both Houses, but the soundness of the President's leadership is being questioned even by members of his own party. It is certainly significant to note that the Republican coordinating committee in the last few days issued through the Republican National Committee a pessimistic survey of the present economic situation in America. The report says:

"The United States is at the brink of a fiscal crisis, the full dimensions of which are not yet clear. International confidence in the dollar is being severely tested. Our dwindling gold supply continues to flow out of the country. Inflation is a grim reality. Interest rates are higher than during last year's serious 'credit crunch.' They are the highest in some fifty years, for government, for business, for the home builder and the home buyer. . . . In spite of the administration's boast of unrivaled prosperity, unemployment among America's workers is increasing. . . . Inflation is rampant and will get worse. . . . The cost of living is escalating. . . . The purchasing power of the nation's wage earners has declined and those who must live on a fixed income are having more and more trouble making ends meet. . . . Eight years of deficits and irresponsible spending have brought the nation to the brink of financial crisis."

But what can be done about it? Many people will say the Republican statement is merely bipartisan. The New York Times, however, which has been supporting President Johnson on domestic policies for some time, says in an editorial:

"Unfortunately the Treasury, along with everybody else in the administration, has not given sufficient attention to the problem of the dollar. . . ."

"From late in 1965, when it resisted the Federal Reserve's early attempt to counter inflation, the Treasury has consistently fumbled away its opportunity to gain control over both the federal budget and the balance of payments. . . ."

"This unhealthy situation does not represent a fundamental weakness in the dollar, which might be extraordinarily painful and difficult to cure. It stems from a mismanagement of the dollar. . . . It is the Treasury, not the dollar, that is at bay, and the antidote is a forceful and constructive policy that demonstrates a real determination to bring the budget and the payments deficit under control."

The administration, however, has gone on spending at record-breaking levels. Though a costly war is in progress, expenditures for "welfare" have not been materially reduced. Wage and price controls have not been imposed. In 1930 and 1931 and 1932, the valiant efforts of the incumbent administration to apply policies of governmental intervention proved too late, and the dilly-dallying of 1967 may turn out to be a painful analogy.

The lesson of history shows that a course of "guns and butter, too," may seem to get votes at the beginning, but it also points up that in the end the national economy cannot be inflated without running the risk of the deflation that ensues.

The year 1968 will be one of decision. The critical question is whether a big depression will get under way or whether the national economy will this time be saved from disaster.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

An enormous number of readers have written asking how to become a Hippie. After considerable research, including one love-in where my nose was broken by a frail high school girl, I am prepared to dispense The Word. I mean I know. Man. You are at the foot of the altar of expanded consciousness right now.

It may be difficult for those over 80 years of age to burn draft cards, but you can get one for the Spanish-American War from the Veterans Administration. If this doesn't work out, cultivate a young man and burn his. It is even more symbolic if you burn him.

Search the house, picking up all the soap, brooms, dust rags, nail clippers, combs and razors. Take them out in the alley and toss them into the garbage. Then carry the garbage inside and distribute it freely around the living room. Go out and buy a pound of pot, a box of LSD bon-bons, and act as though you are too weary to walk.

Pick your friends with care. The best way to detect the true Hippie from the spurious weekenders is by odor. If, after one inhale, your nostrils glue themselves together, you are in the presence of a true Flower Child. Start talking about beads, bells, beds and blossoms. Don't tell him—or her—that you have just finished reading the Kamasutra, because that's last year's flap.

Display your copy of Mao. Think on the floor. If it is any higher, no one will see it. Be mystical. This is the most important Hipp tip. The best way to be mystical is to talk slowly, and not know anything about anything or anybody. For instance, if you mumble: "He went," everybody will nod sagely, but no one will ask you who, or even where. This is authentic Hip.

Do not refer to your parents as "squares." That's circa 1955. Deny that they exist. Tell your friends that you blasted your mother and father out of your head on your first hashish cookout. Parents are definitely out this year, like the government and shower heads.

I assume that you have already grown the beard. In the case of females, this is harder than it looks, but keep trying. Rub tar on your chin. Girls must wear beards and sweaters that cover the hips and nothing else. With practice, boys can learn to braid their own hair by pulling one strand at a time over the shoulder and onto the chest.

Arrange to be arrested. This is called being "busted." Never walk to a police patrol car. Get yourself dragged. Don't look at the television cameras, because it spoils the shot. Holler something profound, like "What is dog spelled backward?" When you get out of the can, arrange a beach love-in at once. If there is no beach nearby, buy two hundred pounds of sand and spread it on the bed.

Invite girls. That is, if you are a boy. Watch how mystically everyone sits on the bed watching the colors on the wall. Take a trip. If possible, buy a two-way ticket. Think about how you have run out of bread, school, studies and relatives. Tell everybody to feel "up-tight," which is the pre-ignition point. Don't blow your cool until everybody is watching.

For Christmas, donate an acid head to charity. Tune in, join up, drop out. The reason for the second phrase is to provide you with something to drop. Never, never go into a colored neighborhood and ask a boy how he can drop out, because he may drop you. Like from a roof.

Forget Zen. It's as dead as aspirin. Meditate. Sit in stony silence and think of all the materialistic pleasures. Take a voyage to the Canary Islands in a Ferrari. Nail Tuesday Weld to the hood. Sweep up, and away under a red balloon. Never depress yourself; do it to the accelerator.

Ask your girl friend to bake marijuana cookies in the carburetor. If you want to be sexy, listen to her lymph stream. She will never guess. This is one step beyond The Pill. If you live at home (which is out) tell your mother that your father has to go. Tell your father that you don't like the Crash Pad and that mother has to go. Then leave both home and you go.

Girl hippies are a drag, unless they are Superzapped with love. All aggressive moves must be made by them. Seek the ones with matted hair and last week's eye shadow. They must be able to do figure eights in a dining room on a Honda. Pregnancy is the ultimate sign that your confidence has been abused.

Never concede that anyone over the age of 22 has ever said or done anything right. Keep murmuring: "I must do my own thing," because this is truly mystical. Even to you. Spend the rest of your life trying to find out who you are. Be selfish all the time. Think within yourself about yourself and pity yourself.

Personally, my beard is like WOW. The kids think I look like Santa. Whoever he is...

Drew Pearson Says Romney's Baring of Finances Puts Contenders on the Spot

WASHINGTON — Michigan's square-jawed Gov. George Romney has put all other Presidential contenders on the spot by lifting the blind on his personal finances. Not one of his rivals, approached by this column, would submit his finances to the same searching inspection.

However, we have investigated the income and assets of the leading Presidential prospects without their cooperation and have uncovered some of the facts they would prefer to keep hidden.

All the serious contenders, except Sen. Eugene McCarthy and possibly Richard Nixon, are millionaires. If Nixon is still a few thousand dollars short of his first million, he at least lives like a millionaire.

The two wealthiest, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and Sen. Robert Kennedy, were born rich. The others, harassed from boyhood by abusive money worries, earned their millions.

However, they weren't exactly born in log cabins. Nixon was the son of a grocer; Sen. Charles Percy, the son of a bank cashier; Gov. Ronald Reagan, a shoe store manager's son; and Romney, a general contractor's son. President Johnson was born in a white frame cottage on the banks of the Pedernales, the son of a farmer-legislator.

McCarthy also came out of a small-town, middle-class background, but he took up a teaching career, which was hardly calculated to make him rich. He now supplements his $30,000-a-year Senate salary by lecturing and writing.

Romney Tells All
Only Romney has been willing to talk in complete candor about his financial affairs. He balked at first when Look magazine's senior editor, T. George Harris, in preparing his book "Romney's Ways," asked to see the governors' tax returns. Romney contended that a man's conduct, not his personal finances, was all that mattered. But after a moment's hesitation, he laid out his tax returns for the last 12 years.

These show, astonishingly, that Romney docked his own salary as president of American Motors when he took time off to attend Michigan's constitutional convention; that he donated an average of 19 per cent of each year's adjusted gross income to his church and an additional four per cent to straight charity; and that he seldom took advantage of loopholes to escape his tax obligations.

Before he hit the big time as an automobile tycoon, his total capital consisted of his equity in a mortgage, $35,000 home. His adjusted gross income, thanks to stock options, reached $661,428 in 1960. The same year he paid $237,000 in federal taxes, contributed $156,038 to the Mormon Church, and handed out another $16,697 to charities. He sold a block of stock in 1960, however, to pay off bank loans. Thus his charity contributions added up to only $400 less than his full year's regular income before taxes, counting both salary and bonus.

Over a five-year period, while he was engaged on the side in political activity, he cut his own salary, by $268,000. American Motors' board of directors, pleased over the prosperity he had brought to the company, tried to raise his salary he insisted upon cutting. He brushed the offer aside.

In contrast, Romney's chief rival in the upcoming Presidential primaries, Richard Nixon, has refused to bare his finances. Patrick Buchanan, speaking for the former Vice President, told our representative, in effect, that Nixon's personal finances were none of the public's business.

Nixon's Take
We can report, however, that Nixon takes in around $250,000 a year from his Wall Street law firm. When he left government, he reported his net worth at slightly over $50,000. Recently, he boasted to a friend that his income tax alone is now double the $35,000 salary he used to collect as Vice President. He moved in as senior partner in the respected, old Wall Street firm of Mudge, Stern, Baldwin and Todd after backstage pressure from two of its biggest clients, the Warner-Lambert Pharmaceutical Company and the Pepsi-Cola Company. Discreet calls were made to the firm by Elmer B. Bost, Warner-Lambert's board chairman, and Donald Kendall, Pepsi-Cola's president.

A deal was hastily arranged, and the firm overnight became Nixon, Mudge, Guthrie, Alexander and Mitchell. Unlike Romney, Nixon has always accepted his full cut although he has spent half his time politicking. He has also used some of the firm's junior attorneys as political volunteers.

Romney, as president of American Motors, continued to live frugally, drove one of his own Ramblers, and on overnight trips simply parked on the roadside and slept in the car.

In contrast, Nixon has moved next door to Gov. Nelson Rockefeller into a plush, 12-room cooperative apartment at 810 Fifth Avenue. Without furniture, the apartment cost Nixon $35,000, plus a yearly maintenance fee of $9,600.

Dick Gets Around
He gets around New York City in a chauffeured black Chrysler LeBaron, dines out at such fashionable spots as "21," El Morocco and Delmonico's, and belongs to several exclusive clubs, including the Links, Metropolitan and Recess, plus such stylish country clubs as Blind Brook in Westchester and Baltusrol in New Jersey.

Half a dozen times a year, he flies down to Florida for a few days in the sun, usually as the guest of a banker friend, Bebe Rebozo, on Key Biscayne.

Nixon is now preparing for his annual Christmas party which, in the past, has featured a revolving Christmas tree, a strolling accordion player and fancy trimmings befitting a big-time corporate lawyer.

In future columns, we will examine the finances of other Presidential prospects.

Henry J. Taylor Says Where Is the Money Coming From?

By HENRY J. TAYLOR

The great and buried secret of the Great Society is: Where's the money coming from? Worried millions ask the answer and we're entitled to get it, even if the political spenders won't tell us and pour out, instead, their Vesuvius of misinformation.

It's coming right out of our hides.

This is also the fundamental answer to why our U.S. dollar is threatened in the world's cold appraisal of what's happening here, reflected in the gold crisis.

There are now more $100 bills ($7.9 billion) than $10 bills in circulation—for the first time. If you exchange $100 worth of work—or $10,000 worth, for that matter—for a $100 or $10,000 bill, the bill only costs the government about a penny. The Great Society is nothing more or less than a paper-and-ink economy.

I put the buried question—Where's the money coming from?—to the U.S. Treasury Department and the Federal Reserve Board. I am giving you here their official replies.

Both confirm that in 1965 public and private debts rose to a record one trillion 276 million dollars. Since this breakthrough above a trillion the line for both debts, like the Eiffel Tower, goes straight up.

In addition, alas, the figures also show that the U.S. Government is the world's biggest banker with nearly $40 billion in outstanding loans. On top of these, 80 agencies have guaranteed $83.5 billion loans.

In 1941 the ratio of U.S. Treasury gold on hand to non-gold currency and deposits, omitting deposits in savings and loan associations, was 24.6 per cent. Today it's around three per cent. The printing-press process of the political spenders has boosted our living costs in dollars to all-time high at this moment that our gold reserves have hit another new 30-year low.

I find that the official figures explode the false impression that the commercial banks have increased their buying of government bonds.

The record shows that in February, 1946, the commercial banks held $93.8 billion in government securities. By December the commercial banks' holdings had dropped to $74.5 billion. Instead of buying the printing presses' immense, undulating waves and mountains of additional bonds (the government's I.O.U.s) the commercial banks have been reducing what they owned. By May, 1966, their holdings had dropped to $54.9 billion.

Nor are the Washington Robin Hoods of the Red Ink getting the money from the public in savings bonds. The people's ownership of E and H bonds has increased only from $30.8 billion in December, 1946, to $48 billion in January, 1965, and $49.1 billion in May, 1966.

Even though Washington increased the interest rate on Savings Bonds last year, the public's buying increase has not only flattened out but helps to fill the immense gap—a pebble that doesn't fill the chasm.

In this and other forms like savings bank deposits, millions think their thrift rewards them with 4½ per cent interest, or more. But today's official index of consumer prices shows that the buying power of their saved money has melted at an annual rate of about three per cent a year.

As of December 1, 1967, direct obligations of the U.S. Government in the hands of the public that will mature within 12 months amount to $104.3 billion. Behind the scenes, and tragically, the real reward of these thrifty holders is about 1½ per cent, which is less than in the 1932 depression. In fact, they're paying what you might call a negative interest; they're taxed on the interest they did not benefit from and lost.

The U.S. Treasury and the Federal Reserve Board are both agencies of the government and they've been tremendous suppliers and buyers of money alike—manufacturing it with one hand and required to buy with the other.

The Federal Reserve banks have increased their holdings of government securities from $22.9 billion in February, 1946, to $41.5 in May, 1966. Another category termed "U.S. Government Investment Accounts," which includes Social Security, Federal Deposit Insurance, Building and Loan Deposits, etc., likewise contributes. And this still leaves at least a billowy $25 billion now unaccounted for.

The answer to where the Great Society's money is coming from is that it's simply coming from the printing presses of the government itself. If we're not entitled to the truth in this great bamboozle, who is?

Mr. Sobieraj seems a rather biased observer of the Vietnam situation. Its beyond me how anyone can place total blame for lack of negotiation on a country that has repeatedly offered the same.

Mr. Sobieraj undoubtedly thinks Hanoi is right in demanding a cessation of the bombing as a prelude to negotiations. Clearly the decision to stop the bombing is theirs—they can stop sending troops south. In the past, suspension of the bombing has been accompanied by North Vietnamese troop movements and the distribution of military supplies. Allowing this sort of activity is to allow the enemy to strengthen his power to take American and South Vietnamese lives.

Lake Mr. Sobieraj, I won't say anything about war crimes. I think the events of the past several days speak for themselves.

Lastly, if we withdraw from Vietnam where do we make a stand against Communist expansion? Where do you draw the line Mr. Sobieraj or don't you think there should be a line?

Congress Appears Ready To Reconsider Surtax

By WILLIAM J. EATON
Chicago Daily News Service

WASHINGTON — The new Congress is ready to reconsider President Johnson's surtax proposal to bolster confidence in the strength of the dollar.

This is why Chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee has scheduled a meeting Jan. 22 to act on the administration's bill to raise taxes by 10 per cent.

Mills and the committee's ranking Republican, Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, acted as a team to deflate gold speculators in Europe who are making another rush for the precious yellow metal.

Mills and Byrnes "feel very strongly that any appropriate action will be taken to assure the integrity of the dollar at home and abroad," they said.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

Dec. 20, 1947—The new firehouse for Ulster Hose Co. No. 5 was expected to be ready in January.

Mrs. Hanna Vogt of Connelly celebrated her 100th birthday.

Dec. 20, 1957—A six million dollar county budget was unanimously passed by the board of supervisors. It was some $338,000 above the budget for 1957.

High Greer, president of Uniformed Fire Fighters Local 461, presented the Community Chest $240 on behalf of Kingston firemen.

after a morning call on Capitol Hill by Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler.

It is clear that Mr. Johnson's tax increase may be voted to protect the dollar even if many members of Congress do not believe higher taxes are needed at this time to cool off the economy. Yet recent economic indicators have shown a slight pickup in inflationary pressures.

The tax bill was dropped into cold storage Nov. 30 after Mills rejected an administration compromise plan to slice another $2.6 billion from federal spending if Congress would raise taxes. Announcement of the committee's plans to consider the matter again — more than a month from now — was aimed at reassuring European Central bankers and the gold market.

Some members of the committee have said they are ready to support a tax increase now. They had previously been against it.

One Washington monetary authority said the British devaluation of the pound actually left the United States in a better strategic position to resist attacks on the price of gold.

The U. S. balance-of-payments position, an indicator of economic health in world markets, has been deteriorating rapidly for several years, this non-governmental expert said.

Rising prices in 1965-66, caused mainly by the Vietnam war spending, account for most of the slippage. Therefore, he said, the dollar is weak. Yet the world is scared to do anything but support it. Within reason, every major industrial country in the West will do anything to retain the present system, the authority continued.

Eventually, if U. S. prices kept climbing year after year, that support might not be there. So, the expert believes, this country must raise taxes and tighten credit even if it means unemployment of 4.2 per cent. This is the medicine needed to check a cost-price spiral. Also, he said, some restrictions on the flow of capital or investments abroad may be necessary.

These are some of the things the Ways and Means Committee must ponder when it meets next year to agonize over taxes—less than 10 months before the 1968 election.

Politicians Note Rising Independence of Electorate

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — More and more Americans are shunning party labels and identifying themselves as political independents—a development that could profoundly affect the 1968 election campaigns.

Surveys show nearly one-third of the nation's adults—some 36 million potential voters—no longer consider themselves Democrats or Republicans. They instead call themselves independents.

This rising independence of electorate has not gone unnoticed among professional politicians, whose livelihood depends on their ability to chart accurately the moods of the voters.

The pros are shaping campaigns that will appeal to this large bloc of independents—or "ticket splitters," as some strategists call them.

These "ticket splitters" tend to be younger, well-educated, higher-paid professional or white collar workers who closely examine candidates and issues before deciding how to vote.

The 1968 campaign—national as well as state—may see the use of more sophisted techniques. Eye- or ear-catching slogans and jingles may be downplayed in favor of in-depth explanations of candidates' qualifications and the issues.

Vote for Winners

The politicians' interest in the independent voters has been heightened by research indicating the "ticket splitters" almost always end up voting for the winning candidate. "We just haven't found them voting for a losing candidate," one tactician said.

Some political managers have even charted which areas—usually middle- or upper-class suburbs—have the highest number of "ticket splitters." Their candidates spend more time and money in these areas.

Over the past quarter-century, Dr. George H. Gallup has documented the trend toward voter independence. Periodically since 1940, his American Institute of Public Opinion has included this question in its surveys: "In politics today, do you consider yourself a Republican, Democrat or independent?"

In a survey this fall, 31 per cent of those interviewed replied independent, 27 per cent Republican and 42 per cent Democrat. Six months earlier, the breakdown was 27 per cent independent, 27 per cent Republican and 46 per cent Democrat.

Independents Increase

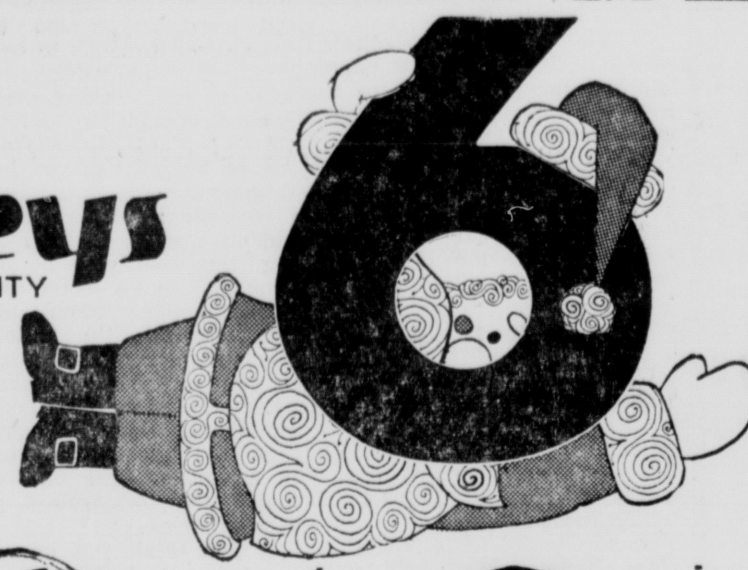

In 1964, the last presidential election year, 22 per cent of adults interviewed considered themselves independents, 25 per cent Republicans and 53 per cent Democrats. In 1950, the figures stood at 22 per cent independent, 33 per cent Republican and 45 per cent Democrat. In 1940, it was 20 per cent independent, 38 per cent Republican and 42 per cent Democrat.

The 31 per cent figure reported this fall is the highest "for independents we've ever had," Gallup recently told an interviewer. "You might say on this basis that the Republican party is a third party" since, for the first time since 1940, the number of persons calling themselves Republicans falls below the number calling themselves independents.

"Republicans polling their full strength would be hopelessly defeated," Gallup added. "They've got to get a considerable number of independents to get over that 50 per cent line."

Congress Appears Ready To Reconsider Surtax

WASHINGTON — The new Congress is ready to reconsider President Johnson's surtax proposal to bolster confidence in the strength of the dollar.

This is why Chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee has scheduled a meeting Jan. 22 to act on the administration's bill to raise taxes by 10 per cent.

One Washington monetary authority said the British devaluation of the pound actually left the United States in a better strategic position to resist attacks on the price of gold.

The U. S. balance-of-payments position, an indicator of economic health in world markets, has been deteriorating rapidly for several years, this non-governmental expert said.

Rising prices in 1965-66, caused mainly by the Vietnam war spending, account for most of the slippage. Therefore, he said, the dollar is weak. Yet the world is scared to do anything but support it. Within reason, every major industrial country in the West will do anything to retain the present system, the authority continued.

Eventually, if U. S. prices kept climbing year after year, that support might not be there. So, the expert believes, this country must raise taxes and tighten credit even if it means unemployment of 4.2 per cent. This is the medicine needed to check a cost-price spiral. Also, he said, some restrictions on the flow of capital or investments abroad may be necessary.

These are some of the things the Ways and Means Committee must ponder when it meets next year to agonize over taxes—less than 10 months before the 1968 election.

Timely Quotes

There is never a totally painless way to pull back from either unwise, ill-advised or outdated ideas or commitments. But throughout history, mighty nations have learned the limits of power. America's contribution to world civilization must be more than a continuous performance demonstration that we can police the planet.

If the churches had been as alert to the social need in the days of Marx and Lenin as they are becoming now, communism never would have got started.

Politicians Note Rising Independence of Electorate

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — More and more Americans are shunning party labels and identifying themselves as political independents—a development that could profoundly affect the 1968 election campaigns.

Surveys show nearly one-third of the nation's adults—some 36 million potential voters—no longer consider themselves Democrats or Republicans. They instead call themselves independents.

This rising independence of electorate has not gone unnoticed among professional politicians, whose livelihood depends on their ability to chart accurately the moods of the voters.

The pros are shaping campaigns that will appeal to this large bloc of independents—or "ticket splitters," as some strategists call them.

These "ticket splitters" tend to be younger, well-educated, higher-paid professional or white collar workers who closely examine candidates and issues before deciding how to vote.

The 1968 campaign—national as well as state—may see the use of more sophisticated techniques. Eye- or ear-catching slogans and jingles may be downplayed in favor of in-depth explanations of candidates' qualifications and the issues.

Vote for Winners

The politicians' interest in the independent voters has been heightened by research indicating the "ticket splitters" almost always end up voting for the winning candidate. "We just haven't found them voting for a losing candidate," one tactician said.

Some political managers have even charted which areas—usually middle- or upper-class suburbs—have the highest number of "ticket splitters." Their candidates spend more time and money in these areas.

Over the past quarter-century, Dr. George H. Gallup has documented the trend toward voter independence. Periodically since 1940, his American Institute of Public Opinion has included this question in its surveys: "In politics today, do you consider yourself a Republican, Democrat or independent?"

In a survey this fall, 31 per cent of those interviewed replied independent, 27 per cent Republican and 42 per cent Democrat. Six months earlier, the breakdown was 27 per cent independent, 27 per cent Republican and 46 per cent Democratic.

Independents Increase

In 1964, the last presidential election year, 22 per cent of adults interviewed considered themselves independents, 25 per cent Republicans and 53 per cent Democrats. In 1950, the figures stood at 22 per cent independent, 33 per cent Republican and 45 per cent Democrat. In 1940, it was 20 per cent independent, 38 per cent Republican and 42 per cent Democrat.

The 31 per cent figure reported this fall is the highest "for independents we've ever had," Gallup recently told an interviewer. "You might say on this basis that the Republican party is a third party" since, for the first time since 1940, the number of persons calling themselves Republicans falls below the number calling themselves independents.

"Republicans polling their full strength would be hopelessly defeated," Gallup added. "They've got to get a considerable number of independents to get over that 50 per cent line."

No Political Ambitions

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—Sen. Frank Carlson, R-Kan., who announced Tuesday he would retire after 40 years in public office, said he never intended to get into politics.

"In 1928 I was cutting wheat, and a car drove up at the end of the field."

"I stopped the combine and got off. There were four men from my hometown of Concordia. One said, we want to put your name on the ballot for the Kansas legislature."

"I said I can't be bothered with it. I'll be feeding a couple hundred head of cattle in the winter and the legislature meets in January."

"Well," they said, "don't worry, you won't be elected."

Carlson won every election he entered—for the legislature, congressman, governor and senator.

The Doctor Says

POPULAR MISCONCEPTIONS REGARDING INTOXICATION By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

According to the old song, "It's the season to be jolly." This being so, or at least widely believed, the question arises: Are you the type who needs to take several drinks to be jolly? If so, after these drinks, do you always say, "Of course I'm sober enough to drive?"

If this is the case, the season may not be as jolly as you had anticipated.

Because so many traffic accidents are the result of drinking, this seems to be a good time to review some popular misconceptions about alcohol.

For example, the belief that you will get more intoxicated if you mix your drinks (gin and whisky or vice versa) is completely false. It is the amount of alcohol you consume in a unit of time that causes intoxication, regardless of the type of drink.

If you think you can safely drive when two hours have elapsed since you had two highballs, you should revise your thinking. You might make it home without an accident, but a wait of three hours is safer.

The old notion that a little alcohol acts as a stimulant and makes you more alert is false. Alcohol depresses your nervous system. Some persons, aware of this danger, drive more carefully than they would otherwise, but should an emergency arise, their reflexes would be a little slower than normal.

Do you take a shot of liquor to warm you up when you have to go out on a cold night? Don't do it. The alcohol will warm your skin by dilating the surface capillaries but the total effect will be to cause your body to lose heat more rapidly.

Do you always accompany your alcohol consumption with eating onions or garlic or chewing cloves to fool the police? If so, you will lose that round, too. The modern chemical test for alcohol in the expired air is specific for alcohol. And don't forget that your ability for self-criticism is lost before there are any obvious signs of intoxication.

Sentenced 30 Days

Leroy Barnes, 45, of Ellenville, pleaded guilty Tuesday night before Village Judge Ronald Elias in Ellenville to petit larceny and was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail and placed on probation for one year, according to Police Chief Abe Rand.

Barnes, also known as Benny Thomas, was accused of taking ladies stockings from the Woolworth store in Ellenville last week. He previously pleaded innocent and last night a jury was drawn, but the defendant changed his plea to guilty.

George Cathcart, of Ellenville, pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of criminal possession on probation for one year. Chief Rand said the youth originally was charged with possessing stolen property, a watch.

Acquit Upstater Of Murder Charge

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A State Supreme Court jury has acquitted a 41-year-old Buffalo man of a first-degree manslaughter charge in the fatal shooting of a 35-year-old man which climaxed a tavern quarrel Aug. 26, 1966.

The jury, however, convicted Edward Gibson, who was accused in the shooting of Mario Luque, 35, also of Buffalo, on a charge of unlawful possession of a loaded fire arm Tuesday. Gibson faces sentencing Jan. 15 on that charge.

Gibson, who had quarreled with Luque and two other men in the tavern, said in testimony that he acted in self-defense when one of the men came at him with a knife. He denied he had a gun. Gibson said the gun, which he claimed belonged to Luque, discharged during the struggle.

The Defense Department has said that under emergency conditions it would take about two weeks to fly the Army troops back to Germany, match them up with their equipment stockpiled there, and have them ready for combat.

The theory is that there would be time enough to redeploy the troops—that a period of tension would precede any outbreak.

"Sorry, Dee Dee, I have to hurry home and wait for a phone call—I don't have a date for Saturday night!"

The Doctor Says

POPULAR MISCONCEPTIONS REGARDING INTOXICATION
By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

According to the old song, "tis the season to be jolly." This being so, or at least widely believed, the question arises: Are you the type who needs to take several drinks to be jolly? If so, after these drinks, do you always say, "Of course, I'm sober enough to drive?" If this is the case, the season may not be as jolly as you had anticipated.

Because so many traffic accidents are the result of drinking, this seems to be a good time to review some popular misconceptions about alcohol. For example, the belief that you will get more intoxicated if you mix your drinks (gin after whisky or vice versa) is completely false. It is the amount of alcohol you consume in a unit of time that causes intoxication, regardless of the type of drink.

If you think you can safely drive when two hours have elapsed since you had two highballs, you should revise your thinking. You might make it home without an accident, but a wait of three hours is safer.

The old notion that a little alcohol acts as a stimulant and makes you more alert is false. Alcohol depresses your nervous system. Some persons, aware of this danger, drive more carefully than they would otherwise but, should an emergency arise, their reflexes would be a little slower than normal.

Do you take a shot of liquor to warm you up when you have to go out on a cold night? Don't do it. The alcohol will warm your skin by dilating the surface capillaries but the total effect will be to cause your body to lose heat more rapidly.

Do you always accompany your alcohol consumption with eating onions or garlic or chewing cloves to fool the police? If so, you will lose that round too. The modern chemical test for alcohol in the expired air is specific for alcohol. And don't forget that your ability for self-criticism is lost before there are any obvious signs of intoxication.

Sentenced 30 Days

Leroy Barnes, 45, of Ellenville, pleaded guilty Tuesday night before Judge Ronald Elias in Ellenville to petit larceny and was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail and placed on probation for one year, according to Police Chief Abe Rand.

Barnes, also known as Benny Thomas, was accused of taking ladies stockings from the Woolworth store in Ellenville last week. He previously pleaded innocent and last night a jury was drawn, but the defendant changed his plea to guilty.

George Cathcart, of Ellenville, pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of criminal solicitation and Judge Elias placed him on probation for one year. Chief Rand said the youth originally was charged with possessing stolen property, a watch.

Leary's Castalia Closing Saturday

The 64-room main house used as a headquarters for Dr. Timothy Leary's LSD-centered Castalia Foundation in Millbrook, will be closed down this Saturday.

The mansion is only one of the buildings on the 2,700 acre estate owned by the wealthy William M. Hitchcock who, along with Leary, was named in a Dutchess County suit charging conspiracy to violate the drug laws, conspiracy to commit criminal facilitation, conspiracy to commit criminal nuisance and criminal facilitation and criminal nuisance.

Information regarding the closing of the main house was offered by Leary's lawyer, Poughkeepsie attorney Noel Tepper. It is not known at this time whether the Castalia Foundation will continue as an active organization. Leary is presently in California with his new wife, the former Rosemary Woodruff.

Hitchcock, 29, reportedly is still pending is Leary's $50,000 law suit against Dutchess County Sheriff Lawrence M. Quinlan for allegedly shaving off the long hair of Leary's 18-year-old son John while the latter was in the Dutchess County Jail.

Tepper said that his process server has not yet been able to contact Sheriff Quinlan. The Poughkeepsie attorney also stated that he did not know whether Dutchess County would be named in the suit in that it has not been ascertained if the county condoned Quinlan's actions, or was a party to it.

MEETS SANTA CLAUS — Gov. Ronald Reagan of California laughs as a Negro Santa Claus says "I keep hearing White Christmas, White Christmas, I'm getting tired of it." Robert J. Keyes, the governor's human relations assistant, played Santa Claus for the annual staff Christmas party. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

For Rosendale Project

Will Formulate Plans

Mayor Joseph Reid, a Rosendale village trustee and an engineer will go to New York City tomorrow to ask the Army Corps of Engineers to prepare plans and supervise work in connection with the Rosendale Flood Control Project.

Mayor Reid feels that if the corps does the work it will not be necessary for the village to hire an outside engineering firm. The result will be "a considerable saving to the village," he contends.

Permission Needed

Permission is needed from the chief of the Corps of Engineers and it "appears it will work out," Reid said this morning.

He also explained that according to the New York State Conservation Department, all right of entry will be furnished to the government by January 1968 in order that the contract may be advertised in early February.

In a recent communication, the Department of the Army, New York District Corps of Engineers, acknowledged the receipt of Reid's request that the work be performed as part of the federal construction contract.

The requirements of local operation, including the village work that must be performed, have not changed from those previously submitted to the village through the former New York State Department of Public Works, Reid said. The division of work locally is a matter of determination by the village and the state.

Village Responsibility

According to the Corps the following items of work would be the responsibility of the village: the raising of between 1,000 and 1,500 feet of water main on Main Street; the raising of a portion of James Street and a fire hydrant located on that street and the installation of a bituminous basketball court.

The Corps letter states further that the plans can be prepared by the village and furnished to the Corps of Engineers for incorporation into the federal contract or may be prepared by the Department of Army at village cost.

Mayor Reid, Trustee Joseph LaFera and Warren Larabee, secretary of the Rosendale Flood Control Committee will attend tomorrow's joint meeting of the Corps and the Conservation Dept.

Commitment Constitutional, Court Rules

NEW YORK (AP) — A state appeals court says the forced civil rights "every time the commitment of narcotics addicts is constitutional because of society's need to control the problem is more pressing than the possible violations of addicts' civil rights."

"The problem presented is one of balancing the interest of society with the rights of the individual," the Appellate Division declared Tuesday in a 4-1 decision that overturned a lower court ruling.

Federal Agencies Adopt Guidelines

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials maintain federal agencies will follow new guidelines barring secret government backing of university research abroad even though no enforcement machinery has been provided.

The department's 14-point guidelines published Tuesday specify: "The fact of government research support should always be acknowledged by sponsor, university, and researcher."

In short, a U.S. government financial grant for studies undertaken at a foreign college or university would be made public by the government as well as the university.

But State Department officials acknowledged that while many federal agencies dealing in overseas research projects have adopted the guidelines, there's no existing way to force compliance from any agency that desires to keep secret its connection to such projects.

Neither do the guidelines legally or administratively bind the State Department's Foreign Affairs Research Council, set up to oversee granting of research contracts following a 1965 uproar over a secret Chile project.

Copper Moguls Slate Meeting With Mediator

DOUGLAS, Ariz. (AP) — Representatives of 22 striking copper unions were meeting here today with Phelps Dodge Corp. officials in hopes of settling the 5 month old copper strike.

Meeting with the group are William Simkin, director of the Federal Mediation Service and a panel of mediators. Simkin's appearance in the talks is the first since the start of the strike.

Phelps Dodge submitted a new proposal to the unions two weeks ago. The new offer averages about 65 cents an hour increase over the next three years.

Investigating Burglaries

Burglaries in Binnewater and Tillson were under investigation today by County Investigator Harold T. Bowers and deputies from the office of Sheriff William B. Martin.

Bowers and the sheriff on Monday investigated a burglary at the home of Clarence Coogan in Binnewater. The house was entered by prying a window and $200 in cash was taken. The breakin occurred Sunday night.

The sheriff's office also is investigating a burglary in a quonset hut on the Van Gonsic farm near Tillson. According to the county investigator the building was ransacked and several articles were taken. Gages were cut from a boat and taken by the thieves. The loot belonged to Howard Haffner of Amsterdam Avenue, authorities reported.

Killed by Train

SPENCERPORT, N.Y. (AP) — Two youths, James Ward, 13, and David Dailey, 12, who walked home from junior high school along railroad tracks Tuesday, were struck and killed by a 74-car freight train in this community west of Rochester.

Police said the youths, who were taking a short cut home, apparently did not hear the freight train approaching them from the rear as they walked west on the New York Central Railroad tracks.

They said the train's engineer, F. C. Bates of East Syracuse, told them he saw the pair and blew the train whistle for a considerable length of time. He applied the emergency brakes, police said, but the train could not be stopped in time.

Ward lived on 117 West Av. Dailey's address was 41 Bowery St.

Ferrigan, of the Town of Kingston, was one of the 334 trainees, including town justices, village justices, and other persons interested in justice court work, who attended the sixth annual Fall Justice Training Program sponsored by the Judicial Conference and held at the Albany Law School.

Permission Needed
Permission is needed from the chief of the Corps of Engineers and it "appears it will work out," Reid said this morning.

He also explained that according to the New York State Conservation Department, all right of entry will be furnished to the government by January 1968 in order that the contract may be advertised in early February.

In a recent communication, the Department of the Army, New York District Corps of Engineers, acknowledged the receipt of Reid's request that the work be performed as part of the federal construction contract.

The requirements of local cooperation, including the village work that must be performed, have not changed from those previously submitted to the village through the former New York State Department of Public Works, Reid said. The division of work locally is a matter of determination by the village and the state.

Village Responsibility
According to the Corps the following items of work would be the responsibility of the village: the raising of between 1,000 and 1,500 feet of water main on Main Street; the raising of a portion of James Street and a fire hydrant located on that street and the installation of a bituminous basketball court.

The Corps letter states further that the plans can be prepared by the village and furnished to the Corps of Engineers for incorporation into the federal contract or may be prepared by the Department of Army at village cost.

Mayor Reid, Trustee Joseph LaFera and Warren Larabee, secretary of the Rosendale Flood Control Committee will attend tomorrow's joint meeting of the Corps and the Conserva-

Commitment Constitutional, Court Rules

NEW YORK (AP) — A state appeals court says the forced commitment of narcotics addicts is constitutional because society's need to control the problem is more pressing than the possible violations of addicts' civil rights.

"The problem presented is one of balancing the interest of addicts compelled to a society with the rights of the individual," the Appellate Division declared Tuesday in a 4-1 decision that overturned a lower court ruling.

Federal Agencies Adopt Guidelines

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials maintain federal agencies will follow new guidelines barring secret government backing of university research abroad even though no enforcement machinery has been provided.

The department's 14-point guidelines published Tuesday specify: "The fact of government research support should always be acknowledged by sponsor, university, and researcher."

In short, a U.S. government financial grant for studies undertaken at a foreign college or university would be made public by the government as well as the university.

But State Department officials acknowledged that while many federal agencies dealing in overseas research projects have adopted the guidelines, there's no existing way to force compliance from any agency that desires to keep secret its connection to such projects.

Neither do the guidelines legally or administratively bind the State Department's Foreign Affairs Research Council, set up to oversee granting of research contracts following a 1965 uproar over a secret Chile project.

The 1965 incident resulted from disclosure that the Army had put researchers in Chile to study potentially disruptive social and political factors. Some critics contended it appeared the Department of the Army was attempting to mount a years-counter-insurgency effort in the Latin American nation.

Said the new department recommendations: "Covert support to institutions of higher education is contrary to national policy, on the broad and vital principle that it runs contrary to the spirit of our institutions, and on the pragmatic basis that it may reduce the reliability and credibility of the research project's conclusions and eventually result in damage to the reputation of our scholarly community."

Copper Moguls Slate Meeting With Mediator

DOUGLAS, Ariz. (AP) — Representatives of 22 striking copper unions were meeting here today with Phelps Dodge Corp. officials in hopes of settling the 5 month old copper strike.

Meeting with the group are William Simkin, director of the Federal Mediation Service and a panel of mediators. Simkin's appearance in the talks is the first since the start of the strike. Phelps Dodge submitted a new proposal to the unions two weeks ago. The new offer averages about 65 cents an hour in wages over the next three years.

who signed the commitment eventually is held on the issue of papers violated constitutional addition, the earlier wrong "is rights. But, because a jury trial harmless," he declared.

But Justice Rabin declared: "If the state acts reasonably in the exercise of its powers and does not go beyond what is necessary to meet the condition required, then we may say that its action may be sustained from a constitutional standpoint."

The lower court had freed Paul James, 24, confined to the Edgecombe Reception Center in the Bronx last May on the petition of his mother. An appeal to the state's highest court, the Court of Appeals, and possibly the U.S. Supreme Court is expected.

About 500 addicts throughout the state have been involuntarily confined under the new law.

The Appellate majority made clear it was not happy with some of the procedures under the Mental Hygiene Law. After the ruling, Irving Lang, chief counsel of the State Narcotic Addiction Control Commission, said a bill would be submitted to the next Legislature to give alleged addicts the right to a hearing before being medically examined.

Appellate Justice Harold A. Stevens voted to uphold the lower court ruling. He warned that examining physicians "considered as an addict an individual who might have a heroin injection once every two months."

Justice Louis J. Capozzoli agreed with the majority but wrote that sending an alleged addict to a medical center before he was brought to the judge

Investigating Burglaries

Burglaries in Binnewater and Tilsen were under investigation today by County Investigator Harold T. Bowers and deputies from the office of Sheriff William B. Martin.

Bowers and the sheriff on Monday investigated a burglary at the home of Clarence Coogan in Binnewater. The house was entered by prying a window and $200 in cash was taken. The break-in occurred Sunday night.

The sheriff's office also is investigating a burglary in a quonset hut on the Van Gonsie farm near Tilsen. According to the county investigator the building was ransacked and several articles were taken. Gages were cut from a boat and taken by the thieves. The loot belonged to Howard Haffner of Amsterdam Avenue, authorities reported.

Killed by Train

SPENCERPORT, N.Y. (AP) — Two youths, James Ward, 13, and David Dailey, 12, who walked home from junior high school along railroad tracks Tuesday, were struck and killed by a 74-car freight train in this community west of Rochester.

Police said the youths, who were taking a short cut home, apparently did not hear the freight train approaching them from the rear as they walked west on the New York Central Railroad tracks.

They said the train's engineer, F. C. Bates of East Syracuse, told them he saw the pair and blew the train whistle for a considerable length of time. He applied the emergency brakes, police said, but the train could not be stopped in time.

Ward lived on 117 West Av. Dailey's address was 41 Bowery St.

Yule Safety Tips From Health Dept.

ALBANY—"Try to be more ingenious than your children if you want a safe Christmas," the state health commissioner advised parents today.

Dr. Hollis S. Ingraham said experience has shown that if there is any conceivable way a small child can hurt himself he probably will unless parents are constantly on the alert. For example, one Christmas some parents told their little boy not to stick his fingers in the Christmas tree light sockets, not to put wrapping paper on the stove and not to ride his sled in the street. Before letting him out doors, they forgot to tell him not to pick up a squirrel. He did so and was bitten.

To help prevent Christmas time accidents, Dr. Ingraham offered these suggestions:

Don't give a baby a toy small enough to swallow. Don't give toys with component parts that are that small—such as stuffed animals with button eyes. Avoid anything painted with a lead-based pigment. Be wary of toys with sharp edges or points. Select items that are lightweight, washable and not likely to break.

Christmas trees require special care. Pick one with fresh firm needles. Saw the trunk at an angle so it can absorb water easier. Keep the water container nearly full. Check tree lights for frayed wires. Make sure the tree can't tip over and keep it away from fireplaces, stoves, radiators and other heat sources. Use only non-combustible decorations. With artificial trees made of metal, beware of electric shock.

Professional Incompatibility

DES MOINES (AP)—The Rev. George Parrish, a Baptist pastor here, obtained a divorce after 31 years of marriage, charging that his wife continually embarrassed him by walking out of church just as he started his Sunday sermons.

1968 Auto Sales to Top 9 Million, Industry's Big Four Chiefs Feel

DETROIT (AP)—The top four men in the auto industry agreed today that new car sales in 1968 would top the nine million mark.

Yearend predictions of the four board chairmen—Henry Ford II of Ford Motor Co.; James M. Roche of General Motors; Lynn A. Townsend of Chrysler and Roy D. Chapin Jr. of American Motors—followed pretty much the same pattern.

They said this year's sales would wind up at about 8.4 million cars in the U.S. market.

Ford was the most optimistic as he foresaw a 9.3 million car year—just about equal to the record year of 1965—for next year, Ford attached a big "if" to his prediction, namely that no federal income tax increase would be put into effect by early January.

Roche and Townsend predicted sales would be over nine million but neither would get any more specific. Chapin settled on a forecast of a 9.1 to 9.2 million car sales year.

Chapin predicted his firm—American Motors—would up its sales to 300,000 next year compared with the 240,000 sales it chalked up in 1967. AMC officials said previously that 300,000 was the breakeven point in their auto operations.

With trucks and imports included, Roche anticipates total sales in the U.S. next year will amount to 10.7 million cars and trucks, which would be the highest total ever.

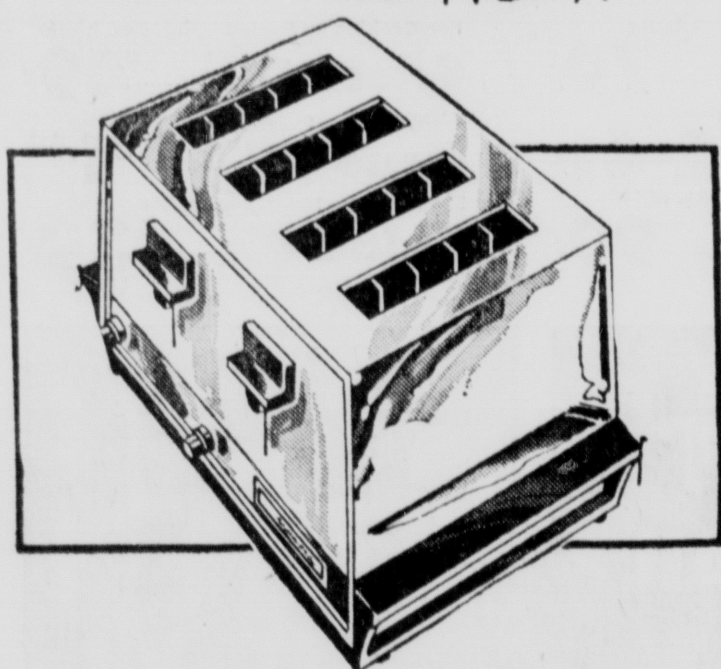

Such a development, he said, will depend on several things, including concern about Vietnam and the cost of the war, "questions of government expenditures, taxes and fiscal policy," and whatever eventual results English devaluation of the pound sterling may have.

'Heart Man' Gains In Past 24 Hours, Lungs Responding

By DAVID J. PAINE
Associated Press Writer

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Louis Washkansky's chief surgeon said today that he has improved in the last 24 hours and his lung ailment is having no adverse effect on his transplanted heart, Radio South Africa reported today.

Chances Look Good

The government radio said Dr. Christian Barnard, who headed the surgical team that performed history's first human heart transplant, reported Washkansky's lungs are responding to treatment and his chances of recovery are good.

There are no signs of the body rejecting the heart, the broadcast said Barnard added. Earlier today a hospital bulletin said there was no change in Washkansky's condition and he "is still seriously ill." But the doctors Tuesday night said he had made a slight gain after a transfusion of white blood cells.

A spokesman for the team of 30 specialists caring for the 53-year-old wholesale grocer said they would probably repeat the treatment to provide Washkansky with more of the white cells that combat infection.

A sharp decrease in his white corpuscle count Tuesday indicated to physicians that Washkansky's body was acting against its own tissue more than against the borrowed heart he received 17 days ago.

Until he took a turn for the worse over the weekend, Washkansky had made a startling show of robustness since the heart of a 25-year-old woman who died in an auto accident was implanted in his chest Dec. 3.

The white cell transfusion, gathered from the blood of four donors, was made on the recommendation of a French blood cancer specialist who reported the treatment had remarkable results in some cases.

Working in Unknown

Washkansky's physicians were working virtually in the unknown on the world's first human heart recipient, and Dr. M.C. Botha, the team's chief pathologist, acknowledged they were "playing this by ear."

"We were very well aware of this danger of rejection before the operation and have lived every day since the operation with the awareness that some form or other of rejection was a strong possibility," he said.

The surgical team had taken hope from the report of an American surgeon, Dr. T.E. Starzl, who Botha said encountered similar rejection circumstances in kidney transplants. Most of the kidney patients Starzl treated at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Denver, Colo., survived after being ill for about two weeks when their own tissue was attacked by the body, Botha said.

Home Districts Fared Well

Fiscal Record of Congress Session

EDITOR'S NOTE: Economy was the big word this year on Capitol Hill, and few major federal spending programs emerged unscathed. But did the shears flash with equal consistency over congressmen's home district projects? Here is a revealing report on the fiscal record of the session just passed.

BY CARL P. LEIBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Many members of Congress talked a lot about budget-cutting economy, but many of the same members voted millions of dollars for new or bigger spending on projects of home state interest.

This emerges from a study of the record of the first session of the 90th Congress which adjourned last Friday on the eve of an election year.

For example:
Unbudgeted $40,000 OK
—Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., brought off a $1 billion foreign aid cut, the biggest in history, as chairman of a house subcommittee. He also won approval of an unbudgeted $40,000 seawall at Monroe in his north-east Louisiana district.

—Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss., while frequently denouncing Johnson administration "Great Society" spending, was seeking an unbudgeted $728,000 to dredge a channel in Harrison County in his Mississippi Gulf Coast district.

—Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., supported efforts on the Senate floor to eliminate unbudgeted public works projects. But he earlier tried to get two for his home state, $225,000 for planning in connection with the Trinity River Basin project, and $25,000 for a comprehensive study of the Red River above Denison.

Such examples of "pork barrel" projects followed a well-established congressional pattern. Likewise, economists in Congress displayed little interest in reducing its own operations, the vast defense budget—which accounts for half of all federal spending—or such things as the supersonic transport, veterans benefits or the fight against Communism.

Chairman George H. Mahon, of the House Appropriations Committee put it into perspective Oct. 4 when he rebuked fellow committee member Garner E. Shriver, a Kansas Republican.

Mahon noted that Shriver, who led the fight to cut foreign aid funds, has been "a star for economy in the Committee on Appropriations" but was opposing a reduction in federal school aid for his district.

"The gentleman from Kansas wanted to achieve economy but not at the expense of his district. But I must say," Mahon added, "that most all of us are alike in that regard."

Mahon was saying, in effect, that many who advocate budget slashing react quite differently when the needs of their own district are at stake.

A case in point is Rep. Durward G. Hall, R-Mo., who operates with Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, as the chief House watchdogs on spending and hidden costs.

"It is time a Congress which controls appropriations begins to cut off the water in budgets and debts at its source," Hall told the House Feb. 8 in opposing an increase in the legal ceiling on the national debt.

But on March 14, the Missouri Republican wrote to the House Appropriations Committee asking it to add $125,000 to funds for range management and research in connection with conversion of brush land to pasture.

"I'm convinced this is an important program whose benefits are well worth the cost," Hall said in defense of his request to exceed President Johnson's budget requests.

On May 9, Hall argued before a closed session of an Appropriations subcommittee for a $6.5 million increase over budget estimates for construction at Kaysinger and Stockton reservoirs in his district.

But Hall also was making an "economy" record on the House floor by voting to cut appropriation bill spending by five percent, and against some of the appropriations measures themselves.

He voted against the Treasury Post Office bill, the Interior measure and the independent offices bill, which contains urban housing funds. But like Gross, he supported the public works and agriculture measures.

When federal spending became a big issue, Rep. Charles E. Joelson, D-N.J., got quite a laugh when he suggested that one way to cut it would be for each member to make a list of projects in his district that could be eliminated.

Joelson, one of the sharper wits in Congress, brought the House down with an assurance: "I am willing to practice what I preach."

"If every member submits that list for his district," Joelson said, "I will be the 435th member to submit that list for my district."

At session's end, the House had cut appropriations bills by $6.2 billion below administration estimates. But $1.6 billion is in the defense budget, and a supplemental request for twice that amount is expected from the administration early next year.

And, as Sen. John J. Williams, R-DeI., complained, the Senate put some $4 billion back into the House-passed appropriations bills. Every additional proposed reduction was defeated by the Senate, he said, and only amendments adding to the total were approved.

Williams made an all-out effort to cut the public works appropriations bill but met little success.

President Johnson had asked for funds to start nine new public works projects. The House knocked out four while adding 16—including Passman's seawall—for a total of 21. The Senate Appropriations Committee then restored the four and added another 25 for a total of 50.

Williams sought to knock out the 41 extra projects, involving total future commitments of $475 million, but lost 61 to 17. He then tried to cut the $4.7 billion bill by five per cent but lost 54 to 27.

'At War With Waste'
Later in the year, when Congress made one major move to cut spending by passing a measure directing executive branch cuts of some $4.1 billion, Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., tried to include Congress and the courts.

"We are at war with waste and I do not want the legislative branch to operate as draft dodgers in that war," Mundt told the Senate. He lost 44 to 29.

Some months earlier, however, he had voiced concern about the low rate of federal spending in South Dakota.

Whatever the result of congressional economy efforts, Republicans—especially in the House—claimed the chief credit.

"The heart and core of our united Republican effort has been the cutting back of federal expenditures for nonessential purposes," House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan said.

But on Sept. 11, Ford joined a majority of the House in voting 225 to 83 to increase by $8 million the authorization for the Missouri River Basin project.

So did such Missouri Valley economists as Hall, Gross, and Reps. John Kyl and William J. Scherle, Iowa Republicans.

Rocky Extends Hanukkah Greetings

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — "Cor-dial holiday greetings to the Jewish people of New York State," says Gov. Rockefeller, noting the approach of the Hanukkah holiday season.

The holiday period, commemorating the right of freedom of worship, begins Dec. 26 and continues for eight days.

In a special message to Jewish persons in New York State Tuesday, Rockefeller observed that Hanukkah was instituted in 165 B.C. by Judas Maccabaeus, whom he described as "one of the great military commanders of all times—a predecessor of General Dayan and Rabin and Col. Sion, who led the Israeli forces in the six-day war of last June."

Hanukkah was instituted by General Maccabaeus to commemorate the dedication of the new altar set up at the purification of the Temple of Jerusalem to replace the altar which had been polluted by Antiochus Epiphanes.

Maccabaeus did so after routing the vastly larger forces of Greece.

Antiochus, the Monarch of Syria, who tried to force the Israelites to worship the gods of Greece.

Drag Ohio For Bodies

POINT PLEASANT, W.Va. (AP) — Small boats continued to drag the Ohio River today downstream from the collapsed suspension bridge here while divers attempted to free wrecked autos from the mangled steel and concrete 40 feet under water.

The divers use torches to cut the sunken steel girders into workable lengths, which are then hauled up by 100-ton floating derricks. Officials estimate it may take several months to clear all debris from the river bottom.

Searchers have recovered 21 bodies since the Silver Bridge collapsed Friday. It was loaded with bumper-to-bumper traffic at the time, and Civil Defense officials estimate there are at least 40 persons still missing.

No bodies have been brought up since Tuesday morning. An emergency shuttle service across the New York Central Railroad bridge 300 yards upstream of the collapsed bridge is continuing. Officials hope this will ease some of the traffic on the Pomeroy, Ohio-Mason, W.Va. bridge 20 miles north of here.

Francis Pastorius, German lawyer and scholar, founded Germantown, now a part of Philadelphia.

NHRR Given Withdrawal OK To Pay Creditors

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — The failing New Haven Railroad has permission to withdraw $1.7 million in cash from a $7 million fund to pay off its creditors. A trustee says the money will pay for operations through January.

Trustee Richard Joyce Smith said Tuesday the $1.7 million would give the railroad "cash to keep going to the end of January."

Smith indicated he was confident that the U.S. Supreme Court would approve the merger in time to make it effective Feb. 1, though at least another year would elapse before the New Haven would be included.

Anderson remarked that "time is of the essence" because of the railroad's cash crisis, but he stayed his order until Friday to give the bondholders time to appeal it.

Smith said the Pennsylvania and New York Central Railroads have committed themselves to a loan of as much as $25 million to the New Haven—after the effective date of the Penn-Central merger.

725 May Die On Highways During Holiday

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council estimated today between 625 and 725 persons may die in Christmas holiday weekend traffic, half of the number in crashes in which liquor will be a factor.

The period covered by the estimate will extend from 6 p.m. local time Friday until midnight Monday, Christmas day.

"Somewhere in the neighborhood of 375 Americans are likely to die from traffic accidents related in some way to alcohol," William G. Johnson, council general manager, said in a statement.

Probing a variety of fatal crashes, researchers in several states agree generally that the rate of alcohol involvement than was good for them, so last reaches—or surpasses—50 per cent," Johnson said.

The council also estimated 29,000 to 34,000 persons will suffer disabling injuries from Christmas holiday crashes. Statisticians said travel would probably total about 7.9 billion vehicle miles compared with about 7.6 billion during a nonholiday period of equal length.

Halloween Brushoff

GARDNER, Mass. (AP) — There's a dentist in Gardner who can hardly wait for Halloween.

Dr. Charles E. Martel figured that most of the youngsters in his neighborhood probably would eat much more candy than was good for them, so last year he ordered a large supply of toothbrushes to give to the trick-or-treaters arriving at his front door.

The shipment was too late for Halloween of 1967, but on Nov. 1, 1968 those small fry will be able to brush those potential cavities away.

POINT PARTY — One of the 30 orphaned children who visited West Point Saturday to attend a Christmas party given them by U. S. Military Academy cadets hopefully examines a gift as Cadet Second Classman Henry J. Osterhoudt of Accord, looks on. Each of the youngsters from the St. Agatha Orphanage in West Nyack, received a gift at the party which included refreshments and snacks. Santa Claus, portrayed by Cadet Third Classman Michael Scarry, of Waynesburg, Pa., passed out the presents which were purchased by some 100 cadets from Companies G-1 and H-1. (US ARMY PHOTO).

Will Appeal Verdict

Convict Kirschke of Murder

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jack Kirschke, a suspended deputy district attorney convicted of murdering his wife and her alleged lover, says the jury's decision was "a terrible error which in due time will be corrected."

He plans to appeal the verdict.

The jury convicted Kirschke Tuesday after a 13-week trial. On Jan. 8 it will decide whether the penalty should be life imprisonment or death in the gas chamber. The prosecution said it had not decided whether to press for the death penalty.

"We haven't lost the war, son," Kirschke told young Doug Kirschke, 24, before bailiffs took him back to his cell. "We've just lost a battle. And from now on it's really going to be a battle."

The verdict was returned after 22 hours and 43 minutes of deliberation.

"It was Jack Kirschke's gun, it was his house, and it was his wife's lover," said prosecutor Albert Harris, an assistant attorney general.

"If Jack Kirschke didn't do it, then who did?"

The bodies of Kirschke's wife, fashion designer Elaine Terry Kirschke, 43, and Orville Drankhan, 41, were found in the bedroom of the Kirschke's Long Beach apartment April 8.

Mrs. Kirschke's body was found on a bed, clad only in a kimono top and shot in the head. Drankhan was sprawled fully clothed on the floor next to the bed, also shot in the head.

It was never clearly established when the shootings took place—the bodies were discovered too long after death for medical experts to pinpoint the time.

The prosecution contended that Kirschke, irate because of repeated infidelities of his wife, shot her and Drankhan in an embrace on the Kirschkes' bed. The murders took place early in the morning, the prosecution said.

Women Elect

The evening circle of the Port Ewen Methodist WSCS held its first meeting recently in the church hall.

During the business session after the supper and Christmas party the following officers were elected:

Eunice Scully, chairman; Lillian Castor, vice chairman; Diane Davis, secretary and Wava Fowler, treasurer. Program chairman is Ruth Jump.

Meetings will be held the second Tuesday of each month with planned programs. All women of the church may attend.

Watch Your Breath

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — A policeman can suspend your driver's license here if he stops you for a routine check, or for any other reason, and smells the slightest liquor on your breath.

The new British Columbia law, passed in 1966 but not put into effect until this year, is designed to take the drinking driver out of his car for the time his ability might be impaired by booze.

No charges are involved. A driver's only recourse is to ask for an on-the-spot breath test, or get an immediate blood test from his doctor.

725 May Die On Highways During Holiday

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council estimated today between 625 and 725 persons may die in Christmas holiday weekend traffic, half of the number in crashes in which liquor will be a factor.

The period covered by the estimate will extend from 6 p.m. local time Friday until midnight Monday, Christmas day.

"Somewhere in the neighborhood of 375 Americans are likely to die from traffic accidents related in some way to alcohol," William G. Johnson, council general manager, said in a statement.

Probing a variety of fatal crashes, researchers in several states agree generally that the rate of alcohol involvement reaches—or surpasses—50 per cent," Johnson said.

The council also estimated 29,000 to 34,000 persons will suffer disabling injuries from Christmas holiday crashes. Statisticians said travel would probably total about 7.9 billion vehicle miles compared with about 7.6 billion during a nonholiday period of equal length.

The last three Christmases provided three-day weekends. In 1966 there were 600 traffic fatalities, in 1965 a record 720 and in 1964 there were 596. During a normal nonholiday period of identical length the count would be about 500.

Halloween Brushoff

GARDNER, Mass. (AP) — There's a dentist in Gardner who can hardly wait for Halloween.

Dr. Charles E. Martel figured the shipment was too late for Halloween of 1967, but on Nov. 1, 1968 those small fry will be able to brush those potential cavities away.

POINT PARTY — One of the 30 orphaned children who visited West Point Saturday to attend a Christmas party given them by U. S. Military Academy cadets hopefully examines a gift as Cadet Second Classman Henry J. Osterhoudt of Accord, looks on. Each of the youngsters from the St. Agatha Orphanage in West Nyack, received a gift at the party which included refreshments and snacks. Santa Claus, portrayed by Cadet Third Classman Michael Scarry, of Waynesburg, Pa., passed out the presents which were purchased by some 100 cadets from Companies G-1 and H-1. (US ARMY PHOTO).

Will Appeal Verdict

Convict Kirschke of Murder

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jack Kirschke, a suspended deputy district attorney convicted of murdering his wife and her alleged lover, says the jury's decision was "a terrible error which in due time will be corrected."

He plans to appeal the verdict.

The jury convicted Kirschke Tuesday after a 13-week trial. On Jan. 8 it will decide whether the penalty should be life imprisonment or death in the gas chamber. The prosecution said it had not decided whether to press for the death penalty.

"We haven't lost the war," Kirschke told young Doug Kirschke, 24, before bailiffs took him back to his cell. "We've just lost a battle. And from now on it's really going to be a battle."

The verdict was returned after 22 hours and 43 minutes of deliberation.

"It was Jack Kirschke's gun, it was his house, it was his bed, it was his wife, and it was his wife's lover," said prosecutor Albert Harris, an assistant attorney general.

"If Jack Kirschke didn't do it, then who did?"

The bodies of Kirschke's wife, fashion designer Elaine Terry Kirschke, 43, and Orville Drankhan, 41, were found in the bedroom of the Kirschkes' Long Beach apartment April 8.

Mrs. Kirschke's body was found on a bed, clad only in a kimono top and shot in the head. Drankhan was sprawled fully clothed on the floor next to the bed, also shot in the head.

Committee Rebuffs Rockefeller

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller was rebuffed by one of his own study committees today as it recommended allowing the State Power Authority to enter the nuclear power field.

Rockefeller's office conceded that the committee's report represented a reversal of the policy that the governor sought to press — without success — on the 1967 Legislature.

Last spring, Rockefeller requested approval for a plan through which the state would assist private utilities in an $8 billion expansion of electric power generating facilities during the next decade — mostly nuclear — fueled facilities. The power authority would have been restricted to hydro electric operations.

The proposal was shelved by Democrats controlling the Assembly after U.S. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy strongly attacked it as a "give-away" to private industry. Kennedy protested that private companies would be able to charge any rates they chose if there were no publicly operated nuclear projects to serve as a standard of comparison.

In the wake of this dispute, Rockefeller appointed an 18-member committee, headed by Dr. Richard G. Folsom, president of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, to examine the entire problem of electric power needs.

In its report, made public by the governor's office today, the committee endorsed Rockefeller's concept of having the State Atomic Space and Development Authority assist private utilities in developing nuclear power facilities but said the Power Authority also should have the same advantages.

Respiratory Ills 'Bugging' Those Yule Preparations

By EDITH LEDERER
Associated Press Writer

Influenza and influenza-like respiratory infections are putting a bug in Christmas preparations from Oklahoma to Maryland.

Across the Midwest, mid-South and mid-Atlantic states, outbreaks of various respiratory ailments—many as yet unidentified—have forced schools to close early and businesses to curtail activity.

Though the "bugs" have left some last-minute Christmas shoppers with sore throats, fever, aches and chest pains, their arrival was not totally unexpected.

Last summer, the government's Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta forecast an influenza epidemic in the eastern United States this winter.

Unfortunately, the prediction appears to be coming true. Flu in the Far West is either nonexistent or below normal. In the East and Midwest, however, several epidemics and near-epidemics are already in full swing.

Epidemic Proportions

In Michigan Asian flu was reported reaching near epidemic proportions in the southeastern corner of the state—the populous Detroit area—after soaring close to epidemic levels in the rest of lower Michigan, state health authorities reported.

Several thousand school children in scattered parts of the state were out of class because of the ailment and schools in some sections of the state closed indefinitely because of flu outbreaks.

Officials said, however, that the end of the outbreak was expected soon. It began several weeks ago at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo, where, officials said several thousand students missed classes because of illness due to Asian flu virus.

Alabama Health Officer Ira L. Myers, said his state was in the throes of an influenza epidemic, with 2,761 cases of influenza and 10,418 cases of influenza-like respiratory disease this week.

where, officials said several thousand students missed classes because of illness due to Asian flu virus.

Alabama Health Officer Ira L. Myers, said his state was in the throes of an influenza epidemic, with 2,761 cases of influenza and 10,418 cases of influenza-like respiratory disease this week.

Dr. R. H. Hutcheson, Tennessee commissioner of public health, described the flu situation in hardest-hit Nashville and Knoxville as a good-size epidemic. But it's just what we've been expecting since July.

In Culpeper County, Va., schools closed for Christmas vacation Tuesday—two days early—after 11 per cent of the teachers and 657 of 4,000 students were absent with flu. Dr. R. S. Legarde, county health officer, labeled the outbreak an "epidemic of viral respiratory diseases."

Last week, the Oklahoma State Health Department described the Asian flu outbreak in the northeast city of Bartlesville as the worst in the nation.

Dr. LeRoy Carpenter, director of the Epidemiology Division, said the State Health Department was taking blood tests of suspected cases in other cities "just to make sure we know about an outbreak as quickly as possible."

Asian Flu Report

In Bergen County, N.J., medical authorities said Tuesday there appeared to be a minor epidemic of Asian flu. Absenteeism in the northern New Jersey county's 16 schools ranged from 10 to 35 per cent.

"The state is full of something," said Dr. Arnold M. Reeve, of the Iowa State Health Department. Though tests to pinpoint the bug have not been completed, he said it looked like a virus other than influenza.

An influenza-like virus running through the Washington, D.C., area raised the absentee rate in some schools to nearly 30 per cent and cut the staffs of some federal agencies. The Department of Agriculture reported Monday that the number of visits to its health unit hit a peak.

In Maryland, a suspected influenza outbreak in Allegany County brought the absentee rate at Allegany High School to a peak of 35 per cent last Friday.

The high school in Hot Springs, Ark., closed for two days last week after 292 of the 464 students were absent with what State Health Department officials described as an outbreak of mild respiratory illness.

Early Vacations

Large-scale flu infections and respiratory illness brought early Christmas vacations to some elementary and high school youngsters in McCook, Neb.; Barnwell, Calhoun and Horry Counties, S.C.; and Madison County and Royston, Ga.

College students at Peru State College in Nebraska and Sullivan County Community College in Fallsburg, N.Y. were also sent home with earlier-than-usual holiday vacations after widespread outbreaks of respiratory infections.

In Louisiana, Minnesota, the New York metropolitan area, Atlanta, northeast Georgia and Dade County, Fla., respiratory ailments were also reported on the upswing.

As for business, Dr. Joseph Bistowish, director of the Nashville (Tenn.) Health Department, said many firms had been hurt by absenteeism. "In fact, we've had quite a few missing from our offices at the health department because of the flu."

"It is in the public interest to provide for the maximum utilization of the authority's existing hydroelectric facilities, to provide for the growth of the consumers the authority has been authorized to serve and to meet the needs of such specialized industries as the electro-chemical and electro-metallurgical companies, for whom authority low-cost power represents a major inducement to remain or expand in the State of New York."

His official comment was that he was "grateful" for the committee's work. He said the recommendations make "an important contribution toward our future power program."

Rockefeller's office said the governor was neither endorsing nor rejecting the committee's proposals, at this time.

Chief Murphy Endorses the Coffee-Stop Program

Robert F. Murphy, Chief of Police today announced his support of the National Coffee Safety Stop Program, a nationwide effort to help reduce traffic accidents by getting drivers to stop for free coffee breaks.

"The idea is simple," said Chief Murphy. "Although we have always advised drivers to stop often for rest breaks, especially during long drives such as many of us will be making during the coming Christmas and New Year's weekends, people are usually in such a hurry to get somewhere they put off or ignore the rest break altogether. Because drivers are more inclined to stop for a coffee break than they are to stop for rest breaks, the National Coffee Safety Stop Program is concentrating on making free coffee conveniently available to drivers as the incentive to get them out of their vehicles for a rest stop."

A major participant in the program is the National Restaurant Association, whose member restaurants will serve free coffee to motorists at thousands of highway locations across the nation during both the Christmas and New Year's weekends. Chief Murphy is supporting the safety program as a member of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

Chief Murphy cited similar past programs by the Jaycees and other organizations. He pointed out, however, that this is the first time free coffee will be available to drivers on such a wide scale. "Restaurant owners who will be providing this free coffee service at their own expense are to be congratulated for making possible this significant contribution to the total traffic safety effort," Chief Murphy said.

Chief Murphy took the opportunity to caution drivers to "watch out for the other guy," obey traffic regulations and adjust driving to changing road, weather and visibility conditions.

Romney Slates Talk With Premier Kosygin

MOSCOW (AP) — Gov. George Romney said today his tour of five European capitals, including a long talk with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, "has encouraged me to believe in the possibility of finding a political solution" for the Vietnam war.

The governor added that there will be "no abandonment of Vietnam, no withdrawal."

Romney said Kosygin subordinated all other world problems to Vietnam when they talked for two hours and 10 minutes Tuesday. The Michigan governor, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, said he regarded Kosygin as a reasoned, logical, intelligent individual who spoke clearly to the point. The premier was personally friendly but spoke frankly, Romney said, "has there been any

Federal Food Stamp Program Seen Expanding

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal food stamp program, aimed at boosting the buying power of the poverty-stricken, will be expanded into 388 new areas in 36 states next June 1.

Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman announced the program expansion Tuesday and said it will help some 600,000 people. More than two million already receive such aid.

Under the program, eligible needy can purchase the stamps, which then can be used to buy more food than their original cash outlay would have. For example, $6 worth of stamps will purchase $10 worth of food.

The stamps cannot be used for purchase of nonessentials such as cigarettes or liquor.

As of June 1 the program will be in effect in 43 states and the District of Columbia. Areas in New York and New Jersey are to be affected under the expansion.

Housing Problems Acute

NEW YORK (AP) — For an industry with a long-range future assured by rising population and incomes, housing seems to be unusually beset by short-term problems.

It is, in fact, America's problem industry, and not entirely through its own fault.

Last year tight money forced the industry as close to a depression as it has experienced in the past 20 years. The number of houses on which work was begun fell to the lowest level since World War II despite population increases.

The recovery has been steady since last year's low annual rate of 848,000 private housing starts. Money has again become plentiful and contractors have reassembled crews and are back to work.

The latest figures on housing, released this week, seem to indicate a healthy giant, and maybe it is. Housing starts in November rose for the fifth straight month, reaching an annual rate of 1,556,000 units, nearly 72 per cent higher than the 1966 low.

But, coincidental with these figures are some less encouraging symptoms: mortgage interest has now risen to its highest rate of the year, prices are up and housing permits, which foretell future construction, are lower.

In other words, housing may be headed for trouble once again, with money once more the disease in a body that otherwise might be in roaring good health.

This is what new home purchasers were offered in October: interest rate, 6.52 per cent; length of loan, 24.4 years; loan to purchase price ratio, 74 per cent; and purchase price, $27,500.

These are averages from the Federal Home Loan Bank

Board, and include rather widely differing rates for savings and loan associations, life insurance companies, mortgage companies and commercial and mutual savings banks. But, as averages, they still tell a story.

Average interest rates actually were lower in October than a year earlier, but a steady increase for several weeks accelerated in November, and rates now are near last year's high.

In addition, home prices have risen $1,800 in one year. Partially offsetting these costlier factors are steadily rising incomes for most families, more jobs and less unemployment.

Few analysts believe, however, that these financial pluses offset the higher costs of buying a home.

The most disturbing aspect of the present situation is that the demand for housing is building up powerfully and, if mortgages were available at more reasonable rates, would amount to a boom.

The biggest demand, potentially, is from the large number of persons born immediately after World War II. Another source of demand is from the great number of families which last year postponed purchases.

As a result, vacancy rates are now at their lowest of the 1960s, a fact that can be established in many areas of the country simply by checking the number of units vacant in any large apartment house.

Hudela Heads 854th Group

Maj. Bronislaw S. Hudela has recently been appointed commanding officer of the 854th Engineer Battalion, U.S. Army Reserves, with headquarters in Kingston. Maj. Hudela has served in this position since the departure of former commander Maj. Peter T. Sowa (Ret) in July. The battalion has companies in Kingston, Poughkeepsie, Bullville, and Monticello with a combined strength of 775 officers and men.

Maj. Hudela was born on August 21, 1918, in New York City and attended New York University. A veteran of over 25 years of military service, Maj. Hudela entered the Army in March, 1941, and was commissioned in the Corps of Engineers in August, 1943, following Officers Candidate School at Ft. Belvoir, Va. He saw service in the United States and the Azores in World War II before entering the Reserves in November, 1945.

He joined the 854th Engineer Battalion in March, 1951, as Battalion Supply Officer. Maj. Hudela had served as Headquarters Company Commander, Battalion Adjutant, and Battalion Executive Officer among other positions before assuming command on July 29, 1967.

Maj. Hudela has been awarded the Army Commendation Medal, the American Defense Service Medal, the European-African-Middle East Campaign Medal, the World War II Victory Medal, and the Armed Forces Reserve Medal.

Married and the father of four children, Maj. Hudela resides at 198 Washington Avenue. He is employed by the IBM Corp. in Poughkeepsie.

Federal Food Stamp Program Seen Expanding

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal food stamp program, aimed at boosting the buying power of the poverty-stricken, will be expanded into 388 new areas in 36 states next June. Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman announced the program expansion Tuesday and said it will help some 600,000 people. More than two million already receive such aid.

Under the program, eligible needy can purchase the stamps, which then can be used to buy more food than their original cash outlay would have. For example, $6 worth of stamps will purchase $10 worth of food.

The stamps cannot be used for purchase of nonessentials such as cigarettes or liquor.

As of June 1 the program will be in effect in 41 states and the District of Columbia. Areas in New York and New Jersey are to be affected under the expansion.

Housing Problems Acute

NEW YORK (AP) — For an industry with a long-range future assured by rising population and incomes, housing seems to be unusually beset by short-term problems.

It is, in fact, America's problem industry, and not entirely through its own fault.

Last year tight money forced the industry as close to a depression as it has experienced in the past 20 years. The number of houses on which work was begun fell to the lowest level since World War II despite population increases.

The recovery has been steady since last year's low annual rate of 848,000 private housing starts. Money has again become plentiful and contractors have reassembled crews and are back to work.

The latest figures on housing, released this week, seem to indicate a healthy giant, and maybe it is. Housing starts in November rose for the fifth straight month, reaching an annual rate of 1,556,000 units, nearly 72 per cent higher than the 1966 low.

But, coincidental with these figures are some less encouraging symptoms: mortgage interest has now risen to its highest rate of the year, prices are up and housing permits, which foretell future construction, are lower.

In other words, housing may be headed for trouble once again, with money once more the disease in a body that otherwise might be in roaring good health.

This is what new home purchasers were offered in October: interest rate, 6.52 per cent; length of loan, 24.4 years; loan to purchase price ratio, 74 per cent; and, purchase price, $27,500.

These are averages from the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, and include rather widely differing rates for savings and loan associations, life insurance companies, mortgage companies and commercial and mutual savings banks. But, as averages, they still tell a story.

Average interest rates actually were lower in October than a year earlier, but a steady increase for several weeks accelerated in November, and rates now are near last year's high. In addition, home prices have risen $1,800 in one year.

Partially offsetting these costlier factors are steadily rising incomes for most families, more jobs and less unemployment. Few analysts believe, however, that these financial pluses offset the higher costs of buying a home.

The most disturbing aspect of the present situation is that the demand for housing is building up powerfully and, if mortgages were available at more reasonable rates, would amount to a boom.

The biggest demand, potentially, is from the large number of persons born immediately after World War II. Another source of demand is from the great number of families which last year postponed purchases.

As a result, vacancy rates are now at their lowest of the 1960s, a fact that can be established in many areas of the country simply by checking the number of units vacant in any large apartment house.

Hudela entered the Army in March, 1941, and was commissioned in the Corps of Engineers in August, 1943, following Officers Candidate School at Ft. Belvoir, Va. He saw service in the United States and the Azores in World War II before entering the Reserves in November, 1945.

He joined the 854th Engineer Battalion in March, 1951, as Battalion Supply Officer. Maj. Hudela had served as Headquarters Company Commander, Battalion Adjutant, and Battalion Executive Officer among other positions before assuming command on July 29, 1967.

Maj. Hudela has been awarded the Army Commendation Medal, the American Defense Service Medal, the European-African-Middle East Campaign Medal, the World War II Victory Medal, and the Armed Forces Reserve Medal.

LADY BIRD PARTY — Carrying on her social duties while the President is on a trip to Australia, lady Bird Johnson gave a Christmas party for some 200 underprivileged children — from the Washington and Baltimore areas Tuesday at the White House. That Immortal Reply

Yes, There Is A Santa Claus

NORTH CHATHAM, N.Y. (AP) — Seventy years ago, a worried eight-year-old girl asked The New York Sun to "Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?"

That question and the editorial reply of Sept. 21, 1897, have immortalized her name — Virginia — and tied it irrevocably with Christmas.

Now 78, Mrs. Virginia O'Hanlon Douglas looks forward to spending the holiday with her large family, including great grandchildren. Virginia wrote The Sun that "Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says, 'If you see it in The Sun, it's so.'"

Saw It in Print — And Virginia saw it in The Sun. "Yes Virginia, there is a Santa Claus," in an editorial written by Francis P. Church.

"He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist . . ." it said. How dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus. It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias.

Mrs. Douglas hasn't stopped believing.

After being with children for 43 years as a public school teacher and principal, and now as a great grandmother, "I still can't help but see it as they do."

Like the Virginia of 1897, Mrs. Douglas is looking forward to many surprises this Christmas. "I am very fortunate," she said,

"to have a wonderful daughter who anticipates all the things I want."

Lives Near Albany — Mrs. Douglas, a widow, now lives with her only daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Temple in this picturesque hamlet southeast of Albany. She has been ill for the last few years and her doctor has told her to avoid excitement.

But she still finds her large family very rewarding, and is particularly happy to have her youngest relatives around her. A great granddaughter, Barbara Anne Lee, 3, is excitedly anticipating Santa's arrival, she said, and a granddaughter, Patricia, 12, is making presents for the family.

Asked about commercialism in Christmas she replied, "I think there is still a great deal of the old spirit."

She also expressed hope that the next generation would inherit a better world than their fathers did.

Says Off-Duty Cop Nearby as Singer Fell

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP) — A Los Angeles police investigator says singer Jimmie Rodgers apparently suffered his serious head injury as an off-duty police officer stood by. The officer had stopped Rodgers after seeing him driving erratically.

Lt. Pierce R. Brooks said an inquiry established that Rodgers fell early the morning of Dec. 1 as he stood talking to officer M.P. Duffy. He said Rodgers struck the back of his head, fracturing his skull.

Brooks said Duffy had stopped Rodgers by honking his horn and blinking his lights upon seeing the singer's car making U-turns on the freeway. "There was no one person responsible for Mr. Rodgers' falling," Brooks said. He added that there was "no criminality" involved.

Brooks said Rodgers' head could have struck the asphalt or a large metal manhole cover.

He said an investigation is continuing into the actions of Duffy and two on-duty uniformed policemen he summoned to the scene.

Tuesday's disclosures were the first indication that police knew how Rodgers had been injured. A police statement Dec. 7 said officers had checked him and left him in his car, apparently asleep.

Rodgers subsequently underwent two operations to remove pressure on his brain. In one of them a section of his skull was removed.

An administrator at Glendale Community Hospital said today Rodgers is "perfectly lucid" but "not out of danger yet." He said Rodgers recalls nothing of the events surrounding his injury and has not been interviewed by police.

Brooks refused to say if he knew how Rodgers got back in his car, where he was found by a friend about an hour later.

Typical Yule List For Ulsterites

DEAR SANTA: I have been such a good county all year, especially giving all that Medicare money away. So I was wondering if you would remember me with a few things for Christmas.

Please bring me:

For Mayor Garraghan, a long-playing record of Petula Clark's "Downtown" to be played at all Common Council meetings on the new City Hall.

For the Common Council, fire nets to catch all the papers that fly out of the windows during Council meetings in the chamber.

For the Board of Supervisors, a geiger counter in order that they may locate the missing Virginia brick.

For the GOP, a Channelmaster antenna so they can tune in on Congressman Resnick's thought waves.

For Bobbie Kennedy's waves, some greasy kid stuff.

For Rosendale's Supervisor De Felice and Mayor Reid, a 24-hour a day hot line.

For Harry Thayer, a WGHQ annex on lower Broadway so he can keep all "those lonesome folks" at the Freeman company.

For Stone Ridge, an erector set so the folks down there can build their own 209 super-duper bypass.

For the Wall Street Hippies, "his" and "her" signs to wear while standing on the street.

For the Kingston Board of Education, a carpentry set so it will be able to build a booth for the next Chamber of Commerce exhibit.

For Rosendale, another string of Christmas lights for Main Street just in case the other one blows out.

For Woodstock, wall-to-wall carpeting of all village streets so the place can really be called one big pad.

For Saugerties, a brand of water that runs uphill.

And, please dear Santa, don't forget a washing machine and a hot water heater for the little old lady who has been caught occasionally "washing out a few things" in the ladies' room of the County Office Building.

Greer Lists Suggestions For Safe Holiday Season

The holiday season is fast approaching and in order to help insure that all of our residents enjoy them safely Capt. Hugh Greer of the fire prevention bureau of the Kingston Fire Department offers the following suggestions.

Make sure that the Christmas tree you buy is fresh cut. Saw the trunk off at an angle at least one inch above the original cut. Use a stand that provides a water well. Keep this well filled at all times. To keep the tree moist add to each pint of water used one tablespoon of boric acid and one tablespoon of sugar. Use foil or flame resistant materials to cover the tree stand.

If you use an old sheet first dip it in a solution of nine ounces of pure borax plus four ounces of boric acid to a gallon of water, then wring by hand, hang to dry, and iron if Broadway.

you wish. Check the wiring on all strings of lights for bare spots, bad sockets or plugs. On all displays use a fire retardant solution using the same formula as used with the sheet. Avoid putting a tree where it cuts off or blocks an exit. Just remember that the few minutes taken to observe good safety practices will insure that the entire family will enjoy a safe and happy holiday season.

Mental Health Group Lauded for Services

Members of the Ulster County Association for Mental Health have been commended for many contributions to the volunteer service program at the Middletown State Hospital.

Among the many projects sponsored by the local organization are the monthly bus between Kingston and the hospital, occasional individual transportation for a patient or relative to or from the hospital.

The annual concert given at the hospital by the Lyric Chorus of Kingston is also a volunteer service sponsored by the Association.

Still No Pardon

LONDON (AP) — Sir Thomas More, who was beheaded because he would not recognize Henry VIII as head of the English church, will not be granted a pardon, Home Secretary James Callaghan has ruled 400 years later.

Benjamin Whitaker, a Roman Catholic member of parliament, suggested that More, who was convicted of high treason, be given a posthumous pardon because he had succeeded Cardinal Wolsey as Lord Chancellor of England.

Callaghan gave no reason for his refusal.

More, whose life was dramatized in the play and the movie "A Man for All Seasons," lived from 1478 to 1535, when he was beheaded on King Henry's order. He had succeeded Cardinal Wolsey as Lord Chancellor of England.

NEW YORK (AP) — Gains had the edge over losses in early stock market trading Wednesday.

The plus signs outnumbered minuses by 100 issues or so, but the list still continued under the spell of yearend tax selling operations and switching.

The Dow Jones industrial average was up .81 at 882.17, a trifling gain.

Selected issues showed strength. Among these were Monogram Industries, up about 3, Marathon Oil, up 2 and Addressograph, up more than a point.

The economic background continued right, including a sharp November rise in new factory orders for durable goods and news that Christmas retail sales are running ahead of a year ago.

IBM came back another couple of points from recent selling. Alcoa rose a point or so.

Twentieth Century Fox dropped a point.

General Electric gained a fraction following forecast by GE's top executives of rising capital spending for GE and U.S. business in general next year.

Opening blocks included: American Telephone, up 1/4 at 49 1/2 on 10,000 shares; Universal Oil Products, up 2 1/2 at 94 on 2,000; and Monsanto, off 1/4 at 43 1/2 on 9,900.

On Tuesday The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell .7 to 314.6.

Prices were irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange. Changes were fractional.

PULLED FROM WELL — Mud-splattered John Lipscomb, 62, wears a wan look shortly after he was pulled from a 22-foot well where he was trapped for over six hours on Tuesday. The elderly well-digger was trapped when the well walls collapsed pinning him under mounds of muck and rock. He was not believed to be seriously injured. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Successful Investing....

Investment Advisor & Analyst
Price Range Is Not Significant

Q—I well remember when you suggested King's Department Stores at 16. Since then its price has doubled and I have made a large profit. I also bought American Photocopy at a good price on the fact that you liked the management of the company and believed that it had turned the corner in profits. I would appreciate your recommending another stock in the 16-25 range for market appreciation. My finances are in good order, but I do not want any highly speculative issues.

—W. W.
A—I greatly appreciate your implied compliment and I am pleased that your two stocks have worked out well for you. I do not ordinarily recommend issues simply because they are selling at any particular price range. Long experience has taught me that a $10 stock may be high priced while a $100 issue may offer very good value. The market has moved up considerably since you made your purchases and there are no longer so many good shares available in the 16-25 price range. There is a stock selling close to your upper limit which had good possibilities on its threefold position in semiconductors, medical electronics and drugs. The issue is International Restifier, a West Coast company which has shown good earnings gains in recent years. I commend it to you, in your particular circumstances.

Q—Can you tell me if there are any mutual funds specializing in tax-exempt bonds?—E. E.

A—There are a number of good mutual funds which invest entirely in tax-exempt bonds. I believe that the largest and best known is the Nuveen Tax-Exempt Bond Fund, sponsored by a respected municipal firm, John Nuveen & Co., 209 S. LaSalle St., Chicago, Ill. I suggest you write directly to them for information about what series are available and about sales charges.

Carols Echoing In Dutchess Hospital Halls

Happiness is Christmas carols in the dimly-lit hallways and the scent of freshly-cut evergreens, the jingle of bells, Christmas cookies and, if it can be arranged, a gentle snowfall on Christmas Eve.

Happiness is not spending the Christmas holidays in a hospital, no matter how good the reason. But the sight and sounds and spirit of Christmas have a way of lightening the heaviest heart.

Hospital employees, especially those at Northern Dutchess Hospital, know what it means to spend Christmas away from home. Increased efforts are being made to make this Christmas a happy one for those patients who will have to stay here.

Special meals are being prepared in the kitchen and the patients' meal trays will be given the Christmas look with seasonal tray favors donated by local groups.

Open Passage

Bypassing the St. Lawrence Rapids and Niagara Falls, the St. Lawrence Seaway permits passage of big ocean-going ships all the way from the Atlantic Ocean to Chicago and Duluth.

Carolers have added a musical note to the decorations in the hallways. Sixteen girls from the Anderson School entertained the patients and staff Tuesday, Dec. 12 and during Christmas Week the Pioneer Girls from the First Baptist Church, Rhinebeck; the novices from St. Joseph's Novitiate, Barrytown, and a Rhinebeck teen-age youth group will visit the hospital to sing carols and popular Christmas songs.

Winding up the year for the employees is their annual Christmas party this week in the Nurses' Home. A buffet will be served.

PULLED FROM WELL — Mud-splattered John Lipscomb, 62, wears a wan look shortly after he was pulled from a 22-foot well where he was trapped for over six hours on Tuesday. The elderly well-digger was trapped when the well walls collapsed pinning him under mounds of muck and rock. He was not believed to be seriously injured. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Price Range Is Not Significant

Q—I well remember when you suggested King's Department Stores at 16. Since then its price has doubled and I have made a large profit. I also bought American Photocopy at a good price on the fact that you liked the management of the company and believed that it had turned the corner in profits. I would appreciate your recommending another stock in the 16-25 range for market appreciation. My finances are in good order, but I do not want any highly speculative issues.

W. W. A—I greatly appreciate your implied compliment and I am pleased that your two stocks have worked out well for you. I do not ordinarily recommend issues simply because they are selling at any particular price range. Long experience has taught me that a $10 stock may be high priced while a $100 issue may offer very good value. The market has moved up considerably since you made your purchases and there are no longer so many good shares available in the 16-25 price range. There is a stock selling close to your upper limit which had good possibilities on its threefold position in simiconductors, medical electronics and drugs. The issue is International Rectifier, a West Coast company which has shown good earnings gains in recent years. I commend it to you, in your particular circumstances.

Q—Can you tell me if there are any mutual funds specializing in tax-exempt bonds?

E. E. A—There are a number of good mutual funds which invest entirely in tax-exempt bonds. I believe that the largest and best known is the Nuveen Tax-Exempt Bond Fund, sponsored by a respected municipal firm, John Nuveen & Co., 209 S. LaSalle St., Chicago, Ill. I suggest you write directly to them for information about what series are available and about sales charges.

Carols Echoing In Dutchess Hospital Halls

Happiness is Christmas carols in the dimly-lit hallways and the scent of freshly-cut evergreens, the jingle of bells, Christmas cookies and, if it can be arranged, a gentle snowfall on Christmas Eve.

Happiness is not spending the Christmas holidays in a hospital, no matter how good the reason. But the sight and sounds and spirit of Christmas have a way of lightening the heaviest heart.

Hospital employees, especially those at Northern Dutchess Hospital, know what it means to spend Christmas away from home. Increased efforts are being made to make this Christmas a happy one for those patients who will have to stay here.

Special meals are being prepared in the kitchen and the patients' meal trays will be given the Christmas look with seasonal tray favors donated by local groups.

Open Passage Bypassing the St. Lawrence Rapids and Niagara Falls, the St. Lawrence Seaway permits passage of big ocean-going ships all the way from the Atlantic Ocean to Chicago and Duluth.

Carolers have added a musical note to the decorations in the hallways. Sixteen girls from the Anderson School entertained the patients and staff Tuesday, Dec. 12 and during Christmas Week the Pioneer Girls from the First Baptist Church, Rhinebeck; the novices from St. Joseph's Novitiate, Barrytown, and a Rhinebeck teen-age youth group will visit the hospital to sing carols and popular Christmas songs.

Winding up the year for the employees is their annual Christmas party this week in the Nurses' Home. A buffet will be served.

Post College Denies Reported Firings

NEW YORK (AP) — A union representative said Tuesday night that close to 100 service employees at the C.W. Post College of Long Island University were fired for attempting to unionize.

The university chancellor said the statement is simply not true, and he said that any of the workers who wanted to work could report today.

The firings, according to Harold G. Israelson, counsel for the Building Service Employees International Union, came after the workers voted to be represented by the union's Local 100.

Israelson said the vote was 10-to-1 in favor of the union on a secret ballot arranged by the LIU Chancellor R. Gordon Hoxie.

Hoxie, reached at his home in Old Westbury, said a vote was taken by the workers Sunday, but a majority was not present and the vote of the minority was 3-40-1.

He asserted that the workmen next June.

were subject to "coercion, threats, intimidation and roughing up" by the organizers and said that students also had been roughed up.

Those who desire to go to work will have an opportunity to do so in the morning," Hoxie said Tuesday night.

"They are scared," he said, adding that it was decided to let them appear singly, with protection, to indicate whether they want to work.

Israelson accused Hoxie of firing the workers "because he didn't like the result of the election he arranged."

"He refused to meet with union representatives," Israelson said. "When the employees then refused to meet with him as individuals without the union representatives, he sent each a telegram announcing they were fired."

Hoxie said that the university has unionized employees on all its campuses and "we work cordially with them."

The Post College workers, he said, voted against unionizing in a two-year contract running to

Post College Denies Reported Firings

NEW YORK (AP) — A union representative said Tuesday night that close to 100 service employees at the C.W. Post College of Long Island University were fired for attempting to unionize.

The university chancellor said the statement is simply not true, and he said that any of the workers who wanted to work could report today.

The firings, according to Harold G. Israelson, counsel for the Building Service Employees International Union, came after the workers voted to be represented by the union's Local 100.

Israelson said the vote was 10-to-1 in favor of the union on a secret ballot arranged by the LIU Chancellor R. Gordon Hoxie.

Hoxie, reached at his home in Old Westbury, said a vote was taken by the workers Sunday, but a majority was not present and the vote of the minority was 3-to-1.

He asserted that the workmen next June.

Those who desire to go to work will have an opportunity to do so in the morning," Hoxie said Tuesday night.

"They are scared," he said, adding that it was decided to let them appear singly, with protection, to indicate whether they want to work.

Israelson accused Hoxie of firing the workers "because he didn't like the result of the election he arranged."

"He refused to meet with union representatives," Israelson said. "When the employees then refused to meet with him as individuals without the union representatives, he sent each a telegram announcing they were fired."

Hoxie said that the university has unionized employees on all its campuses and "we work cordially with them."

The Post College workers, he said, voted against unionizing in a two-year contract running to 3-to-1.

He asserted that the workmen next June.

Holiday Skits Featured at Finn

Skits and music of the season marked Christmas celebrations at the Sophie G. Finn School, Mary's Avenue, Monday.

The first and second grades presented a skit about Christmas celebrations of different people. Narrators included Faith Budington, Barbara Lowe, Jack Wrixon and Patricia Jaffer. Costumes were worn by William Merrill, Jacqueline Peters, John Ambrose, Christine Murphy and Patricia Cernone.

A skit entitled When Pop Buys the Christmas Tree was performed by the third grades. Actors included Shelley Anderson, David Ryan, Elizabeth Shults, Joseph Kivlan and Lisa Tiano.

Grades four, five and six presented a play entitled, The Choir Boy Who Couldn't Sing by Charles B. Fowler. The play tells the story of a boy who wanted to sing but couldn't and how one night he had a vision and suddenly learned how to sing. The following Christmas he was able to sing a solo with the choir.

Principals were William Chaffin, Danny Bittner, Wayne Persico, Michael Barbosa, David Lawrence, Donald Ryan, Dianna Coley, Veronica Throneburg, Sandra Williams, Vicki Wrixon and Robert Houghtaling. The narration was done by Susan Rua and the drum and cymbal part was played by India and Betty Fitzgerald. Stagehands included Pat Donnelly, Richard Inge, John Shults, Todd Wonderly and Justin Prendergast.

The play and music was directed by Cecelia Keehn. Assisting her were Ann Lyons and Linda Pope. Scenery and props were designed and made by William Slavin and Carolyn Gettleton. Costumes were made by the parents.

Former Boys Staters At Academies

Thirty per cent of the U. S. Military Academy Class of 1971 and 18 per cent of the U. S. Naval Academy class of the same year are former Boys Staters.

These facts were revealed by speakers who were guest speakers at the recent 32nd Annual American Legion Boys State conference held at National Headquarters, Indianapolis, and attended by 103 American Legion Boys' State directors and members representing 38 state departments.

During the two-day meeting of the delegates, presided over by Missouri Boys' state director, Charles F. Hamilton, thrashed out problems existing within their programs, exchanged methods and discussed the 1968 program.

Boys State programs across the nation are staffed by about 350 (mostly volunteer) directors, chairmen and members on a year-round basis. But this figure rises sharply with the addition of other personnel during Boys' State weeks.

Fifty State Departments sponsor programs and in 1967, the number of boys participating was 28,936, led by Ohio with 1355 enrollments. The total operating cost for 1967 by all Boys State was nearly $14 million dollars. For the first time, Alaska was represented. Hawaii is the only national department that does not have a program but is expected they will have one in 1968.

The Department of New York was host to 1058 boys at Boys State in 1967, held at New York State University at Morrisville. As construction is completed on several new dormitories and other buildings at Morrisville, more boys will be able to attend Boys State in this state.

Among the guests at the conference were Alan L. Keyes, 17, 1967 Boys' nation president (and legion national high school oratorical champion for 1967); Capt. James Mathison (USA) and Maj. Charles Johnson (USA) U.S. Military Academy, West Point; and Lt. V. R. Clark, (USN) Naval Academy, Annapolis.

Lt. Clark said the Naval Academy is well aware of Boys State as a promising source for applicants and further stressed the academy's desire to cooperate with the program by sending a midshipman to each Boys State. He noted that 18 per cent or 250 of the students in the Class of '71 at Annapolis are former Boys Staters.

At West Point, which has been connected with the program for more than ten years, former Boys' Staters make up 31 per cent of its '71 Class, according to Capt. Mathison.

Thruway Vacancy to Exist, Lawley Will Decline Job

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The line for an impending vacancy on the State Thruway Authority began forming again today as word leaked out that James R. (Ray) Lawley won't take the post, after all.

Republican party sources reported last week that Lawley, the Erie County GOP chairman, had put in a strong bid for the coveted patronage post and that Gov. Rockefeller had given his approval.

Rockefeller had planned to announce Lawley's appointment Monday as successor to another Buffalo Republican, former Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney, who is moving to the State Supreme Court on Jan. 1.

But, the same sources reported Tuesday that Lawley had notified Rockefeller and State Chairman Charles A. Schoenbeck that he would not accept the $17,000-a-year job, explaining he wanted to be free to concentrate his attention on Republican party affairs in the Buffalo area.

It was understood, however, that Lawley also was wary of unfavorable reaction among GOP colleagues in his county.

The Country Wife

By DOROTHY VAN DOREN

As this is written a man in Capetown, South Africa, is alive with another person's heart transplanted in his body, although by the time these words are printed he may be dead. If he dies it will be because his body rejects the foreign organ. This marvelous operation, one of the miracles of modern medicine, might have taken place in other places—in New York or Boston, in London or Berlin. American doctors are admiring but not surprised. What is surprising to a layman is that nobody remarked on the fact that the transplanted heart was that of a young woman. Common humanity was more important than a difference of sex.

There was a time, not so long ago, in certain hospitals, when blood plasma from Negroes was kept separate from that of the white masters of the universe. Black blood was assumed to be "inferior." Doctors in the military services disregard this old wives' tale and probably the hospitals that accepted it once have forgotten it by now. But it is worth remembering that if a Negro now is in certain areas not a person, a woman was so for many centuries. Not only was she considered intellectually inferior, not fit to own property or to have control of her own person, she was thought not to be worth educating. An article in the Encyclopedia Britannica to this effect was published early in the nineteenth century. In those days a woman's heart would have been a dubious risk for a man.

It is interesting that the heart

A carnival has been scheduled for Wednesday, Dec. 27, for synagogue children of all ages. The carnival will be sponsored by the National Conference of Synagogue Youth and will take place during the morning and afternoon.

The Mature Parent

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

ADMIT TO BEING A 'BAD ONE, AND CRITICS ARE SILENCED

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: My husband is an only child. Since his father's death two years ago, his mother is at him all the time for neglecting her. Though we spend as much time with her as we can, it is never enough. As soon as the time comes to say goodby, she starts to complain about how lonely she'll be till he sees her again. He is so upset after seeing her he can't sleep. Mrs. Lawrence, he is a good son but she's out to make him feel like a bad one.

ANSWER: Then he'd better decide to be a bad one, because the only way of shutting off her flow of criticism is cheerful agreement with it.

Accusing people like her feel themselves to be quite worthless. So they've got to make us feel worthless, too. That's what makes it a waste of time to even try to defend ourselves against their fault-finding. The fact is, the more nervously we try to defend ourselves, the happier they are. For in our nervous self-defense, they read our desire for their approval of us as good, right and generally virtuous creatures. But if we cheerfully agree that we are as bad and wrong as they say we are, their accusations fall flat.

I know that such cheerful agreement with a critical relative can turn off the flow of reproaches because I've used it myself to do it.

The relative was not my mother but a sister of hers. For this aunt I could do nothing right. I could utter no opinion that wasn't instantly contradicted. And for some time I tried to deal with this compulsive accuser by "explaining" how good had been my intentions and how merited her moral approval. Then, one day, when I'd been told how bad and wrong was something I'd done, I said, "You are undoubtedly correct. I do everything wrong. What's more, I am going to continue to. So now let's settle for me as an unregenerate person whom you cannot improve."

That ended the criticism. It replaced my accuser's desire to make me feel worthless with fear of me as a moral stranger. And that is the point, you see.

Biscuit Prices Vary
Biscuits and rolls packed in tubes and sold from refrigerated cases at the supermarkets vary a great deal in price depending upon the type you buy, says Louise M. Kakargo, Extension Home Economist. Eight ounces of oven-ready biscuits cost 10 cents and yield 10 biscuits. Each biscuit costs a penny. Eight ounce crescent flaky rolls also weight eight ounces but cost 35 cents for the tube. Each roll costs over four cents. The list of ingredients on the two packages reads almost alike except for the dehydrated onions, vegetable oil, and dried egg yolk added to the crescent rolls. Homemakers with an eye to economy might purchase the plain biscuits and add a bit of dried, fresh onion and some vegetable oil to the top of each biscuit to duplicate the flavor of the crescent rolls at one-fourth the price.

Almost one-quarter of all the candy and chewing gum sold in the United States is purchased in grocery stores. If you find food bills on the increase, it may be that more gum and candy are ending up in your market basket each week. In 1966, the average American ate 19 pounds of candy, which is the largest amount on record since 1944 (when sugar-rationed citizens were satisfying their sweet tooth at candy counters). The trend indicates that candy consumption will continue to rise as disposable personal incomes rise, and as the 14 to 20-year age group grows larger.

FOOD PRICES—The U. S. Department of Agriculture recently released an analysis of what's happening to food prices this year. Retail food prices are averaging about the same as in 1966. But prices for food in restaurants are averaging around five per cent above 1966. Putting these two facts together places 1967 total retail food prices at about one per cent above last year's. This compares with a three per cent increase in prices for other consumer goods and services.

Next year's outlook for food prices is less favorable. Retail food prices are expected to increase around two to three per cent. Forecasters expect our demand for food to continue upward in 1968, but they do not expect supplies to expand.

MEATS—There will be an abundance of turkeys between now and Christmas and then some, so watch for continuing low-priced specials. Broilers are also available at favorable prices. When you shop for red meats, you may expect lamb to be higher in price than last December, owing to reduced supplies. Beef and veal prices will probably be only a little higher than last December, prices will be lower.

VEGETABLES—Celery prices advanced recently, reflecting heavy holiday demand for the vegetable. Green pepper prices have also been high, because the Texas crop was delayed by the hurricane and the Florida crop is just starting to come to market. But shoppers will find numerous fresh vegetables abundant and relatively low in price.

McGovern Blasts Military Leader

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George S. McGovern describes as "irresponsible and irrelevant" what he calls a bid by the top U.S. military leader to charge antiwar dissenters with fueling North Vietnam's victory hopes.

McGovern, a South Dakota Democrat and war policy critic, said Tuesday that Gen. Earle G. Wheeler is "blaming Hanoi's refusal to surrender on American critics of U.S. Vietnam policy."

He referred to a Detroit speech Sunday in which Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said Americans have a right to dissent "but they also have a responsibility to recognize and acknowledge what their dissent means." Wheeler said Hanoi is counting on dissent to change U.S. policy.

"The Pentagon and State Department are running out of excuses," said McGovern, "so now they are blaming the failure of their policy on those who warned all along that it wouldn't work."

"Some of us believe that this war is not in the national interest and that our sons are being made the victims of a misguided diplomacy and military strategy," said McGovern, adding that violence is the best means of effecting change.

The report was the result of a three-day conference of American scholars of Asia who met in Tuxedo, N.Y., under auspices of the new Freedom House Public Affairs Institute.

NICE ASSIGNMENT — Luscious, mini-skirted screen queen Raquel Welch gets help from four enthusiastic GIs as she performs on the Bob Hope show at the U. S. base at

Disneyland Greets Christmas Season

BY GENE HANDSAKER

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — Mickey Mouse whammed a 10-foot-high bass drum as Cinderella rode in an enormous pumpkin coach. In a special, one-night-only prelude, Gregory Peck read the scripture—"Unto you is born a savior"—and 800 choristers sang of joy to the world.

Thus Christmas arrived last Saturday night at Disneyland in a light rain defied by participants and hundreds of spectators. And the late, shrewd showman-founder, Walt Disney, would have been delighted at this third annual edition of his $500,000 creation, "Fantasy on Parade."

Keeps Customers Coming
The twice-a-day, Christmas-season pageant, starring 40 years of dancing Disney characters from little pigs to Mary Poppins, is only a segment of kaleidoscopic special attractions that keep customers coming back all year.

"Disneyland is a show, and you can't run the same show year in and year out," says marketing director Jack Lindquist, one of the bright young lieutenants who carry on the Disney tradition.

During Easter vacation there are special stage shows and parades. June brings 11 p.m.-to-5 a.m. graduation parties—seven nights of them this year with a total attendance of 75,000 youngsters bussed directly from high school auditoriums, some with diplomas still in hand.

Big companies and unions book the whole park for private parties on Friday and Saturday nights from September through May. The cost—from a minimum $22,500 for 6,000 people to $51,000 for 16,000—usually is shared by company and employees. For the first time, all weekend nights this season already are taken.

Disney staffers polled departing customers last month, asking: "Have you ever visited Disneyland before?" Nearly 60 per cent said yes. Among Southern Californians the percentage was 78.6.

Lloyd Crash Cuts Power, Phone Service

Two persons were injured as the result of highway accidents investigated by Highland State Police, who reported one mishap caused a power failure and interruption in telephone service in the Town of Lloyd area.

Troopers said Conrad J. Yantz, 19, of North Elting Corners Road, Highland, was driving his car along Old New Paltz Road, when an unidentified vehicle overtook him and forced his car off the pavement. The car crashed through guard rails and knocked down a utility pole.

Trooper Jerry Henne reported telephone and high-tension wires fell with the pole causing a power failure that lasted about an hour and 30 minutes. Yantz was not injured, according to a report of Trooper J. F. Czaplicki.

At 9:35 p. m. Tuesday, Thomas Orr, 60, of Basin Harbor Club, Vergennes, Vt., was injured when hit by a car as he walked along Route 299 west of Route 32. Trooper Henne said Walter Read, 34, of Walker Valley, operator of the car, reported he was driving west on Route 299 when the pedestrian walked from the south shoulder into the path of the vehicle and was hit.

Orr was treated at Benedictine Hospital for bruises of his elbows.

Fred Van Winkler, of Esopus, told troopers at Highland, he was driving east on Old Post Road, in that community, when his car failed to make a curve and left the highway. Troopers said a passenger, Victoria Gaffney, 12, of Esopus, was treated at Kingston Hospital for a cut lip. The mishap occurred at 10 p. m., troopers reported.

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Front Page" is the latest vintage comedy hit to be slated for conversion into a Broadway musical.

The adaptation is being written by Jerome Weidman, the score by Richard Adler. Jose Ferrer is to stage and star in the enterprise.

BAD LUCK: Walking under a ladder was considered to be wrong by early Christians because a ladder leaning against a building formed a triangle... the symbol of the Trinity. Someone who walked through the triangle defied religion. Thus, the superstition of bad luck arose.

Dr. Spock in Moscow

MOSCOW (AP) — Dr. Benjamin Spock, the American pediatrician and antiwar campaigner, told Soviet mothers today their children should be taught to "re-na (Soviet Woman) refrain from violence as a way of settling disputes." Davidson Wildcats Get the Last Laugh

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Some folks laughed when Davidson, beaten in 12 of 27 games last season, made the Top Ten in The Associated Press preseason poll in college basketball.

They're not laughing any more at the Southern Conference Wildcats, who have won seven of eight games and lost only to third-ranked Vanderbilt by two points 81-79 in overtime.

The Wildcats, sixth-ranked in this week's AP poll, made previously unbeaten Temple their latest victims in the final of the Charlotte, N.C., Invitational Tournament Tuesday night.

Paced by the 6-foot-6 Mike Maloy, a sophomore from New York City who was voted the Most Valuable Player of the tournament, the Wildcats downed the Owls from Philadelphia 63-60.

Maloy made only 11 points, but his floor generalship was superb and drew praise from Coach Lefty Driesell. "He's so quick, he's unreal," Driesell said. "He has every move in the book under the hoop."

Fifth-ranked Indiana, Duke, St. Bonaventure, Louisville, Cincinnati, Wyoming and Louisiana State won in other major games.

Indiana, led by Earl Schneider's 25 points, beat Notre Dame 96-91 at Fort Wayne, despite Bob Whitmore's 30 points for the Irish.

On-rushing Duke, another team beaten only by Vanderbilt and that by one point, whipped Princeton 85-79 at Durham, N.C., behind Mike Lewis' 33 points and 20 rebounds.

Bob Lanier and Bill Butler combined for 50 points, each got 25, to lead St. Bonaventure to an 83-77 victory over Seattle in the final of the Tampa, Fla., Invitational.

Louisville beat St. Louis on the road 76-64 as Westley Unself, who finished with 20, broke loose for 18 points in the second half.

Rick Roberson's 25 points paced Cincinnati to a 69-58 home court victory over Southern California. Harry Hall also got 25 to Kingston High's varsity basketball team trounced once mighty Beacon High, 104-83, in a non-league game last night at the Kate Walton Field House.

It was the Maroon's second win in two outings and brought Coach Jack Gilligan's charges up to a sharp peak for Thursday's crucial battle at Arlington Central where 6-10 Scott McCandlish and company await them.

Bulldogs drew first blood, with 6:48 remaining in the first period, on a foul shot by Nate Milligan. Tom Moore and Phil Jackson added baskets to bring the score at 5-0.

Maroon Cagers Hit 56 Per Cent

Kingston High School hit 44 of 79 field attempts for a 56 per cent shooting average against Beacon High last night.

Ray Lindhorst had 4 for 8, with 14 rebounds and 2 assists.

Other stats:
Bruce Gilligan, 11 17, 8 rebounds, 3 assists; A. J. Murphy, 9 13, 4R, 1A; Werner Kolln, 3 4, 5R; Ken Gilligan, 9 12, 2R, 7A; Ed Byman 0 1, 1R; Ted Wood, 6 9, 5R, 1A; Jerry Corrado, 1 3; Charles James, 1 1; Gene Bruno 0 1, 2R.

Chatham Snaps Red Hook Streak

Chatham High school ended Red Hook's three game winning streak with a 73-51 victory last night at Chatham.

Chatham moved out in front 19-13 in the first quarter and was never in trouble after that, as they led by 10, 33-23 at the half.

Chatham's 60 per cent scoring pace was twice as good as Red Hook managed, although the Hookers took more shots.

Red Hook also out-rebounded the winners, Coach Pete Lawson of Red Hook said, "We played a good game, but the ball has to go through the basket."

Scott Wood paced the home team with 22 points. Stan Jacoby was high for Red Hook with 12.

Chatham jayvees took their contest 52-25. Jerry Curcia paced the home side with 16 points.

Coach Lawson said the experimental use of three referees in the game did not seem to make any difference in the play.

Red Hook competes in the Christmas tournament at Marlboro next Wednesday.

Indian Matmen Beat Wallkill

Ontario Central met the challenge of undefeated Marlboro Central (3-0) with its finest game of the season last night, rolling over the Dukes, 82-69, and taking over undisputed possession of first place in the UCAL with a 4-1 record.

The Indians sizzled in the first half on their home boards in Boiceville, racing to 46-28 halftime lead and dominating the contest except for the opening minutes of the third period.

Patrick Sets Pace
Mike Patrick led the Indians with 25 points and put the brakes on Marlboro when the visitors pulled to within 7 points at 53-46 and Mickey Bush, the football quarterback, collected 15 points and led the early assault with 9 points in the first period.

Another fine all 'round performance was turned in by Al Pettinato, the 6-1, junior who dominated the boards and tossed in 15 points. Dale Chauncey with 16 and Fred Middleton with 9 points and solid floor work rounded a fine team effort for Coach Wes Kiesel's Indians, who achieved their highest point total of the season.

McAtee Hits 22
Co-Captain Roy McAtee, a left-handed shooting, 6-foot soph, paced the Dukes with 22 points and sparked Marlboro's resurgence in the third period when they outscored OCS, 20-18.

With OCS leading 46-28, Marlboro picked up 8 fast points by McAtee to start the third quarter. He first hit with a deuce, then bagged a rare 4-pointer, a field and 2 free throws on an intentional foul. Greiner's corner shot reduced Ontario's margin to its lowest point of the night, 49-42.

It was 53-46 Ontario on Dan Marsh's shot for Marlboro, when the Indians ripped off seven straight points to move ahead, 60-46, and were never threatened after that.

A brilliant foul shooting performance contributed to OCS victory. The Indians were 22 for 29 overall, 16 of 19 in the first half.

Patrick converted seven free throws, Chauncey 8 and Middleton 5.

After trading a few baskets, Kingston moved out in front 18-16 at the end of the period.

Maroon led 33-27 with 4:50 gone in the second quarter. Ken Gilligan sank one for Kingston to raise it to 35, and then Kingston began to slow the pace down a little.

Beacon hung on tenaciously in the third quarter, trading baskets with Kingston and holding the scoring in the period almost even at 27-26, favor of Kingston. Maroon outscored the Bulldogs 34-21 in the final period. Bruce Gilligan put in an outside shot that brought the score to 101-81 with 0:36 left in the game.

Beacon's use of three different defenses made it difficult for the Kingston players to develop a scoring rhythm. The Bulldogs used a zone press after a basket, a man to man press after a foul shot and a zone when they missed a shot.

Kingston broke the press with fast break layups. Either A. J. Murphy or Ken Gilligan fed from the middle position on the break. Kingston's man to man press contained Beacon well. Murphy did a creditable job keeping the lid on Nate Milligan, Bulldog scoring leader.

Ray Lindhorst, helped by Bruce Gilligan, did a fine job clearing the boards for Kingston, especially on defense. Ted Wood came off the bench after the first quarter and did a commendable job, contributing rebounding and a good scoring punch. Jerry Corrado, Werner Kolln and Ed Byman, mainstays of the Maroon bench, put in a good team effort.

Bruce Gilligan dominated the inside game offensively with 32 points. Ken Gilligan shot a consistent nine for 12 from the outside, for 75 per cent, and had six assists.

Kingston coach Jack Gilligan said, "Due to the layoff between our first game Dec. 5 and now, the team did not play as well as they can. Mistakes were made on the press and we had more turnovers than we should have. We look for improvement in our next game, against Arlington. If we don't improve, we'll get beaten."

Maroon travels to Arlington on Thursday. Beacon's next game is a home contest against Newburgh, also on Thursday.

New Paltz High moved into a second place tie with Marlboro Central with a 61-38 victory over Highland on its home boards last night.

The Hugenots outscored the Highlanders, 18-6, in the first period and dominated the game the rest of the way.

Early in the fourth quarter, Jack Mann of Highland blocked a shot, as the visitors pulled to within six points but Hugenot Coach Franklin Davis put his first team back in the game and New Paltz won going away.

Warren Ronk paced New Paltz with 18 points and Al Heinze added 14. Gary Ella led Highland with 13 points. Lee Barrington hit 10 and Jack Crawford 10.

Kingston High's varsity basketball team trounced once mighty Beacon High, 104-83, in a non-league game last night at the Kate Walton Field House.

It was the Maroons' second win in two outings and brought Coach Jack Gilligan's charges up to a sharp peak for Thursday's crucial battle at Arlington Central where 6-10 Scott McCandlish and company await them.

Bulldogs drew first blood, with 6:48 remaining in the first period, on a foul shot by Nate Milligan. Tom Moore and Phil Jackson added baskets to bring the score at 5-0.

Maroon Cagers Hit 56 Per Cent

Kingston High School hit 44 of 79 field attempts for a 56 per cent shooting average against Beacon High last night.

Ray Lindhorst had 4 for 8, with 14 rebounds and 2 assists. Other stats: Bruce Gilligan, 11 17, 8 rebounds, 3 assists; A. J. Murphy, 9 13, 4R, 1A; Werner Kolln, 3 4, 5R; Ken Gilligan, 9 12, 2R, 7A; Ed Byman 0 1, 1R; Ted Wood, 6 9, 5R, 1A; Jerry Corrado, 1 3; Charles Jones 1 1; Gene Bruno 0 1, 2R.

Chatham Snaps Red Hook Streak

Chatham High school ended Red Hook's three game winning streak with a 73-51 victory last night at Chatham.

Chatham moved out in front 19-13 in the first quarter and was never in trouble after that, as they led by 10, 33-23 at the half.

Chatham's 60 per cent scoring pace was twice as good as Red Hook managed, although the Hookers took more shots. Red Hook also out-rebounded the winners, Coach Pete Lawson of Red Hook said, "We played a good game, but the ball has to go through the basket."

Scott Wood paced the home team with 22 points. Stan Jacoby was high for Red Hook with 12.

Chatham jayvees took their contest 52-25. Jerry Curcia paced the home side with 16 points.

Coach Lawson said the experimental use of three referees in the game did not seem to make any difference in the play.

Red Hook competes in the Christmas tournament at Marlboro next Wednesday.

Davidson Wildcats Get the Last Laugh

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Some folks laughed when Davidson, beaten in 12 of 27 games last season, made the Top Ten in The Associated Press preseason poll in college basketball.

They're not laughing any more at the Southern Conference Wildcats, who have won seven of eight games and lost only to third-ranked Vanderbilt by two points 81-79 in overtime.

The Wildcats, sixth-ranked in this week's AP poll, made previously unbeaten Temple their latest victims in the final of the Charlotte, N.C., Invitational Tournament Tuesday night.

Paced by the 6-foot-6 Mike Maloy, a sophomore from New York City who was voted the Most Valuable Player of the tourney, the Wildcats downed the Owls from Philadelphia 63-60.

Maloy made only 11 points, but his floor generalship was superb and drew praise from Coach Lefty Driesell. "He's so quick, he's unreal," Driesell said. "He has every move in the book under the hoop."

Fifth-ranked Indiana, Duke, St. Bonaventure, Louisville, Cincinnati, Wyoming and Louisiana State won in other major games.

Indiana, led by Earl Schneider's 23 points, beat Notre Dame 96-91 at Fort Wayne, despite Bob Whitmore's 30 points for the Irish.

On-rushing Duke, another team beaten only by Vanderbilt and that by one point, whipped Princeton 85-79 at Durham, N.C., behind Mike Lewis' 33 points and 20 rebounds.

Bob Lanier and Bill Butler combined for 50 points, each got 23, to lead St. Bonaventure to an 85-77 victory over Seattle in the final of the Tampa, Fla., Invitational.

Louisville beat St. Louis on the road 76-64 as Westley Unself, who finished with 20, broke loose for 18 points in the second half.

Rick Roberson's 25 points paced Cincinnati to a 69-58 home court victory over Southern California. Harry Hall also got 25 to lead Wyoming over Oklahoma on the road, 82-71.

Pistol Pete Maravich flipped in 46 points on his home court to spark Louisiana State over Mississippi 81-68. LSU now has won four games, one more than all of last season.

Auburn beat Rutgers 70-62 in the consolation game of the Tampa Invitational. Miami of Ohio took third place in the Charlotte Invitational by defeating Rice 70-66 in overtime.

Dennis Cantrell's field goal in the last 31 seconds gave Miami, Fla., a 72-71 home squeaker over Brown. In other home court victories, Ohio State downed New Mexico State, 78-75. Utah State beat San Jose, 110-93. Montana took Fresno State, 88-72 and Kansas State humbled North Dakota State 79-52.

On the road, Ohio University edged Portland 67-65 and Wagner overcame Seton Hall 99-91. On neutral courts, Duquesne Canton, Ohio, and Arkansas defeated Centenary at Little Rock, Ark., 90-82.

Select Namath As All Star QB

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Joe Namath, who has completed more passes than any other player in the American Football League, will quarterback the East team in the AFL All-Star game Jan. 21 in Jacksonville's Gator Bowl.

Namath will have his two top receivers of the New York Jets, George Sauer and Don Maynard, along with him.

The East team's top 22 All-Stars announced Monday night by AFL President Milt Woodward, reflect the balanced Eastern Division of the league. Six are from Buffalo, five each from New York, Houston and Boston and one from Miami.

Coach Joe Collier of Buffalo will name 11 other players, including a backup quarterback, for the East All-Stars he will coach.

The top 22 for the West will be named Thursday and their leader, Coach Lou Saban of Denver, will pick 11 more.

Kingston tied the score at 10-10, when goaltending was called on Jackson of Beacon. After trading a few baskets, Kingston moved out in front 18-16 at the end of the period.

Maroon led 33-27 with 4:50 gone in the second quarter.

Ken Gilligan sank one for Kingston to raise it to 35, and then Kingston began to slow the pace down a little. With 2:06 left, Ted Wood potted one from close up to bring the score to 37-27. Ken Gilligan widened the margin to 12 with 1:50 remaining.

Beacon called time, but the delay failed to halt Kingston's scoring rush. Bruce Gilligan stole the ball from the Bulldogs with 1:34 left in the half and went all the way in for a layup. Kingston went on to lead 46-33 at the half.

Beacon hung on tenaciously in the third quarter, trading baskets with Kingston and holding the scoring in the period almost even at 27-26, favor of Kingston. Maroon outscored the Bulldogs 34-21 in the final period. Bruce Gilligan put in an outside shot that brought the score to 101-81 with 0:36 left in the game.

Beacon's use of three different defenses made it difficult for the Kingston players to develop a scoring rhythm. The Bulldogs used a zone press after a basket, a man to man press after a foul shot and a zone when they missed a shot.

Kingston broke the press with fast break layups. Either A. J. Murphy or Ken Gilligan fed from the middle position on the break. Kingston's man to man press contained Beacon well. Murphy did a creditable job keeping the lid on Nate Milligan, Bulldog scoring leader.

Ray Lindhorst, helped by Bruce Gilligan, did a fine job clearing the boards for Kingston, especially on defense. Ted Wood came off the bench after the first quarter and did a commendable job, contributing rebounding and a good scoring punch. Jerry Corrado, Werner Kolln and Ed Byman, mainstays of the Maroon bench, put in a good team effort.

Bruce Gilligan dominated the inside game offensively with 32 points. Ken Gilligan shot a consistent nine for 12 from the outside, for 75 per cent, and had six assists.

Bruce Gilligan was high scorer for Maroon. Nate Milligan had 24 points for the Bulldogs, leading their scoring.

Kingston coach Jack Gilligan said, "Due to the layoff between our first game Dec. 5 and now, the team did not play as well as they can. Mistakes were made on the press and we had more turnovers than we should have. We look for improvement in our next game, against Arlington. If we don't improve, we'll get beaten."

Maroon travels to Arlington on Thursday. Beacon's next game is a home contest against Newburgh, also on Thursday.

New Paltz Trounces Highland High, 61-38

New Paltz High moved into a second place tie with Marlboro Central with a 61-38 victory over Highland on its home boards last night.

The Huguenots outscored the Highlanders, 18-6, in the first period and dominated the game the rest of the way.

Early in the fourth quarter, Jack Mann of Highland blocked a shot, as the visitors pulled to within six points but Huguenot Coach Franklin Davis put his first team back in the game and New Paltz won going away.

Warren Ronk paced New Paltz with 18 points and Al Heinze added 14. Gary Elia led Highland with 13 points. Lee Barrington hit 10 points and Jack Crawford 10.

OCS Checks Marlboro To Take Lead in UCAL

Ontario Central met the challenge of undefeated Marlboro Central (3-0) with its finest game of the season last night, rolling over the Dukes, 82-69, and taking over undisputed possession of first place in the UCAL with a 4-1 record.

The Indians sizzled in the first half on their home boards in Boiceville, racing to 46-28 halftime lead and dominating the contest except for the opening minutes of the third period.

Patrick Sets Pace

Mike Patrick led the Indians with 25 points and put the brakes on Marlboro when the visitors pulled to within 7 points at 53-46 and Mickey Bush, the football quarterback, collected 15 points and led the early assault with 9 points in the first period.

Another fine all round performance was turned in by Al Pettinato, the 6-1, junior who dominated the boards and tossed in 15 points. Dale Chauncey with 16 and Fred Middleton with 9 points and solid floor work rounded a fine team effort for Coach Wes Kissel's Indians, who achieved their highest point total of the season.

McAttee Hits 22

Co-Captain Roy McAttee, a left-handed shooting, 6-foot soph, paced the Dukes with 22 points and sparked Marlboro's resurgence in the third period when they outscored OCS, 20-18.

With OCS leading 46-28, Marlboro picked up 8 fast points by McAttee to start the third quarter. He first hit with a deuce, then bagged a rare 4-pointer, a field and 2 free throws on an intentional foul. Greiner's corner shot reduced Ontario's margin to its lowest point of the night, 49-42.

It was 53-46 Ontario on Dan Marsh's shot for Marlboro, when the Indians ripped off seven straight points to move ahead, 60-46, and were never threatened after that.

A brilliant foul shooting performance contributed to the OCS victory. The Indians were 22 for 29 overall, 16 of 19 in the first half.

Ulster Senators Rout Dutchess Five, 139-88

Dutchess Community College opened with a fancy dan triangle zone-and-two defense against undefeated Ulster Community last night at the municipal auditorium.

But in a few short minutes, the 1000 spectators on hand realized the best laid plans of the invaders were going to be futile.

With Jumpin' Joe Uhl setting a blistering early pace, the Senators cut through the Dutchess designs and rolled to an impressive 139-88 victory. It was their 8th straight for the season, 11 in a row overall, and gave them a 4-0 rating at the top of the Mid-Hudson Conference standings.

Uhl Misses Average

Sitting out 11 of the 40 minutes, Uhl missed his 33-point game average, bucking 31 points on 14 ducches and three free throws.

Coach Mike Perry, looking ahead to the Holiday Basketball Festival which opens Thursday night, literally threw the bench at the invaders. He used every man on the squad except Bill Boines, who was not present, and each of the players got into the scoring column.

Nine of the Senators hit in double figures, with Bill Zilliox runnerup to Uhl with 17 points. Stan Henderson potted 13, Rod Chando 12, Albert Overby 11 and Frank Roselli and Leon Hanna 10 each.

Dutchess' two big guns—Ed Boone and Richard Lawrence—settled for 15 each and Stan Cohen added 14 for the losers, who were outdistanced 64-36 at the half.

Uhl Puts on Show
The Dutchess defense tried to stop Uhl and Chando man to man while zoning the rest of the floor. It proved to be a futile gesture.

Uhl collected 12 of the first 16 points racked up by Ulster

for a 16-3 lead in the first 6½ minutes of the opening half, going 6 for 7 in that span. He rolled up 26 points in the first, leaving with three minutes left to play.

Uhl and the other regulars completed their night's chores with nine minutes remaining. Zilliox picked up 15 of his 17 points in the second half and Co-Captain Rod Cando meshed 10. Uhl took only five shots in the second half and spent the rest of the time passing off to his teammates. He had eight assists.

Coach Mike Perry was highly satisfied with the Senators' overall performance.

NEW YORK (AP) — Oscar

Robertson and Bill Bradley have met for the first time as professionals, and neither has gone out on a limb in discussing the other's ability.

The confrontation came Tuesday night, and Bradley's New York Knickerbockers beat Robertson's Cincinnati Royals 133-118 in a National Basketball Association game at Madison Square Garden.

"What can you say," the veteran Robertson commented when asked about Bradley.

"Time will tell. A year from now you can ask me."

Asked what he thought of Robertson, Bradley smiled, turned to teammate Dick Barnett and asked, "What do you think of Oscar Robertson?"

Then the $500,000 rookie added:

"He's the greatest basketball player in the world."

Another rookie — Earl Monroe — put on quite a show in Baltimore, but in this instance they were on the same team. The two combined for 59 points and led the Bullets past St. Louis 117-98. In the only other NBA game, the Boston Celtics topped the Seattle SuperSonics 118-114.

Bradley, playing in his fifth NBA game, hit only three of 11 field goal attempts, but he did team with another rookie, Walt Frazier, to lead a fourth-quarter burst that clinched the victory for the Knicks.

Uhl Rims 31 Points

Ulster Senators Rout Dutchess Five, 139-88

Dutchess Community College opened with a fancy dan triangle zone-and-two defense against undefeated Ulster Community last night at the municipal auditorium.

But in a few short minutes, the 1000 spectators on hand realized the best laid plans of the invaders were going to be futile.

With Jumpin' Joe Uhl setting a blistering early pace, the Senators cut through the Dutchess defenses and rolled to an impressive 139-88 victory. It was their 8th straight for the season, 11 in a row overall, and gave them a 4-0 rating at the top of the Mid-Hudson Conference standings.

Uhl Misses Average
Sitting out 11 of the 40 minutes, Uhl just missed his 33-point game average, bucking 31 points on 14 ducches and three free throws.

Coch Mike Perry, looking ahead to the Holiday Basketball Festival which opens Thursday night, literally threw the bench at the invaders. He used every man on the squad except Bill Boines, who was not present, and each of the players got into the scoring column.

Nine of the Senators hit in double figures, with Bill Zilliox runnerup to Uhl with 17 points. Stan Henderson potted 13, Rod Chando 12, Albert Overby 11 and Frank Roselli and Leon Hanna 10 each.

Dutchess' two big guns—Ed Boone and Richard Lawrence—settled for 15 each and Stan Cohen added 14 for the losers, who were outdistanced 64-36 at the half.

Uhl Puts on Show
The Dutchess defense tried to stop Uhl and Chando man to man while zoning the rest of the floor. It proved to be a futile gesture.

Uhl collected 12 of the first 16 points racked up by Ulster for a 16-3 lead in the first 6½ minutes of the opening half, going 6 for 7 in that span. He rolled up 26 points in the first, leaving with three minutes left to play.

Uhl and the other regulars completed their night's chores with nine minutes remaining. Zilliox picked up 15 of his 17 points in the second half and Co-Captain Rod Cando meshed 10. Uhl took only five shots in the second half and spent the rest of the time passing off to his teammates. He had eight assists.

Coch Mike Perry was highly satisfied with the Senators' overall performance.

Bradley, Big O Like Each Other

NEW YORK (AP) — Oscar Robertson and Bill Bradley have met for the first time as professionals, and neither has gone out on a limb in discussing the other's ability.

The confrontation came Tuesday night, and Bradley's New York Knickerbockers beat Robertson's Cincinnati Royals 133-118 in a National Basketball Association game at Madison Square Garden.

"What can you say," the veteran Robertson commented when asked about Bradley.

"Time will tell. A year from now you can ask me."

Asked what he thought of Robertson, Bradley smiled, turned to teammate Dick Barnett and asked, "What do you think of Oscar Robertson?"

Then the $500,000 rookie added: "He's the greatest basketball player in the world."

Another rookie, Earl Monroe, put on quite a show in Baltimore, but in this instance they were on the same team. The two combined for 59 points and led the Bullets past St. Louis 117-98. In the only other NBA game, the Boston Celtics topped the Seattle SuperSonics 118-114.

Bradley, playing in his fifth NBA game, hit only three of 11 field goal attempts, but he did team with another rookie, Walt Frazier, to lead a fourth-quarter burst that clinched the victory for the Knicks.

Beacon Jayvees Win Game, 68-48

Beacon's Jayvees basketball squad topped Kingston 68-48 last night at the Kate Walton field house.

Bulldogs led 17-14 at the end of the first period, then upped the margin to 42-36 at the half. A bucket by Scott Garrett with 5:57 left in the third period moved Beacon out in front 46-39, and another at 4:43 made it 48-39. Al Herndon rimmed one at 4:07 to bring the score to 50-39 and did it again at 3:15 to raise the tally to 52 for Beacon. Bulldogs outscored Maroon 14-3 in the third period.

Garrett was high scorer for Beacon with 19 points. Jerry Barber put six field goals and two foul shots away to lead the Maroon scoring with 14 points.

Next game for Kingston is Thursday, against Arlington.

Today In History

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, Dec. 20, the 354th day of 1967. There are 11 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1803 the U.S. flag was raised in New Orleans as the lands making up the Louisiana purchase were transferred from French to U.S. control.

On this date—
In 1790, the first successful American cotton mill began operating at Pawtucket, Rhode Island.

In 1813, the U.S. Congress established a system of internal revenue.

In 1860, South Carolina became the first state to secede from the Union.

In 1880, New York's Broadway was illuminated by electricity between 14th and 26th streets. It became known as the "Great White Way."

In 1922, 14 republics of Russia combined to form the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

In 1952, 87 servicemen were killed in the crash of Air Force "GlobeMaster" plane at Moses Lake, Wash.

Ten years ago: The New York trial of union leader James R. Hoffa on wire tap charges was held because of a hung jury.

Five years ago: President John F. Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold MacMillan, meeting in the Bahamas, were reported close to agreement on new defense arrangements.

Inmates May Seek Redress on Claims of Punishment

NEW YORK (AP) — Inmates who claim they undergo cruel and unusual punishment in New York State prisons have the right to seek redress in federal courts according to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit.

The ruling Tuesday came in a case brought by Lawrence W. Wright, a 28-year-old state prisoner serving a one-day life sentence for a 1963 sex crime conviction.

Wright claims he wrote his appeal on his hands and knees while nude in a filthy cell at Clinton State Prison, Dannemora, N.Y.

The U.S. court said its ruling was necessary because a New York State prisoner who charged violations of the Federal Constitution's Eighth Amendment could not get relief in state courts.

The federal court ordered the hearing on Wright's claim that his confinement violated the Eighth Amendment protection against "cruel and unusual punishment."

Wright said he was kept in a solitary "strip cell" for 31 days in 1965 and 21 days in 1966, naked 11 days, then given thin underwear.

He said the windows were opened at night in subfreezing weather, that he was "kicked, pummeled and verbally abused" by guards and denied medical care, sanitary facilities and the right to attend religious services.

Wright claimed he was put in a psychiatric observation cell for four days in 1965 to stop his protests to judicial and other authorities.

The State Attorney General's office, it was said, advised the appeals court that the alleged conditions in 1965 and 1966 do not exist now.

In 1966, a complaint by Wright was dismissed by Federal Court Judge Stephen Brennan in Utica, N.Y., without a hearing on a motion by the state.

The appeal was argued here last Nov. 24.

Warden Daniel McMann has testified that the "strip cell" was necessary in prison discipline to make certain a prisoner headed for solitary confinement would not become violent and destroy property.

Judge Irving Kaufman said in the appeals court opinion he anticipated a rash of similar cases to come into Federal Courts. He said we cannot flinch from our clear responsibility to protect rights secured by the Federal Constitution.

The case was sent to the Northern District Court for further proceedings.

Crop Production Hits Record High

WASHINGTON (AP) — As predicted by federal farm officials, crop production hit a record high level this year.

The Agriculture Department's final report of the year showed that Tuesday, pointing out that record crops of wheat, corn, soybeans and sorghum grain topped the production pattern.

The department said crop yields per acre increased somewhat from a year earlier and almost matched the record high of 1966.

The crop volume this year was reported at 116 per cent of the 1957-59 average compared with 112 per cent last year.

The department said this year's total harvested acreage was the largest since 1960. The government had suggested larger acreages this year than last, particularly for grains and soybeans.

The indicated acreage harvested, the yield per acre and the production, respectively, of major crops by important producing states includes:

Oats:
New York 429,000 acres harvested; 52 bushels per acre and production 22,308,000 bushels.

Dry beans:
New York 82,000 acres harvested; 1,530 pounds per acre and production 1,255,000 hundredweight.

Apples (production only):
New York—935 million pounds;
New Jersey—122 million.

Peaches (production only):
New Jersey—55 million pounds.
Pears (production only):
New York 17,200 tons.

Cranberries:
New Jersey—3,200 acres harvested; 51 barrels per acre and production 163,000 barrels.

Potatoes:
New York—74,500 acres harvested; 239 hundredweight per acre and production 17,773,000 hundredweight.

Avoids Deer, Goes Off Road

William Smith, 17, of Ellenville, was injured at 2:45 p.m. Tuesday when the car in which he was a passenger went out of control and overturned on Cape Road about two miles from Route 52 near Ellenville.

Smith complained of pains of the right shoulder.

State Police said the car, operated by Walter L. Smith, 19, of Nanapanoch, was traveling along the road when the driver swerved to avoid a deer. He lost control on the right shoulder and the vehicle rolled over coming to a stop on its wheels.

Dear Abby

Tricks of the Trade

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
(© 1967 by Chicago Tribune-News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: In defense of the interior decorator whose "advances" the lady said she had to fight off: I have been a painter for many years, and have been around all kinds of women. I have them categorized:

There is the "clutcher." She is always wearing a housecoat that's open. She keeps clutching it and releasing it, but she never closes it. Then there's the body beautiful type who is always dressed for swimming or sunbathing. The sun hasn't been out for a week and the pool is empty, but she's got her suit on. There's the stepladder mama. If I'm up, she's down with a very low-neck blouse. If I'm down, she's up with the other end exposed.

Then there's the confidential type. She tells you all her problems, one of which is a husband who is too cold, too old or too busy. Then there's the woman with the jokes. Always dirty. And lastly there's the outright propositioner.

I have seen them all. Years ago a very wise painter who knew all the tricks of the trade, gave me some very good advice. He said, "Sammy, always get your money first, and if they still want to play games, it will be for fun." Sincerely, SAMMY.

DEAR ABBY: Why didn't you advise that girl who was jealous because her boyfriend had SHARON tattooed on his chest to have "I LOVE MILLIE MORE THAN SHARON" tattooed over it. That's what I did.

DEAR WIFE: I figured the guy had already had enough needling.

DEAR ABBY: Just yesterday I found out that the "diamond" engagement ring I received from my gentleman friend is not a real diamond. The gentleman who gave it to me is a wonderful person and I would not have thought less of him were I given none at all. But to have been given one that is "only a fake" as the jeweler put it, hurts me so, I don't know what to do. This gentleman has been so good and kind to me, I almost can't believe he would do such a thing. This was going to be the second marriage for both of us. I don't want to lose him by making him feel that having a real diamond is all that important to me. It isn't, yet I hate to be fooled. Everything depends on how I react. I can't just pretend I don't know. Yet if I make too much of it, it may be fatal. Can you please help me?

DEAR WAITING: Assuming the ring is "only a fake" either your gentleman friend was also taken in, or he is trying to fool you. In either case, you must tell him that you were told the stone is not a genuine diamond, stressing that the value of the stone is of less importance to you than the value of his word.

Boris Raymond of New York did not have the time to play in many national tournaments, but in the metropolitan area he was known as one of our very best players. The Eastern Open Pairs is just another Regional tournament, but it is the oldest contract tournament, and the list of winners includes most of the great old-timers as well as many of the younger generation.

When Oswald Jacoby won it for the fourth time in 1954, it was thought that this record would stand up, but Boris, who had not played in it till then, tied that record when he won it four times, including 1966 and 1967. His untimely death last month undoubtedly stopped him from winning it again, since Boris seemed to be almost unbeatable in this event.

Boris had a distinct bidding style that wouldn't have been at all popular in the West because he liked to pass pretty big hands and back in later, but no one could find any fault with his technique of dummy play and defense.

Boris held the East cards in today's hand. He had no problems in the bidding and his play of the diamond seven at trick one was automatic.

South had no problems in the early play. He went right up with dummy's ace of diamonds, drew trumps with three leads and ran off the heart suit in order to discard two diamonds and a club from his own hand.

Boris did not have any discarding problem, but he did a little counting while South was running the heart suit. South had five heart tricks, four spades of his own, plus the fourth spade in dummy to ruff a club with. The ace of diamonds gave him an 11th trick. South needed a club to make his contract, so, when eventually South led the jack of clubs from dummy, Boris played a low club.

South finally had a problem and guessed wrong. He played low. West made his queen and the contract was beaten.

Horoscope By SYDNEY OMARR
 It's In The Stars —
 ("The wise man controls his destiny . . . astrology points the way.")

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1967

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): What you take for granted could create disturbance. Applies especially to conditions at home. There are items which, if neglected, could prove costly.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Arguments connected with home, property lack substance. Means you and one close to you mountain out of minor affair. Pride plays big part. Extend friendly hand. Be mature.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Some may attempt to involve you in family dispute. Maintain pride, dignity, common sense. Otherwise, you become tangled in endless debate. Word to wise should be sufficient.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Combine practicality with emotions. Temptation is to throw good money after bad. Don't fool yourself. Some who advise do not have necessary information.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Some doubt about solidity of foundation are groundless. Express confidence. Others, especially older persons, are close observers. Think. They react to your reactions.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Much of what occurs today is of the subtle, behind-scenes variety. Know this and play game accordingly. Keep cards close to chest. Don't tell all you know. Be discreet.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Friends disagree over where to go, what to see. If dining out, map plans beforehand. Don't decide at last minute. This could lead to silly argument.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Your sense of reality could be distorted. See people, situations, as they exist. If you get down to basic issues now, pleasure and profit result in near future.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You have extra reserve power which appears today. Some who had appeared to lose interest make exciting appearance. Be gracious, calm. Don't force or push.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Information from friendly source could add to your financial security. Be alert, feel public pulse. Go with tide. Spread influence. Be versatile. Make social contacts.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Best to heed words of mate, partner over claims of some authorities. One close to you has your best interests in focus. Some higher-ups could be victims today of wishful thinking.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Don't neglect health or work. You could do so if you spread activities too far and wide. Forego journey unless absolutely necessary. Get down to business of answering correspondence.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you have delightful way of being here, there and everywhere. You are vital, alive. Many are given new lease by being around you. Breakthrough indicated in which social contacts help you in practical manner.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for LEO, VIRGO, LIBRA. Special word to GEMINI: relations, others close to you could confide work and health problems. Give recommendations without becoming greatly involved.

LBJ Brightest Star on Tube

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The President of the United States was television's brightest star Tuesday night. He sat comfortably in a rocking chair and discussed subjects of national interest that ranged from hopes of peace in Vietnam to the state of the economy.

The program, taped the day before in the White House, was labeled "A Conversation with the President," but was actually an hour-long interview—edited somewhat for security purposes, the networks announced—by representatives of the three major networks which carried it simultaneously.

The President spoke without notes except once, when he read from a previous statement he had made about Vietnam. There was, therefore, an informality and give-and-take that gave the program an intimacy and interest that is likely to be missing in a formal platform address read from notes or a prompter.

Lone Light Note

back to one of the newsmen, ABC's Frank Reynolds asked the President what should be done to prevent trouble next summer. The President replied by asking Reynolds what he thought should be done. The reporter tried to avoid answering but Johnson, looking amused, pressed him. When Reynolds finally said he would speed up programs now in progress, Johnson said that was what was being done and added, with mock formality, that the reporter's suggestion was accepted. It was, however, just about the only light note in a serious hour.

Red Skelton's Christmas show on CBS Tuesday night starred, as usual, Red as Freddie and Freeloader, and it was one of those sticky, sentimental stories with comedy icing that only Skelton could get away with.

This year Freddie, instead of year Red will go back to Greer

AND BABY MAKES THREE — President Johnson stopped briefly at Travis Air Force Base, Calif., en route to Australia to attend memorial services for Prime Minister Holt. Here, the President takes particular delight in four-

Geneva Accords Key to Peace In Vietnam, President Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says "the war them jobs" as expensive as it could be stopped in a matter of days if South Vietnam's president talks informally with South Vietnamese Communists and abides by the Geneva accords.

And on curing violence at home, Johnson says he's going to tell American businessmen either they help in hiring a half million hard core unemployed the President may stress this point privately with President Nguyen Van Thieu, of South Vietnam, who also is headed for the Melbourne memorial service for Prime Minister Harold Holt.

Thieu has been rebuffed by Hanoi in his call for direct negotiations with North Vietnam. He has refused to recognize the National Liberation Front (NLF) as a government, but has left the way open for informal talks with its members.

Johnson outlined five peace conditions based on existing U.S. demands that North Vietnam "leave your neighbor alone." They included an end to Hanoi infiltration through Laos and the Demilitarized Zone, in accord with the 1954 and 1962 Geneva agreements; one man-one vote government in the South and peaceful negotiations for North-South reunification.

The President was interviewed in his White House office Monday morning by correspondents from the three major networks, which trimmed his remarks to fit the one-hour program.

Chatting earnestly and leaning forward occasionally in his rocking chair as he stressed a point, Johnson also made these observations:

"I don't know what the effect of the Kennedy-McCarthy movement is having in the country" but "I do know of the interest of both of them in the presidency and the ambition of both of them—I see that reflected from time to time."

A spokesman for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., said, "It seemed a very curious way for the President to promote party unity."

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, an avowed candidate for next year's Democratic presidential nomination, could not be reached immediately for comment.

While Johnson again declined to say whether he'll seek re-election, he said he's sure the Republicans will still wind up in the minority on election day.

—He is going to appeal to every Republican in Congress to "do what is best for his country" and "I am going to do what I think is best for my country, at home and abroad, without regard to what effect it has on my future."

—Business and production will pick up next year and "we look forward to continued prosperity." But he called still essential the administration's proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

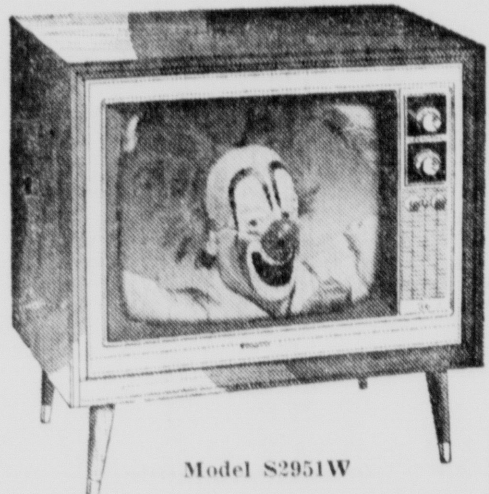

—U.S. policy toward Europe has recorded more success during 1967 than in any other period. Accomplishments range from the new tariff agreements to revamping of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Johnson is sorry about his differences with French President Charles de Gaulle, but says relations between the American and French people remain friendly.

—The Middle East still presents "one of our most dangerous situations" and will require efforts by all parties concerned to achieve a solution. The United States has a "very definite interest in Israel" but not a mutual security treaty commitment to defend her.

More Emergency Food Goes To Snow-Clogged Indians

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP) — More emergency food supplies were rushed toward the Navajo reservation today after a new storm and whipping winds during the night left thousands of Indians fighting waist-high snow.

Nearly a foot of snow fell in some areas of the 16-million-acre reservation, the largest in the United States.

Air Force rescue helicopter crews stood by to ferry food to Navajos living in sparsely settled areas. A White House aide, Ralph Burns, was sent to Phoenix for a look at the situation, termed the most critical period of modern Navajo history by Tribal Chairman Raymond Nakai.

60,000 Affected

Thomas Sembera, an Office of Emergency Planning official, was in Santa Fe, N.M., and Nakai hoped to get both men out to the reservation.

Tribal officials said the known death toll on the reservation from seven days of snow remained at three persons. But they say about 60,000 Navajos are affected to some degree by the storms.

The weather picture was similar over much of the snow-smothered Southwest. Nearly seven feet of snow was reported on the ground at Flagstaff in northeast Arizona. Eight deaths during the past two days were attributed to snow in California, where snow fell at Porterville in Tulare County for the first time in four years.

A different weather hazard—rising temperatures which could cause flooding—was reported in some areas of Arizona. Several persons were evacuated at Miami, Ariz., when water in the Bluebird Mine Reservoir was just a foot below the top. Floods were reported in a Phoenix residential area after a downpour.

The U.S. Weather Bureau had heavy snow warnings in effect during the night for much of Arizona and New Mexico.

The federal government had taken no action on Nakai's request that the Navajo reservation be declared a disaster area so that additional heavy equipment could be obtained to help clear snow-plugged roads to villages and hogans.

77 Tons in Reserve

"Give us a clear 24 hours and we can take a lot of medicine," said Graham Holmes, Bureau of Indian Affairs Navajo area director, in reference to the blocked roads.

Holmes said the bureau had 60 tons of surplus food commodities on the way by truck and another 77 tons were being held in reserve. The New Mexico Welfare Department sent additional foodstuffs to the Indian areas of Crown Point and Shiprock, N.M.

U.N. Recesses for Three Months

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly recessed for about three months early today after a session overshadowed by two crises it never came to grips with—the Middle East and Vietnam.

The 123-nation assembly also failed to conclude a treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons because the 17-nation disarmament committee in Geneva couldn't nail down all points at issue. But the assembly hoped to have a treaty waiting for it in the spring.

The final day was highlighted by a bright note. The assembly gave unanimous approval to a treaty providing for the rescue and safe return of astronauts forced to land on foreign soil.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg called the vote "an historic action" and one of the major achievements of the assembly. Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko said the agreement would "have great importance in connection with speedy progress in space technology."

The Middle East was on the assembly agenda, but there was no debate because the Security Council was dealing with the issue. But the Arab-Israeli conflict so distracted delegates that the assembly had to suspend virtually all business until the council finally agreed on a resolution.

Arab members are expected to press for an assembly airing of the Middle East dispute next spring after Secretary-General U Thant receives a report from his special envoy in the area, Gunnar Jarring of Sweden.

The Vietnam war was not on the docket, but it dominated the general policy debate and cropped up in the assembly's main committees during exchanges on disarmament, aggression and other issues.

During the session, the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong, got Romania to circulate its new political program to all U.N. members. It was generally viewed as Communist propaganda, but a few delegates speculated that it might be some sort of a feeler.

This was the first assembly to elect a Communist president. Most Western delegates felt that Romanian Foreign Minister Corneliu Manescu, who got the job, served efficiently and showed no bias.

Stratton Reports Progress Being Made in Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. forces are making progress in Vietnam—"some of it rather remarkable," says U.S. Rep. Samuel S. Stratton.

But, the New York Democrat said Tuesday, U.S. reporting of the conflict has failed "very seriously" in giving the American people the full story of what is really happening in Vietnam.

Stratton, in a statement he issued after his return from Southeast Asia as a member of the House Armed Services subcommittee, said he found a new spirit of confidence and optimism among the troops there.

It was his third trip to Vietnam in two years.

"Most of the enemy's major fighting now takes place on the edges of his sanctuaries—in Laos, Cambodia and the demilitarized zone," he said. "He finds it far harder now to survive and fight in the interior of Vietnam."

He also credited Vietnamese troops with carrying a greater share of the joint military load, and doing it much more successfully, than when he visited Vietnam in April 1966 and again in April of this year.

Stratton said, however, that the amount of what he termed "misinformation on Vietnam and the value judgments that continue to be made as a result" are almost a national scandal.

"For example," he said, "Vietnamese troops have been carrying their share of the load at the DMZ for months, and also gave a very creditable account of themselves at Dak To."

"But even one as well read as a U.S. senator can still ask publicly: 'Why don't we have Vietnamese troops along side our boys at the DMZ? Why didn't we have Vietnamese fighting at Dak To?"

Stratton did not identify the senator.

Stratton added that he felt U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam, without having blocked Communist aggression, would plunge the whole area of Southeast Asia into uncertainty and despair.

AND BABY MAKES THREE — President Johnson stopped briefly at Travis Air Force Base, Calif., en route to Australia to attend memorial services for Prime Minister Holt. Here, the President takes particular delight in four-

Geneva Accords Key to Peace In Vietnam, President Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says the government will offer the war them jobs — “as expensive as it could be stopped in a matter of days.” Johnson spoke hopefully of “good results” through Saigon talks with members of the National Liberation Front, the Viet Cong political arm, during a wide-ranging pre-taped television interview broadcast nationally Tuesday night as he winged toward Australia.

Administration sources said the President may stress this point privately with President Nguyen Van Thieu, of South Vietnam, who also is headed for the Melbourne memorial service for Prime Minister Harold Holt.

Thieu has been rebuffed by Hanoi in his call for direct negotiations with North Vietnam. He has refused to recognize the National Liberation Front (NLF) as a government, but has left the way open for informal talks with its members.

Johnson outlined five peace conditions based on existing U.S. demands that North Vietnam “leave your neighbor alone.” They included an end to Hanoi infiltration through Laos and the Demilitarized Zone, in accord with the 1954 and 1962 Geneva agreements; one man vote government in the South and peaceful negotiations for North-South reunification.

The President was interviewed in his White House office Monday morning by correspondents from the three major networks, which trimmed his remarks to fit the one-hour program.

Chatting earnestly and leaning forward occasionally in his rocking chair as he stressed a point, Johnson also made these observations:

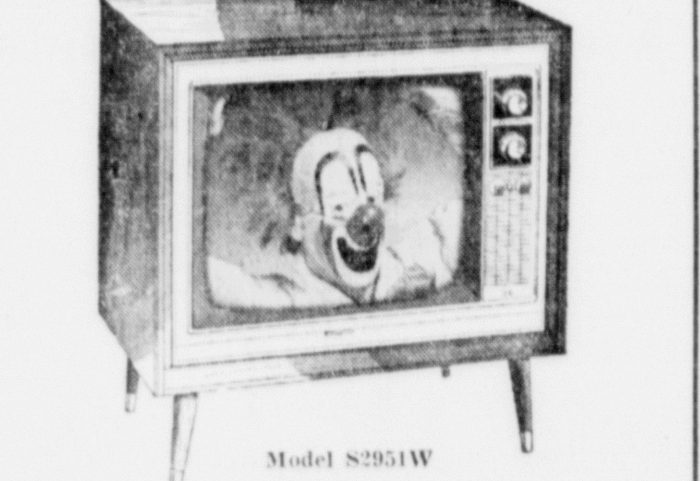

—“I don’t know what the effect of the Kennedy-McCarthy movement is having in the country” but “I do know of the interest of both of them in the presidency and the ambition of both of them—I see that reflected from time to time.”

A spokesman for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., said, “It seemed a very curious way for the President to promote party unity.”

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, an avowed candidate for next year’s Democratic presidential nomination, could not be reached immediately for comment.

While Johnson again declined to say whether he’ll seek re-election, he said he’s sure the Republicans will still wind up in the minority on election day.

—He is going to appeal to every Republican in Congress to “do what is best for his country,” and “I am going to do what I think is best for my country, at home and abroad, without regard to what effect is has on my future.”

Business and production will pick up next year and “we look forward to continued prosperity,” But he called still essential the administration’s proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

U.S. policy toward Europe has recorded more success during 1967 than in any other period. Accomplishments range from the new tariff agreements to revamping of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Johnson is sorry about his differences with French President Charles de Gaulle, but says relations between the American and French people remain friendly.

—The Middle East still presents “one of our most dangerous situations” and will require efforts by all parties concerned to achieve a solution. The United States has a “very definite interest in Israel” but not a mutual security treaty commitment to defend her.

More Emergency Food Goes To Snow-Clogged Indians

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP) — More emergency food supplies were rushed toward the Navajo reservation today after a new storm and whipping winds during the night left thousands of Indians fighting waist-high snow.

Nearly a foot of snow fell in some areas of the 16-million-acre reservation, the largest in the United States.

Air Force rescue helicopter crews stood by to ferry food to Navajos living in sparsely settled areas. A White House aide, Ralph Burns, was sent to Phoenix for a look at the situation, termed the most critical period of modern Navajo history by Tribal Chairman Raymond Nakai.

60,000 Affected

Thomas Sembera, an Office of Emergency Planning official, was in Santa Fe, N.M., and Nakai hoped to get both men out to the reservation.

Tribal officials said the known death toll on the reservation from seven days of snow remained at three persons. But they say about 60,000 Navajos are affected to some degree by the storms.

The weather picture was similar over much of the snow-smothered Southwest. Nearly seven feet of snow was reported on the ground at Flagstaff in northeast Arizona. Eight deaths during the past two days were attributed to snow in California, where snow fell at Porterville in Tulare County for the first time in four years.

A different weather hazard—rising temperatures which could cause flooding—was reported in some areas of Arizona. Several persons were evacuated at Miami, Ariz., when water in the Bluebird Mine Reservoir was just a foot below the top. Floods were reported in a Phoenix residential area after a downpour.

The U.S. Weather Bureau had heavy snow warnings in effect during the night for much of Arizona and New Mexico.

The federal government had taken no action on Nakai’s request that the Navajo reservation be declared a disaster area so that additional heavy equipment could be obtained to help clear snow-plugged roads to villages and hogans.

77 Tons in Reserve

“Give us a clear 24 hours and we can take a lot of medicine,” said Graham Holmes, Bureau of Indian Affairs Navajo area director in reference to the blocked roads.

Holmes said the bureau had 60 tons of surplus food commodities on the way by truck and another 77 tons were being held in reserve. The New Mexico Welfare Department sent additional foodstuffs to the Indian areas of Crown Point and Shiprock, N.M.

U.N. Recesses for Three Months

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly recessed for about three months early today after a session overshadowed by two crises it never came to grips with—the Middle East and Vietnam.

The 123-nation assembly also failed to conclude a treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons because the 17-nation disarmament committee in Geneva couldn’t nail down all points at issue. But the assembly hoped to have a treaty waiting for it in the spring.

The final day was highlighted by a bright note. The assembly gave unanimous approval to a treaty providing for the rescue and safe return of astronauts forced to land on foreign soil.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg called the vote “an historic action” and one of the major achievements of the assembly. Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko said the agreement would “have great importance in connection with speedy progress in space technology.”

The Middle East was on the assembly agenda, but there was no debate because the Security Council was dealing with the issue. But the Arab-Israeli conflict so distracted delegates that the assembly had to suspend virtually all business until the council finally agreed on a resolution.

Arab members are expected to press for an assembly airing of the Middle East dispute next spring after Secretary-General U Thant receives a report from his special envoy in the area, Gunnar Jarring of Sweden.

The Vietnam war was not on the docket, but it dominated the general policy debate and cropped up in the assembly’s main committees during exchanges on disarmament, aggression and other issues.

During the session, the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong, got Romania to circulate its new political program to all U.N. members. It was generally viewed as a Communist propaganda, but a few delegates speculated that it might be some sort of a feeler.

This was the first assembly to elect a Communist president. Most Western delegates felt that

Stratton Reports Progress Being Made in Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. forces are making progress in Vietnam—“some of it rather remarkable,” says U.S. Rep. Samuel S. Stratton.

But, the New York Democrat said Tuesday, U.S. reporting of the conflict has failed “very seriously” in giving the American people the full story of what is really happening in Vietnam.

Stratton, in a statement he issued after his return from Southeast Asia as a member of the House Armed Services subcommittee, said he found a new spirit of confidence and optimism among the troops there.

It was his third trip to Vietnam in two years.

“Most of the enemy’s major fighting now takes place on the edges of his sanctuaries — in Laos, Cambodia and the demilitarized zone,” he said. “He finds it far harder now to survive and fight in the interior of Vietnam.”

He also credited Vietnamese troops with carrying a greater share of the joint military load, and doing it much more successfully, than when he visited Vietnam in April 1966 and again in April of this year.

Stratton said, however, that the amount of what he termed misinformation on Vietnam and the value judgments that continue to be made as a result “are almost a national scandal.”

“For example,” he said, “Vietnamese troops have been carrying their share of the load at the DMZ for months, and also gave a very creditable account of themselves at Dak To.”

“But even one as well read as a U.S. senator can still ask publicly: ‘Why don’t we have Vietnamese troops along side our boys at the DMZ? Why didn’t we have Vietnamese fighting at Dak To?”

Stratton did not identify the senator.

Stratton added that he felt U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam, without having blocked Communist aggression, would plunge the whole area of Southeast Asia into uncertainty and despair.
